SCHOOL PLAY GROUNDS

INDICATE A SUCCESS

Four "Supervised" Fields Are Thrown Open and Experiment Gets a Good Beginning.

A joyous intermixture of bare legs, tanned heads, red buckets, spades and sand, "Say, guys, ain't dis swell" and an affirmative "Yep!" amply demonstrated the success of the supervised playground question yesterday at the Park School, on St. David-street.

The two east end school playgrounds, which have been thrown open to all children who care to attend between the hours of 4 and 6, under the care of a supervisor, first went into operation yesterday.

Things are rather in an unsettled condition, however, only two of the many structures which were promised being present—the sand pit and the see-saw. Miss Warner is the morning supervisor at St. David-street School, and Miss Hughes is the afternoon supervisor.

The greatest want was the lack of water, the caretaker, Mr. Charters, not having received any instructions from the school board, thru some mistake.

At the Queen Alexandra School, on Broadview-avenue, the same lack of water prevailed, but Mr. Brent, the caretaker, was hunted up and a beautiful supply found in the cool of the parched thirst of the youngsters.

Miss Jenkinson is the supervisor in the morning, while Miss Anderson, of Cottingham-street School looks after it in the afternoon. The supervisors have asked for rings, quoits, bean-bags and balls, but the board has not yet rendered a decision.

The Evangeline settlement, on the corner of River and Queen-streets, has had a playground in connection with its other features for quite a while past, and everything has been brought to the highest point of perfection thru experience.

The shade of leafy maples (feature number) which are at the school grounds, the children play a bewildering number of games, the materials for which are all supplied by ladies of the settlement. Roco, sand-pits, swings, croquet, see-saw and merry-go-round, while for the older children, who are divided into clubs, and are regular members of the club, a tennis court is being laid out. The large gymnasium, a boon to the youth of Riverdale, is also a source of great attraction to the children, who often repair thereto, and under the supervision of Miss Elwood take part in musical games.

At Borden-street School there were only 10 children in the morning, but by noon and during the rest of the time the grounds were open there were close upon 20. They sang, they jumped, they ran and played ball, while the littler tots played in sand. The ultimate idea is to have swings, a tent and other things which children delight in. Miss J. Jamieson and Miss Ida Armstrong will be in charge.

Only 10 children occupied the grounds of Niagara-street School, and Mrs. Phillips, the caretaker, kept them well in hand. Their chief amusement was playing ball and running around, playing tennis. Miss E. Harrison and Miss Mabel Long will be the teachers in charge.

CANADA'S PARK TO BE BACKYARD FOR HOTEL

Grand Trunk Proposal Condemned in House—Dr. Pugsley Also Centre of Criticism.

OTTAWA, July 6.—(Special.)—Two government bills were disposed of at this morning's sitting and the rest of the day was devoted to public works supply.

The opposition again denounced the proposal to alienate that portion of Major's Hill Park for the purposes of the Grand Trunk Hotel. R. L. Borden regarded it as an "outrageous piece of vandalism" to intrude the hotel into the grounds of parliament. A government did not think much fault would be found with it.

Mr. Borden replied that he was considering the question from the standpoint of the people of Canada. Mr. Lennox insisted that the government should have ascertained something as to the character of the building. So little did the minister know about the plans that he did not tell how many outlets to the park there would be. The park was to be the backyard of the hotel.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley replied that the proceeds of the sale were to be devoted to the extension of Major's Hill Park to Nepean Point. This was not expressed in the bill, but the money was to be spent by improvement commission under the direction of the governor-in-council.

On the third reading of the lead bill, Mr. Foster stated that of 147 receiving counties last year, 112 received amounts so small that the payment could not have been of assistance to them. A number of mines which counties were paid in 1908-4 had ceased production thereafter.

About 8 of the large producers absorbed nearly all of the counties paid. The proper way to develop the lead industry, said Mr. Foster, was by protection in the way of duties. The woollen industry had been ruined and the government had not raised a finger to save it.

Georgian Bay Canal. In supply, Mr. Monk urged the building of the Georgian Bay Canal at once. The government, he said, had practically abandoned the recommendations of the transportation commission.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley declared the government was carrying out the views of the commission as rapidly as was consistent with the resources of the country. He instanced works at Montreal, Quebec, Halifax, St. John, Victoria and other ports.

Mr. Blain spoke of the needs of Port Credit harbor. Sand was continually drifting in there. There was a large amount of traffic between Toronto and Hamilton and the harbor deserved attention. Mr. Pugsley said the difficulty was that the harbor was owned by a private company. If Mr. Blain could get the Ontario Government to buy out the company and contribute one-half the cost he would recommend that this government contribute the other half.

Mr. Bennett opened up the old question of dredging operations on Georgian Bay. These he said were the "greatest swindling operations in the history of Canada."

He charged there was collusion between the companies of MacKay and Grant as to the price that was to be charged for work.

T. B. Carvell interrupted Mr. Bennett's relation of the dredging contracts, and was referred to as a "perpetual parrot" and "understudy of the minister of public works," while Duncan Ross, who also "buted in," was told that he was the "murderer of the former minister."

Discussing the question of collusion of tenders, Mr. Pugsley said Mr. Bennett would have achieved eminence if he had adopted a different profession, that of Sherlock Holmes. No one else had been able to see any resemblance between the two tenders. There was a resemblance in handwriting but not in the figures, which were the crucial test of collusion.

Mr. Pugsley dealt with the matter of the calling for new tenders for dredging, which had resulted in a loss of $175,000 to the country. It had been thought advisable to renew the old contracts, but owing to opposition criticism an in-council authority for the minister to do that was revoked and new tenders were called for. The new prices were much higher.

The minister of public works reproved Mr. Bennett for the tone of his speeches in parliament, adding that when he (Mr. Bennett) went home he would regret having spoken harshly of honorable men.

His Title Clear. "He'll hear something of himself," retorted Mr. Bennett, "if he doesn't bridle his tongue."

"No man living," said the minister, "can say anything about me which I will be afraid or ashamed to hear."

All Ontario votes were agreed to, including a re-vote of $120,000 for Toronto Harbor. The total was $1,026,500 less one-quarter.

Cecil Smith Returns.

Tells of the Progress of Big Work at Winnipeg.

Cecil B. Smith returned from Winnipeg yesterday and reports having a staff of electrical and hydraulic engineers continuously employed on plans and specifications of the municipal power plant. Over 200 men are at work and are carrying forward construction, he states, faster than at any time in the past.

"I am well advised," he said, "that the city council are about to advertise for the sale of power bonds, and there appears to be little doubt but that a contract for the construction of all the various works, in connection with this enterprise, will be called for and let in the immediate future."

"In the meantime," he added, "no cessation of work has ever taken place, nor is contemplated so far as I am aware of."

"Dare Devil" Dives To-Night.

Owing to a hitch in the transportation of the necessary paraphernalia, the "Dare Devil Dash" billed as the main attraction at Scarborough Beach was not given last night. The management is certain, however, that everything will be in order to-night and for the remainder of the week.

The act of the Royal Japanese troupe of acrobats is very good. There are five of them, two men, two women and a boy, and they pull off some very clever stunts.

Cashier is Missing.

Judge Ruel of St. Louis was in the city yesterday en route to Manitowish.

HAMILTONIANS FAVOR CONTRACT WITH HYDRO

Indignation Meeting is Held in the Savoy Theatre—Board of Trade Member Votes Other Way.

HAMILTON, July 6.—(Special.)—A resolution was unanimously passed at the indignation meeting in the Savoy Theatre to-night in favor of closing a contract with the hydro-electric power commission, in view of the fact that the ratepayers had twice endorsed the contract, and if the aldermen had any doubt about it to submit to it to the ratepayers again.

Ald. McLaren, A. J. Wright, Allan Studholme, M.L.A., George Smith, Thomas Mitchell and many others spoke in favor of competition in power. Ald. Farrar tried to deliver a Cataract speech and his sentiments were loudly applauded.

About twenty members of the board of trade, including William J. Southam, met this afternoon and passed a resolution asking the aldermen to sign a contract with the Cataract Power Company. The resolution cited the benefits bestowed upon the city by the company. Ald. H. G. Wright and Ald. Farrar spoke in favor of that course.

The rumor that the G.T.R. is considering the Masonic hall as a site for an uptown station has been revived once more.
