HOW PORTER ON AUSTIN WAS CAUGHT

Wright Had Tip They Were After Him and His Room Searched

Capt. Pike Had All Hands Before Him and Threatened General Discharge—Detective's Work Followed—The Austin Here Again.

The Calvin Austin arrived in port this morning with 630 passengers. The officers are well pleased with the capture of Thos. Wright, the porter charged with stealing from the staterooms of passengers.

Hardly had the Calvin Austin reached Boston Light last Thursday on her regular trip to St. John, when Mrs. E. Lacey, of 44 Falcon street, East Boston, reported the loss of her pocketbook containing $9 and a gold watch valued at $75.

Capt. F. S. Pike sought Inspector Gaddis, who was on the boat going to St. John for his vacation trip. The inspector told the captain the work looked like that of a man who was on the inside, and to watch out for some of the men in his employ.

To take no chances, Capt. Pike assembled his deck force and demanded that they produce the guilty party or he would discharge them all when the boat reached Boston. Day and night the steward and other officers worked to learn the identity of the thief, but they were unsuccessful and the larcenies continued to be reported.

On the very first day out returning, Mrs. Clementina D. Nahmer of Springfield notified the captain that she had surprised a man rifling her suitcase, but because of the darkness she could not give any description of him and he made his escape through the stateroom window. Mr. Wilkinson, of the Raymond & Whitcomb service, told the inspector he had seen a colored man trying to get into his stateroom window.

Wilkinson gave enough of a description of the man to lay suspicion on Wright, so when Wright was waiting on the table at breakfast Steward J. W. Nesley and the inspector went to his locker, where they found a suitcase which contained about $800 worth of the jewelry that had been reported to the captain as among the stolen property. Wright was tipped off by a friend that the officials were looking into his locker and he promptly hid.

For hours the crew and officers played hide-and-seek with Wright, and finally he was found and when the steamer reached St. John he was placed under arrest by Inspector Gaddis.

In Wright's clothes was found a long key with a steel curved wire attached to it, and a bank book on the Five Cents Savings Bank, showing deposits of $20 in the past month.

There was also a package ready for mailing addressed to Mrs. Charity Wright of York street, Savannah, Ga., and containing a watch which was identified as the property of Mrs. McAfee of Falcon street, East Boston.

Edward A. Johnston, second steward of the Calvin Austin, a native of the city, caught the negro, Wright, who did the stealing on board the steamer Calvin Austin. Wright was hiding in one of the life-boats on the upper deck of the steamer.

Among the property recovered from Wright's dress suit case was a $150 gold watch belonging to Mr. Almeida, a clerk in the office of the Eastern Steamship Company, stolen from his stateroom on July 24; a lady's gold watch and rope chain valued at $75, taken from the stateroom of Mrs. McAfee; gold filled watch, valued at $30; two gold bracelets, valued at $10; gold throat pin, valued at $5; a string of rosary beads, metal watch fob, six gold and silver coins and five silver pocket pieces and an athletic medal; gold pin of the 1899 Snowshoe Club, two fountain pens, six pocketbooks and numerous rings and small jewelry.

On the June 29 trip the following persons reported losses: Mrs. G. W. White of Attleboro; Mrs. E. Lacey of East Boston; Mrs. C. D. Nahmer of Springfield, and Mrs. E. Vaner of Dorchester.

Among the passengers today were C. F. Grunin, wholesale fish merchant, of Boston, on business and pleasure trip; Louis Warwick, of the Crawford House, James Warnock, Jr., Harry McClasky, a singer, a former resident of this city; C. A. Jones, proprietor of the American House, Boston; also Richard O'Hearn, well known in this city.

On the return trip tonight, Mrs. Calvin Austin, with her party of friends, will return to Boston. They have visiting Wolfville, Halifax, Sydney, North Sydney and Moncton, accompanied by LeBaron R. Thompson, the travelling passenger agent of the Eastern S. S. Company.

King Edward Lodge of Prentice Boys will hold a picnic at Ludgate Lake on Saturday, Aug. 7. A long list of amusements has been prepared, including all the usual games, with quilt match and tug-of-war. Good prizes will be given. Train will leave west side ferry at 9.15 a. m. and 2 p. m.; returning will leave the grounds at 8 p. m. Refreshments and meals will be served.
