Between two and three thousand people were on the grounds. The grand stand was crowded, and looked very gay with the bright colors of ladies' dresses innumerable. All around the fence there stood a double only three minutes, but it was productive of as pretty a piece of team play as has ever been seen in the Province. Soon after the face off Tite got possession of the rubber, and sent it flying down field, but it soon came back, and being thrown into the grand atand, the whistle was blown for a face off. Then Frank Cullin got the

In the second game there were some long throws up and down field after the face off, and then the play settled down for a moment dangerously close to the Vancouver goal, where Macanaghton distinguished himself by effective swiping and passing, but was too closely checked to get a good shot. There was a moment's pause while the ball, which had got into the grand stand, was faced, but the vortimmage was again renewed until Dave Smith gave relief by a long throw down field. It was only a few seconds, however, until the rubber came back and Macnaughton made acother unsuccessful shot for the flags, resulting in a very brief scrimmage, from which Frank Cullin got the ball and passed to Eckart, who scored. Time-5‡ minutes.

The third game, which also went to Victoria, was just a trifle lopsided, the same as the first two were. At the face off, Ken Campbell had a clean shot at the Victoria flags, sand it was hard luck he did not score, but fate was against him, and when the veteran Cullim made a fine long throw from behind the flags the spectators gave vigorous appliance. But the ball did not touch the ground. "Bony Suckling made a magnificent catch, and threw directly back again, renewing the tussle in front of the home goal, and gradually working up to centre, where Tite and Peard did some good checking, the latter coming off best, and in consequence, the ball went behind the Victoria flags, Morton ran after it. So did Ralph and MoGregor, who came from opposite directions, and very neatly sandwiched Morton, giving him the "razzle-dazzle" in cover some some sould be some form opposite directions, and very neatly sandwiched Morton, giving him the "razzle-dazzle" in cover sould be sould be sound to the sould be sould be sound to the sould be so ran after it. So did Ralph and McGregor, who came from opposite directions, and very neatly sandwiched Morton, giving him the "razzle-dazzle" in good shape. But though Ralph secured the ball and dropped it near Victoria's flags it didn't stay there long. Away up at the other end of the field Frost got hold of it and made a shot, which Quann, in goal, saved neatly and reciprocated by a long throw to centre. Morton and Quigley both had an eye open for a catch, and neither one intended to let the other have it. The play was a very pretty one, Morton coming Frost shot between the flags. Time—7th minutes.

The fourth game was the feature of the match. Several changes were made in the Yancouver team to strengthen the defence, and certainly an improvement was made. Chub' Quigley was put on defence and Ken. Campbell went on home. Again and again brilliant play was shown. Macnaughton made the first conspicuous effort, but after a splendid run down field, he was checked by Suckling, who took the ball from him and threw down—but the sphere came back again immediately. "Sony" made a great catch this time, and the performance was repeated and standards applanae. Frost and Macnaughton distinguished themselves by excellent catching, dodging and throwing. Any mas who glays lacroses can make a neat catch when no one is asound, but when a 160 pound other into the railing in front of the grand stand with a thud. Some of the grand stand and the ball was faced at once. As a result Clark, of the Victorias, got a shot or negat, just missing by an inch or two, and the rubber went out to centre again, where Blight secured it and showed his effect some points in fodging. The ball got over the fence repeatedly on the side opposite the grandstand. In the last face off Macnaughton relieved the Victoria goal. Peard got the ball and made a seas, but Charley Chilin checked his stick and after securing the face off there was another pretty contest between Morton and Quigley. The former finally secured and made a swit shot on goal. The ball got over the face off there was another pretty contest between Morton and guigley. The tennis of yesterday was not as brilliant as expected. In the open doubles, Davy and Moggridge v. Cuppage and Foulkes, some very good tennis was shown, but the latter pair won rather easily in the end, although the former gained the first set. The anticipated match of the day was the single between Pelly, of Seattle, and Cuppage, but the speciators were greatly Cuppage, but the spectators were greatly disappointed, Mr. Cuppage putting up the weakest kind of game, while Mr. Pelly was playing in the finest of form. Mr. Cupplaying in the finest of form. Mr. Cuppage's weak play may be accounted for, he having played four matches previously during the day. This leaves Mr. Pelly to play Mr. Longe for the championship of British Columbia. To-day will decide all events and some very fine tennis can be confidently anticipated, in fact, as one of our American contemporaries stated in regard to tennis, "several records will be broken."

of the day's play the match that most deserves mention was the open doubles—Cuppage and Foulkes, of Victoria, against Pelly and Hurd, of Seattle.

The Victorians, scoring the first set at 7 games to 5, looked like having an easy win; but then Seattle equalized matters by taking the second set to 4 games and the third set to 3 games. Score—2 sets to 1; Seattle leads.

In the fourth set Seattle held the score at 5 games to 2, and forty, fifteen; but, through pure steady play on the part of Foulkes, the Victorians crept up, and won the fourth set, 7 games to 5.

In the fifth and final set Seattle again walked away in the start, holding the score at 5 games to 1; but the persistent steady play on the part of the Victorians, especially Foulkes, pulled the set and match out of the fire.
