The Man In The Street

What do the probs. say for tomorrow?

Probably no chap's got a bigger grouse against the weather man this week than the fellow who's been taking his holidays.

Just four more days remain to write about the June bride.

The fighting in Europe still continues although Mr. Bryan abolished the war some days ago.

Wonder if he would have been willing to send a note to Germany asking them to give up beer for the rest of the time and drink grape juice instead?

Ever Thank So?

A chap just married about a month said this week that if he attended to all the little jobs about the house that needed to be done, he would have no time to work.

Joseph Martin "hiked" 1,000 miles from Fort McLeod to Calgary to enlist. Joseph won't need to practise for a route march.

The Hurdy-gurdy man is back in town, but up to the present the advance agent of the German Bands has not arrived.

Were Badly Needed.

Work has been started on new sidewalks for the lower end of Main street. Street construction is always an interesting feature for tourists in sight-seeing about St. John.

Seemingly City Hall has always thought it better to have the principal streets dug up in the midst of the tourist season than to have the work begun weeks previously.

Seems to bring the war nearer home, hear Commissioner Potts declaring war on the Poles.

About time something was done with just a few more poles the streets would look like Robinson Crusoe's stockades.

A few less poles and a few more window boxes would help the appearance of the city.

And the peddlers are at it again. Did you ever buy any of those red imported cigars which the mysterious visitor said he could sell so cheaply only because they were smuggled? And do you remember how they tasted, after you used up the first layer?

WAS LAWYER AT 21

Boston Paper's Reference to Late Judge Lane, Who Was Born in St. John

Of the death of Judge Walter I. Lane, nephew of Robert Clarke of St. John, the Boston Globe of Thursday says:— Judge Walter I. Lane, special justice of the Brockton Court, died this morning at the Cory Hill Hospital in Brookline after an illness of two weeks. He had undergone an operation and was thought to be recovering rapidly when he suffered a relapse. He was thirty-eight years old.

Judge Lane was born in St. John, N. B., on May 6, 1877, and came to Brockton at the age of five. He graduated from the High School there in 1896 and later entered the law office of Judge Warren A. Rice. The following year he attended Boston University. He was admitted to the bar in 1900. He was also treasurer of the Boston University Athletic Association and associated editor of the Boston School Magazine. He graduated from Boston University in 1909 with high honors and was admitted to the bar at the age of twenty-one.

He was associated with Judge Reed in Brockton for a few years and then opened an office for himself. He was always very active in Republican politics and for a number of years stumped the state for the republican state committee. The only office he ever sought was that of city solicitor, a position which he held for three years. He was a specialist in liquor cases and established a record for himself in the handling of such cases.

He was appointed special justice of the Brockton Police Court on April 28, 1908, by Ex-Gov. Draper. He received his commission on his 32nd birthday. As judge of the police court he made a special study of juvenile cases.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Walter Lane, a brother, Arthur Lane, and two sisters, Mrs. John M. Baker of Brockton and Mrs. H. Loring Jenkins of Bridgewater.

He was a member of the Commercial Club, Paul Revere Lodge of Masons, The Brockton Bar Association, The Plymouth Bar Association and was affiliated with many charitable and social organizations.

A. M. S. MEN UNDER STRENUOUS TRAINING ROUTINE IN ENGLAND

Kenneth S. Allaby Writes Home of Life at Sandling Camp—Other St. John Boys

A letter received today from Kenneth S. Allaby, of No. 2 Co., A. S. C., from Sandling Camp, England, tells of the members of that body, almost all St. John lads, enjoying themselves in training there. "We have seen many things that were new and interesting," he writes. "I cannot fittingly describe it all. We have seen one thing since coming here that few of us have seen for some time and that is watching old Sol making his daily appearance. As leader says: 'It's great to get up early in the morning. I am in a tent with several other St. John fellows, Corp. Allingham, W. J. Marks, J. L. Linton, A. L. Fraser and T. L. Northrup. We have had some days here as warm as any at home in August."

"I have seen several soldiers who have been to the front and are now recovering after their wounds. They say it is still a long way to Berlin." Some of the boys have hopes of eating their Christmas dinner at home, but fear they will be disappointed. We have been strenuously training for the work in France, and expect soon to be doing our little bit in driving the enemy back. Give my best regards to old friends."

GIVES UP STRIPES AND GOOD POST AND GOES BACK TO RANKS

Paymaster Sergeant Jones of 'Indiastown With the A. M. S., Wants to Get to Front

Because he would have to stay in England, and not get a chance to see action at the front, Sergt. Walter L. Jones, formerly of Indiastown, gave up his stripes and reverted to the ranks. He had been promoted to the rank of paymaster-sergeant with the Divisional Train, under command of Lieut.-Col. Massie, but on learning that the promotion meant separation from his pals in the company and a protracted stay in London, he asked to be relieved of the non-commissioned rank and to revert to his former standing as a private. "If No. 2 Co. goes to France," he said, "I'm going with it."

This news was contained in a letter received today from Sergt. J. C. Bond, of the supply section of No. 20 Co., A. S. C. in which Jones is serving. Sergt. Bond says the members of the company are taking up the work of heavier drill with skill and ease, and will soon be ready to take their place with the units of Britain in France.

BEING WELCOMED

A visitor to the city during the last few days is a former well known resident of West St. John, Daniel Noonan, who is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor, Cedar street. He has been living in Seattle, where he has done well. Instead of the broad sweep of asphalt, there will be a seven foot strip with grass plot four feet wide between it and the houses and another seven feet wide between the sidewalk and the gutter. The sidewalk will be of asphalt, but will be laid in wooden forms like concrete, and will be rounded off at the edges to prevent crumbling. The work will be more or less in the nature of an experiment.

AWARDED RACE

ANOTHER ROCK IN THE WAY OF SHIP OF STATE

More Trouble For Local Government, This Time Over Successor to Wilson in Cabinet

It is believed that the provincial government may have as much trouble over filling the vacancy in the cabinet which will occur when Hon. J. E. Wilson resigns to accept the appointment of deputy receiver-general, as has been caused by other appointments recently. As Mr. Wilson is the only representative from the city of St. John in the cabinet, many of the St. John supporters of the government feel that another St. John man should get the appointment, and friends of Messrs. Tilley, Lockhart and Greenman are all reported working for their candidates. Of the three, it is asserted by his friends that Mr. Greenman is most entitled to the appointment, and that they will insist upon his getting it. As Mr. Tilley is said to be a bit too independent for the "machine," and Mr. Lockhart is kept pretty busy with his own business interests, they feel that their candidate should have a good show.

There are other parts of the province which would like to be represented in the government, however, and they are being heard from. One of the candidates from the upper section of the province "mentioned" is Titus J. Carter, M.P.P. from Victoria county. It is believed his chances will not go beyond "mention." A. R. Slipp, M.P.P. from Queens is another stalwart supporter of the government who has so far sought in vain for preferment, and whose demands are said to be getting stronger. The fact that he does not belong in the inner clique which runs the affairs of the party may lessen his chances. The north-western part of the province beyond Hon. Mr. Morrissey's constituency, are also said to be looking over their stock of available timber with the idea of finding something suitable for the occasion.
