AN EVENING OF COMEDY

Empire Dramatic Club to Play Benefit for Every Day Club Playground Fund.

Mistaken identity is the cause of all the trouble in "A Val from Mayfair," one of the very funny farcical comedies to be presented by the Empire Dramatic Club at the dime entertainment in the Every Day Club rooms tomorrow evening. When this comedy was first produced by the club a few days ago, it convulsed the audience with laughter and was voted one of the brightest, snappiest little plays seen here for some time. There is nothing amateurish about the entertainment, as the performers give with a really professional vim and vigor.

The Empire players will also produce two other comedies—one a scolding farce entitled "The Misfortunes of Moses," and the other a dandy creation, "The Christmas Chime." The three will make up a triple bill of much merit.

There will also be musical selections between the acts. The proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to the Every Day Club's playground fund.

She was attended by her sister Miss Josephine Phelan, who were both broadcloth with last to Edward Duffy supported the groom. Wescott, one of Freeport's popular merchants. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. Gordon Swain in the presence of a number of invited guests. The bride and groom belong to Freeport, and are very popular in their own town and also in this city.

The scenes in which they are held was shown by the many costly presents which the bride received.
