Concerning Recruiting

when we say that the equipping and dispatch of the first two contingents reflected no particular credit on us as Canadians. If the Liberal Party were in power in Ottawa we should have voiced a much stronger protest. We hoped that some of our Conservative friends would have taken up the cudgels, but our expectation has not been realized. Let everybody be frank about the facts. Let us face the situation like men. Recruits are not coming forward as rapidly as we should like. What is the reason? There are plenty of men available.

One of St. John's Old Theatrical Favorites Will Open an Engagement Here on Monday Night

In times past no theatrical star who visited St. John annually was more popular with the regular theatre goers than Jere McAuliffe, and the announcement that Jere is coming to the Opera House for an engagement on next Monday will undoubtedly be hailed with delight by the many friends of this still popular comedian in the city. This time Jere comes as the star of a big musical comedy company, styled Homan's Musical Revue, which offers a programme containing a little bit of everything that is good.

This same attraction has been located at one of the leading theatres of Providence, R. I., for the last three years and is looked on there as one of the city's institutions. There are seventeen clever artists with the company, mostly girls, with plenty of beautiful wardrobe and stage settings. During the engagement there will be a complete change of programme twice a week and a matinee on Wednesday and Saturday. The prices will be little but the show is big.

CALVARY REACH ENGLAND
Two more shipments of horses for the British cavalry taken from Boston, have successfully passed through the German submarine zone and reached their destination.

The Leyland liner Devonian, Capt. Trant, which sailed from East Boston on July 9, with a full cargo and 1100 head of western horses, arrived safely at Liverpool, and the Iberian of the same line, Capt. Jago, which left here July 7, reached Manchester.

Cable advices announcing the safe arrival of the two liners were received by the Boston office of the line.
