SIX MEN IN EMPLOY OF CROW'S NEST PASS CO. INSTANTLY KILLED.

Fernie, B. C., Dec. 30.—The snow slide at Coal Creek, which was briefly noted in this morning's despatches, was of considerable size, being about one hundred and fifty feet in width when it struck the carpenter shop of the Crow's Nest Pass Company near the northern end of the big steel triple. The avalanche burst upon the shop so quickly that every man in the building was caught, no warning sound having preceded its advent. The electric light wire supplying light to the offices and other buildings being in the path of the slide gave the first warning to those outside the shop, and a rush of men from all directions was soon upon the scene and rescue work began immediately.

SIX FATALITIES.

Five lifeless bodies were brought out, and one, that of a young man named Worthington, still showing signs of life, and upon whom a pulmonary was used for some time viscerously, but without result, making a total of six fatalities.

We wish to call your attention to the fact that most infectious diseases such as whooping cough, diphtheria and scarlet fever are contracted when the child has a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will quickly cure a cold and greatly lessen the danger of contracting these diseases. This remedy is famous for its cures of colds. It contains no opium or other narcotics and may be given to a child with implicit confidence. Sold by druggists and dealers.

The Activity of the Churches in the Canadian West.

(By Guy C. Pelton, in Yarmouth Light.)

The church is taking a prominent part in the social activities of the life in the Canadian West, and awakened as it is to the demands for real work, the church is going to be a very important factor in the great West. Easterners may think at first thought that this has reference to numerous prayer meetings and extra Sunday observances, but it means nothing of the kind.

The Methodist church, for instance, has organized young peoples' societies which get up weekly skating parties, enjoyable socials and amateur theatricals; this church also makes a feature of its "Home, Sweet Home" meeting at the close of each Sunday evening service, and in Moosejaw and Edmonton, they provide note paper, envelopes and postage stamps for those who want to write home.

The Presbyterian church is adopting similar methods and its societies are giving a real and live social life to any who want to take an interest. Only recently in a Presbyterian church in Edmonton it was announced that a rest room, reading room and parlor had been opened, whereby girls without homes could get shelter and pleasant surroundings whenever they felt so inclined.

The Church of England, too, is actively engaged in social work and in every one of the Western cities the young man and the young woman can find social welcome at the Church of England; the Men's Clubs of this church have become a feature of Western church life.

The Baptist church is also doing its full share toward the social life of its members; the following clipping from the Edmonton Journal of December 13th, 1912, will give an idea of the church's social work: "A delightful dance was held in the Blue Moon tea-rooms last evening by the members of the Baptist Club, and the large attendance denoted the unqualified success of the venture; many exquisite gowns were worn by the ladies, and the evening proved as entertaining and pleasurable as any event held in the city."

In addition to this world also, the ladies of the various churches are engaged in generous charitable work, which includes a Children's Aid Society, which cares for and houses orphans and needy youngsters, and a United Aid Society, which looks after the wants of the poor, runs a free employment bureau getting employment for men and women out of work, and does other charitable work. Generous support is also given to the work of the Salvation Army; of course, needless to say, the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. are very life institutions.

My only object in writing these things is to prove that in Western Canada at least the church is becoming a real factor; that instead of making a specialty of prayer meet-

TWO POINTERS ON HOW TO CURE A COLD

When you begin to sniff and feel a burning sensation in the nasal passages, or when a tickling irritation in your throat starts you coughing, the first important thing is to act at once. It's the neglected cold that becomes troublesome and dangerous.

The second important thing to do is to take Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Licorice, Licorice and Chlorodyne, and keep it up till the cold disappears entirely.

Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Licorice, Licorice and Chlorodyne is absolutely free from harmful drugs, and can safely be given even to moderately young children. It is pleasant tasting and quick acting, promptly relieving the irritation of the throat and nostrils, loosening the mucus, promoting expectoration, and checking the cold.

Your druggist has Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Licorice, Licorice and Chlorodyne in 2c. and 5c. bottles, or can quickly get it for you. Compound by the National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited.

A POINT OF HONOR.
"No power on earth shall make me do it!" The man spoke firmly, but his knees trembled.
"She approached close to his side. Her eyes blazed into his.
"You shall do it," she snarled, "however much you dread it! D'you hear me?"
"I refuse utterly. Such action is unworthy of a man of pride and honor."
"You refuse?" Quickly she was at his side again, and though he drew back from her as from a whip-lash, she stripped him of a tie.
"Then she took out a small knife—a thin, sharp-pointed piece of steel. She thrust it into his hand.
"There," she exclaimed. His obstinacy was driving her to desperation. Her voice broke with passion. "William Thompson," she cried, "unless you obey, and peel those potatoes now—at once—you shall go to bed without any dinner!"

DAYS OF GRACE.

The young undergraduate was halted before his tutor. He had excelled his leave by no less than two days. "Well," said the professor, "what have you to say for yourself?" "I'm awfully sorry," replied the undergraduate. "I really could not get back before. I was detained by most important business." The professor looked at him sternly. "So you wanted two more days of grace, d'd you?" he asked. "No, sir," answered the young man, off his guard for a moment—"of Marjorie."

IT DISAPPEARED.

"Are caterpillars good to eat?" asked little Harold during a lull at the evening meal.
"No," replied his father. "What makes you ask a question like that at the dinner table?"
"You had one on your lettuce," replied Harold, "but it's gone now."

INTERESTING CHURCH EVENT IN KINGSTON.

The Kingston, Ont., Standard contains an account of an interesting combined service in St. James' church in that city on Sunday morning, 22nd ult. Rev. T.W. Savary was inducted Rector of the Parish. His infant son, Reginald Neve, who had been privately baptized, was received into the church with the ceremony usual on such occasions, and a class of twenty-nine persons confirmed. The new Rector is a native of Digby, and succeeded the lately deceased venerable Archdeacon M. Morine, who retired from active work three years ago, leaving the present Rector in charge as Vicar. The meeting at which he was unanimously elected was the largest in the history of the parish.

WHAT HAD SHE BEEN DOING?

A teacher in a local Sunday School desired to reprove a small boy. "Johnnie," she said, quite solemnly, "I'm afraid I shall never meet you in the better land."
Johnnie put on a look of astonishment. "Why, teacher," he asked, "whatever have you been a-doing of now?"

CURIOSITY

Mamma (after her youngest's first day at school)—"Now, Fritz, what did you do in school today?"
Fritz—"Well, such curious people! First, the teacher asks me what we did at home, and now you come and asks what we have done in school."

TOO EXTRAVAGANT.

Mistah Jackson—"You hab a shape just like a watahmillon."
Miss Johnson (coquettishly)—"Now Mistah Jackson, you stop ye stuffin'. You suttinly do pay the most extravagant compliments ob any man Ah knows."

"What's the gloaming, Uncle Tom?"
"Well, before a man is married it is the time to take a walk with the girl he loves; but after he is married it is the time he falls over rocking-horses and building blocks on the parlor floor."

Landlady—"You believe in mustard plasters, doctor?"
M. D.—"Rather! I always order them for patients who call me out in the middle of the night when there's nothing the matter with 'em."

First Student—"What makes that red spot on your nose?"
Second Student—"Glasses."
First Student—"Glasses of what?"
Fred—"I've just lost a rich aunt."
Ned—"Did she die suddenly?"
Fred—"No, she ain't dead at all, but her niece jilted me."

No greater compliment could be paid GIN PILLS than to have a druggist use them. Mr. Rogers being in the business, tried all the ordinary remedies, but it was not until he used GIN PILLS that he was cured of a severe pain in the back.

"In the autumn of 1911, I suffered with a continual pain in the back. As a druggist, I tried various remedies without any apparent results. Having sold GIN PILLS for a number of years, I thought there must be good in them otherwise the sales would not increase so fast. I gave them a fair trial and the results I found to be good."
