Ottawa, Jan. 12—That the present scarcity of coal was anticipated nearly three months ago in the offices of the commissioner investigating the high cost of living, and measures to meet it advised, is indicated by a report to Hon. T. W. Crothers by W. F. O'Connor, K. C., commissioner re cost of living.

The report, which deals with the period from April to October, 1917, "the first six months of the coal year," states that during this time there was a great deal more anthracite imported into the flow bear and anything as a similar period.

The report goes on to say: "Under the notion seized them, it remained for the Germans to show what real Vandalism was like. It has just been announced that the Cedars of Lebanon, famous in Scripture and almost regarded as sacred trees, have been ruthlessly destroyed by the Germans.
