Ald, Austin WIII Not Introduce the Measure at Monday's -Council Meeting, But

Will Wait.

"To be or not to be" was discussed at a meeting of the Toronto Temper ance Alliance yesterday afternoon. The wiew predominated that a local option vote this year would be a disastrous boomerang for the cause. In view of the instructions of the mass meeting on April 2 the committee considered itself bound to prepare a preliminary report on the steps which would be necessary to take in case the meeting on April 23 insisted on going on with a campaign this year. A significant feature of the meeting was a decision to hold up the introbeen made to persuade the membership on Mesday week to call off the contest this fall, and instead to organize for the election of a majority of "drys" to the city council for 1913.

"The president of a bank in Canada is merely a nominal figure," said Mr, Pattison. "The cashier and other of ficers have most of the power. The charge of forgery is not extraditable in any event. Mr. Nesbitt, moreover, did not forge anything. He merely signed a false statement which resulted in the wrecking of the bank."

The charges against Nesbitt, as made known to-day were:

Making false return to the Government of Canada under the banking laws.

Conspiring to secure a certificate from the treasury board under the banking laws.

Conspiracy to steal $300,000 by means of forgeries.

The -hearing before Commissioner Foote was on a warrant charging Nesbitt with forgery lunder the bitter.

Foote was on a warrant charging Nesbitt with forgery under the "banking laws and with making a false report to the Canadian minister of finance." The warrant was issued at the request of Chicago detectives, acting under authority from the Canadian government.

The advance sale of seats for Madame Funeral will leave above address not only to those who are responsible on Monday, April 15th, at 2.30 p.m., for bringing this noted singer here, but 61 also to the music lovers of Toronto, who are anxious to see every meritorious attraction well patronized. The indications are that next Tuesday evening. Tetrazzini will be greeted by one of the most fashionable audiences ever gathered in Massey Hall. The fact that gathered in Massey Hall. The fact that the diva has prepared a special program for Toronto, and will be assisted by artists who are almost as famous as herself, ensures one of the most delightful musical evenings one could wish for. Of Tetrazzini's assisting artists, The Chicago Herald's critic wrote a few days ago: "When the Venzana waltz song was ended and the applause finally subsided a new pleasure. plause finally subsided, a new pleasure in our local musical experience was afforded by the introduction of a young planist with the easily remembered name of Yves Nat. Financial Scheme and Nominated Senate Vulnerable Points-"Foolish and

Cowardly."

LONDON, April 12.—(Can. Press.)— The adjournment of the home rule for Ireland debate in the house of commons until Monday has given an in-terval in which the opinions of public men of all classes are being canvassed on the main outlines of the measure.

As far as details are concerned, especially of the complex financial proposals, it will be needful, however, to await until the bill is in print, which await until the bill is in print, which probably will be Wednesday.

In the stock exchange to-day the introduction of the bill had no effect whatever. Consols rose slightly, but Irish bank and land stock prices did not change. According to the Unionist view the failure of the measure of a ist view the failure of the measure to affect prices was the outcome of a belief among bankers and financiers that the bill will never become a law. Criticism of the measure seems likely to fasten itself upon the financial proposals, not only on the part of opponents, but also supporters of the bill, as the financial scheme, together with the clause calling for a nominated senate, are considered its weakest spots.

Friction Between Parliaments. The exemption of Ireland from any contribution to the army, navy, diplocontribution to the army, navy, diplomatic service, etc., also is severely criticised, while it is predicted that such a scheme of dual government as the bill proposes would lead to constant friction between the imperial and Irish parliaments; since the imperial parliament, the lord lieutenant of Ireland and the privy council each would possess the power of veto over the Irish parliament.

The Spectator describes the bill as both foolish and cowardly. It says the government, afraid to grant the Nationalists' demand for colonial home rule, bribed them into accepting much less to begin with, but in allowing forty Irish members to remain in Westmin-
