

MRS. M. CONNERS GAVE UP ALL HOPE

For Two Years Had Been Unable to Be Out of Bed Over a Few Hours at a Time—Gains Fifteen Pounds and is Made Well and Strong by Taking Tanlac.

"I have been in poor health ever since I was a little child, and have taken many different kinds of medicine and Tanlac is the only thing that has ever done me any good at all," said Mrs. Mary Connors, who lives at 15 B. Rhode Island Avenue, Halifax, a few days ago.

"To feel perfectly well is entirely a new experience to me," continued Mrs. Connors, "and if it hadn't been for Tanlac, I don't believe I would have ever known what it means to enjoy good health. As a child I was very nervous, and my general health was bad. As I grew older the troubles didn't get any better, but seemed rather to get worse. My entire system was in a weak, run-down condition all the time, and I finally became so nervous that I couldn't sleep well, and many nights didn't sleep at all. Well, this condition kept up until I was a grown woman, and all the treatments and medicines I took didn't help me at all. Finally, about two years ago, I reached the point where I was only able to be out of bed a few hours at a time, and that condition kept up until I commenced taking Tanlac a month or so ago. I would try to get up and walk around a little every day, but I was so terribly weak and run-down that I would have to go right back to bed, and I had given up all hope of ever being a well woman."

"My husband had been reading about Tanlac and was so much impressed with the statements that different people were making about it, that he went down to the drug store and bought a bottle of it for me. Oh! how I wish I could tell you all the good Tanlac has really done me. Why, I have actually gained fifteen pounds already, and I am so well and strong now that I do all my household work and it doesn't tire me at all. All that nervousness has left me, and I sleep just like a baby every night. I have a ravenous appetite, and that is something new for me, for I can hardly remember ever being really hungry in my life before. I didn't think I would ever have the strength I now have, and in fact I just simply feel fine all the time. My entire system has been wonderfully built up, and I am so thankful that Tanlac has done this for me. I will never lose an opportunity to praise Tanlac, for I know that there is nothing in the world of medicine in the whole world to compare with it."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—(Adv.)

P. E. I. ELECTIONS ON THURSDAY

Charlottetown, P. E. I., July 18.—The election campaign is nearing a close. Polling will take place on July 24. There are thirty straight Conservatives, twenty-eight Liberals and two Independents running, the latter having a leaning towards the opposition.

At the last election seventeen Conservatives and thirteen Liberals were elected, but as some of the former had very narrow majorities, and as the vote on the Island (exclusive of the overseas vote) during the federal election gave four Liberals by large majorities, the sentiment of the province is certainly Liberal. Just how the voters' vote will affect the situation this time it is hard to say, as they are not taking an active part in the election, but they cannot be said to be very enthusiastic in favor of the government. Election will be by ballot. The Conservatives brought in a bill this session to have open vote, but afterwards withdrew it. The government is announcing a referendum on prohibition next year.

MR. O'CONNOR RESIGNS

Ottawa, July 20.—On the ground that the intention was always to have a lawyer as chairman of the court of commerce and for the other two members a manufacturer and either a wholesaler or retailer, W. F. O'Connor, K. C., has refused to be commissioner. He prepared the legislation on which the court is based, and his name has been urged by many business bodies for the chairmanship. That position, however, has not been offered him.

It is the intention of Mr. O'Connor to resign all his government positions on September 1 and devote himself thereafter to special work on behalf of clients called before the court of commerce.

STABBED IN THE CHEST WITH BIG KNIFE IN OTTAWA

Austrian Killed and Russian Soldier Who Won Fame in War is Under Arrest

Ottawa, July 21.—Bill Artick said to be an Austrian, living at 286 St. Remington street, Hull, was killed about six o'clock last evening by a knife wound in the chest. Corporal Philip Konowal, V. C., a Russian of the 77th Battalion who won fame fighting with the 47th Battalion in France, and the man who led a peace parade here on Saturday night, was arrested and charged with the murder. Six men, three of whom are Austrians, are held as witnesses. To Constable Cote who arrested him, Konowal said: "I've killed fifty-two of them, that makes the fifty-third."

Konowal was found to be suffering from serious knife wounds in the hand and wrist which he had endeavored to wash after the killing, without making any attempt to get away from the scene of the event, where a large crowd had collected. According to his story, the blow was struck in self-defence, but as he was the only one of the party, including Artick's family, who spoke English, it was hard for the police to get both sides of the case.

According to what information could be gleaned, Konowal and a friend named Dielck, went over to Hull, where Dielck, according to Konowal, went inside, while he himself remained outside. There was a call for help from Dielck, and Konowal rushed inside to find himself attacked with a knife. From Artick he grabbed the knife—a long butcher's weapon—and plunged it in the breast of his assailant. The wound was in the heart and the victim died immediately. Konowal won the V. C. in the war.

NO PENSION FOR THIS MOTHER

Canada Refuses But New Zealand Acts, Says Wellington Paper—Son Killed While Fighting With 26th

"A Wellington boy, aged seventeen, tried to enlist with the forces, but was turned down because of his age, his father is dead, his mother has three other children, girls, and young, and only other child is old enough to work; the boy works his passage to England, joins the navy, his age is discovered, and he is discharged. He then joins his father's old regiment, his age is found out, and he is again discharged. He then joins the Canadian machine-gun section, goes to the front, and does splendid work, and is killed at his gun."

The mother is taken ill, and can do little work, and applies to us. We do, of course, help her, and write to Canada about her pension, and we find that Canada, unlike New Zealand, will grant no pension in such a case. In Canada no pension is granted to a widow mother unless her soldier son who has been killed was the sole support of the mother before enlisting. When this boy enlisted he was only 17, and though he gave his mother all he earned, his mother was able to work; today she is a semi-invalid. We are not going to see this woman stranded through the loss of her patriotic, plucky son, and therefore we will be helping her and her family, and we will have to do this until the children are old enough to work and support the mother."

The article just quoted is from a Wellington, New Zealand paper, and is of local interest as the boy referred to is W. D. Wells, in whose memory a service was held a few months ago in the German street Baptist church. After being discharged from his father's old regiment, the lad came to St. John on the steamer Matanus, which it will be remembered, was blown up at Sand Point. He joined the 115th Battalion under Colonel Wedderburn, and went to France with a reinforcing body for the 26th Battalion machine gun section and was soon afterwards killed, but not before he had been recommended for gallantry.

The matter has been taken up with the Canadian Pension Board here, but it is said without effect.

AUSTRIAN PEACE TERMS GIVEN OUT

Paris, July 20.—The full peace conditions of the Allied and associated powers are now in the hands of the Austrians. The first sections of the terms were presented to the Austrian delegates at St. Germain on June 2, the final sections were delivered to them at the same place today without ceremony by M. Dufaure, secretary-general of the peace conference.

The terms comprise the whole treaty which Austria is asked to sign, including the reparations, financial, military and certain other minor clauses, which were not ready for presentation when the official ceremony took place.

In an accompanying memorandum, the Austrians are granted fifteen days in which to make their final observations, although they have already submitted a large number of notes on the terms previously submitted to them.

In addition to the published summary of the terms of June 2, the new clauses provide for reparations arrangements very similar to those in the treaty with Germany, including the establishment of an Austrian sub-section of the reparations commission, the payment of a reasonable sum in cash, the issuing of bonds and the delivery of livestock and certain historical and art documents.

The financial terms provide that the Austrian pre-war debt shall be apportioned among the various former parts of Austria and that the Austrian currency and war bonds circulating in the separate territory shall be taken up by the new government and redeemed as they see fit.

Under the military terms the Austrian army is henceforth reduced to thirty thousand men on a purely voluntary basis.

Marie and Helen were playing house one day when Ruth joined them. They were not particularly anxious to see her that day, and finally said, "Well you can be the maid and this is your day out."

WAR ROMANCE IN A DORCHESTER WEDDING

Miss Marion E. Voyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Voyer, of Dorchester, Lower Mills, Mass., was married last week to Sergt. Howard R. Mitchell of Fortoville, Penn., at the Blaney Memorial Baptist Church, Richmond street, by Rev. A. A. Ridout. The bride was attended by six bridesmaids, her chums and a matron of honor, Mrs. Alan B. Lord, her sister.

The wedding is the culmination of an interesting romance of the world war. The groom met his bride just outside the enemy lines in the Toul sector in France after he had been shot down from the air during a night fight with his lieutenant. The plane was flying low over the enemy lines when it was damaged by an enemy antiaircraft gun. He and his companion lay in the field under the cov-
