

yard; we trust, under the Divine blessing, we shall be enabled to train up men, duly qualified for the important work, in which they are called to engage: men full of zeal, and of the Holy Ghost; and who, will not consider their lives dear unto them, so that they may be the honoured instruments of turning perishing sinners from sin to holiness.

We are anxious to impress upon your minds, dear brethren, that in the establishment of the Institution, to which we have adverted, our intention is, to admit only such young men, as our quarterly Conferences would have recommended to the Annual Conference, as Circuit Preachers, and to give them that instruction, which will enable them to speak and write their Mother tongue, with propriety and facility, to direct them to a useful course of reading, to make them fully acquainted with the word of God, and to be grounded in those fundamental doctrines, we profess to believe and to teach; at the same time, to make them acquainted with those duties, which will devolve upon them, whenever the Annual Conference may call them into the vineyard of Christ, to labour for God. It is our earnest prayer, that the great Head of the Church, may direct and assist us, in this undertaking; that his great and holy name may be glorified.

Appreciating the benevolent motives, which have influenced the Methodist New Connexion, in sending Christian Missionaries to Canada; we cannot but believe, that the same will be more extensively and economically realized, through the instrumentality of the union, which has happily taken place.—We have already many stations, to which the people, not less from affection to our Religious Community, than the spiritual destitution of the people, urgently call us; but, such is the want of suitably qualified labourers, that though your christian liberality, would furnish us with the means for providing for such; yet, we have not men of God, suitable for the important work;—with the man of Macedonia, we would say to you, Brethren, come over and help us; and we, at the same time, devoutly pray, the Lord of the harvest, to send more labourers, into his Gospel vineyard.

Dear Brethren, when we cast our eye over this vast country, with its generally, thinly scattered population, and the unceasing efforts required, to make the wilderness fruitful, for the sustenance of man; when we reflect, that many of them, have been compelled to expatriate themselves, from a country, the recollection of which, is still fondly cherished by them, as their fatherland; that in many instances of your fancied means, the blessed or even twofold, with, and of great power, this nature far short of the restraint fallen into their mind light; of sin God, and with power, to sin has been overcome, pel, has been are the true in Canada. ultation, that a gracious ere long, see over the land and the solid rejoice, and an interest in England course, that to bear your every blessing tion; and to your beloved ty, the Queenousness; and country, no Evangelize we remain

Sign