Mary Pickford, the Sweetheart of the Screen, at the Majestic, Today, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday (4 Big Days).

The scenes in "M'liss," Mary Pickford's newest Artcraft photoplay, were filmed in the highest part of the San Jacinto Mountains, in Southern California, and during the making of the production, work was interrupted several times by severe snowstorms. There was another interruption when the little star made an automobile trip to Camp Kearney, San Diego, where she reviewed the United States troops, an honor sever before conferred upon any woman. The affair ended with a regimental ball, "Our Mary" and Col. Faneuf, the commanding officer, leading the grand march. After the ball, Mary Pickford laid aside her evening gown and riding habit, for the ragged gingham dress worn by "M'liss." In this picture none of the beauty of Bret Hart's marvelous story has been lost by Frances Marion, the scenarioist, or Marshal Neilan, the director. "M'liss," which is an exceptionally strong mountain play of the days of the gold rush of '49, will be seen at the Majestic Theatre today, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. In Miss Pickford's support appear Theodore Roberts, Thomas Meighan, Tully Marshall, Helen Keil& Winifred Greenwood, and other notable film players.

"The Public Defender" at the Patricia Today, Tuesday and Wednesday.
"The Public Defender," the first of a new series of special productions dealing with problems close to the minds of the masses, announced for presentation by Harry Rawer, has been completed and is now ready for release. The theme of the book from which the plot has been taken is equal right before the law. Frank Keenan, Alma Hanlon and Robert Edeson are in the cast. The screen story was written by Mayer C. Goldman and Frank W. Harris, and the scenario was prepared by Frederick Rath. The picture was directed by Burton King.

The creation of the office of a "Public Defender" as outlined in the visual story presented by Harry Raver, is held by many eminent jurists to be absolutely essential to the proper and fair administration of justice. The idea also has the unqualified indorsement of over 2.000 newspapers and magazines throughout the country, having been feditorially commended by such influential metropolitan dailies as the New York Tribune, the Mail, the Globe, and the Herald.

"The Public Defender" will be shown at the Patricia today. Tuesday
