NAVAL EXHIBITION STAYS THIS WEEK

Realistic Pictures of Britain's Navy at Massey Hall Every Day Except Friday.

From a comparatively meagre attendance on the opening night of "Our Empire Navy" patriotic exhibition at Massey Hall last week, the measure of support accorded this deserving institution has been increased by leaps and bounds. Thus including Mr. Guy Bradford to remain over a further week in Toronto. That his judgment was fully justified was amply demonstrated last night, when another large and enthusiastic audience greeted the pictures, the lecturer, the Apollo quartette, and the musicians, with loud and continued applause. Mr. Bradford is running "Our Empire Navy" as a commercial proposition.

ODESSA YOUNGEST OF EUROPEAN CITIES Founded Over One Hundred and Twenty Years Ago by Turks. Odessa is one of the youngest of European cities—only a hundred and twenty years ago Haji Bey, a little Turkish settlement, nestled on the cliffs that overlook the harbor and dived under the sultan across the Black Sea. The long arm of Russia reached out and took it, and planted there, upon the plateau overlooking the bay, the beginnings of a commercial city that now holds between five and six hundred thousand. The revolution in France soon sent refugees scattering over the world, and noble names came to Odessa, and one may read their names on street corners—Darbass, Richelieu and Langeron. Later, Englishmen came and brought ships to carry away Russian grain; and then friendly relations were established between the English and the Russians, and afterwards the Germans came, and afterwards the Americans, with reapers and plows and steam traction engines, to help the Russians to grow more richly the grain that they carried to the world. Last of all came the Jews, and they cut the business to the bone. Last of all came the English, and they cut the business to the bone. Last of all came the Jews, and they cut the business to the bone. Last of all came the English, and they cut the business to the bone.

Modern football is a direct descendant of an ancient Roman game called "harpastum," in which the object of the players on each side was to seize the ball and carry it, by some means or other, across a line marked on the ground in the rear of their opponents.

New McMaster University To Be a Majestic Structure

Site for Building Has Been Secured at Avenue Road and Eglinton Avenue, and Plans for Handsome National Baptist University Now Are Being Prepared—Bloor Street Site Will Be Sold at Satisfactory Figure.

Toronto is to have one of the most majestic piles of university buildings in the world when the new McMaster rears its head skywards on the magnificent and wide-spreading site. As previously announced in The World, the Baptist seat of learning will dispose of its present buildings in Bloor street, having purchased a splendid new acreage on the corner of Avenue road and Eglinton avenue. It was yesterday authoritatively learned that a special committee of the most prominent and financially substantial Toronto members of the institution had been appointed to have the new site prepared for the erection of the new buildings. First of all the committee will secure the services of a landscape architect of eminence in his profession to prepare plans for the improvement of the land. Will Sell Site. The McMaster University property on Bloor st. has not yet been disposed of, but the committee will purchase on the supposition that before the new university is completed either the provincial government or private capital will be ready to absorb the buildings and lands at satisfactory figures. The new McMaster is to be on a national scale, with an alternate capacity for a thousand students. It has in affiliation the Baptist College at Brandon and seminaries at Woodstock and other places. The big men of the denomination have taken hold of the project in a large way and the structure promises to be an architectural feature which will be one of the educational show places of the Dominion. In Baptist circles the project is one of inspiring and absorbing interest.

PLANNED TO BLOW CITY OFF THE MAP

McNamara's Fell Designs on Los Angeles and Panama Canal Foiled By Arrest.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 25.—(Can. Press.)—The contents of the defence that the McNamaras and Orlie E. McManigal alone were responsible for explosions and that the Ironworkers' Union and executive board and President Frank M. Ryan knew nothing of any $1000 expended from the property, were returned from the examination of McManigal in the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today. Before being turned over by the government, McManigal had told stories of how he and the McNamara had talked of blowing up the locks of the Panama Canal and how James B. McNamara was to return to Los Angeles "and wipe that city off the map" by a series of explosions carrying out these plots by their arrest. He also had related that after his return to Chicago, James B. offered Guy Biddinger, a detective, to allow them to escape, telling Biddinger, "you don't get it Clarence Darrow will."

Senator John W. Kern for the defence cross-examined McManigal. "Was the pay for the McNamaras your motive in causing many explosions?" asked Senator Kern. "No, it was not money, Herbert S. Hockin, when he first started me in the dynamiting business, terrorized me, saying if I didn't do it he would prevent me from getting work. Then I was prompted by a foolish notion that it was for the good of the ironworkers' union. My mind was inflamed with the idea it would build up the union. McManigal admitted he had been arrested three times, twice for larceny and once for disorderly conduct. "After the Los Angeles Times reported that he had deliberately killed the 21 persons, that he was a printer and he knew he would kill someone who put the bomb in The Times building, and yet you continued to associate with him."
