We are glad to have the privilege of starting so many on successful careers, and are thankful for the patronage we are receiving.

We Practice What We Teach.

Teaching book-keeping is one thing; practising it, quite another; and few teachers of the subject know what a year's business in a set of books looks like. Strange, it may seem, but nevertheless true, that no other Canadian business college has two accountants on its staff.

Reason number one why firms in British Columbia send to Nova Scotia for good office help.
