"The total number of seizures made since 1886," said Mr. Munsie this morning, "is eighteen. My schooner, the Carolina, was, by the way, the first vessel ever seized in the sea. The total amount of indemnity for all the schooners seized would not be over $500,000. There is another point in connection with the arbitration which has not been settled as far as I have seen, and it is this: It was agreed that the arbitrators should determine the number of seals the pelagic sealers could have killed in the sea in 1891, 1892 and 1893 without injury to seal life in general, and the sealers were to be indemnified if it were allowed that they could have killed seals there without injury to the herds. Now, on that point I have heard nothing."

An Easy Job.

A. B. Erskine's store at the corner of Johnson and Government streets, was entered last night by a back window and some money and a number of pairs of shoes were stolen. The safe was left open in the evening so the burglars had no trouble in cleaning that out.

Ledingham Improving. George Ledingham, whose horse slipped while he was on his way to a fire yesterday, is recovering. The horse slipped on a tramway rail and Mr. Ledingham was thrown off, his head striking on the rai!. It was thought last evening that the injuries were fatal.

The Money is Here.

Collector A. R. Milne received the folowing telegram from Ottawa to-day:-Sum of $25,234 placed to your credit 2nd instant.

(Signed) WM. SMITH. Deputy Minister of Marine.

This is the money due the hunters and seamen under the awards for losses under the modus vivendi of 1891. The sum of $75,000 has already been paid to owners and captains. The payment of the money will begin at 2 o'clock to-morrow and will continue every day thereafter at that hour until it is all paid. To get, a claim it will be necessary to produc the evidence of the master, mate or owner of the schooner in which the applicant sailed. A terrible time is expected in paying the Indians.

Maltreating Vice-Royalty. The first thing that is to be done to Lord Aberdeen when he reaches Canada is to stand him up against the wall and read an address to him telling him what a fine fellow he is and how much everybody likes him. If this sort of thing would stop short with one address it wouldn't be so bad, but the trouble is that now that one society has set the ball rolling, half a dozen others will want to join in the fun, until poor Aberdeen will begin to feel as if they had taken him out on a vacant lot and were using him for a target in a rifle shooting match. "None of the vessels had done anything around the islands up to the time I had left. The weather had been terribly rough and the seals were not over plentiful. In fact, the catches were about the same as that with which the schooners left for the other side. I expect a number of them home shortly. My schooner took about 1,500 skins, nearly all of which I shipped home some time since on the schooner May Belle." Capt. Anderson has been in consultation with Collector Milne this afternoon and will probably make a few statements under oath on the circumstances surrounding the seizure of the schooner Minnie. There will also be an official report on the whole transaction forwarded to Ottawa.

The schooner Ainoko was owned by Capt. Grant and had a catch of about 1,400 skins. She was reported lost this summer when the Mary Blum went to pieces on Cape St. Elias. She is a firstclass schooner, and with her outfit easily worth $10,000. The Minnie was owned by Victor Jacobson. She is a good boat, worth probably the same money. She had a fair catch of sealskins.

BOARD OF TRADE.

Meeting of the Council-Various Subjects Under Discussion. The council of the board of trade met at 11 a.m. to-day, primarily to discuss with Captain Irving and others the question of cold storage for the Australian trade, which is expected to follow the establishment of the new steamship line. There were present: President Flummerfelt in the chair, Messrs. Renouf, Ker, Prior, Hall, Marvin, Gray, Worlock, Connon, Heisterman, Templeman, Irving and Rithet.

The question of freight rates to the Mainland, introduced at a former meeting by Mr. Gus Leiser, was brought to the attention of Captain Irving and the informal discussion ensued. Mr. Rithet thought the rate was so low now that it could not be reduced. All freight was handled twice. Captain Irving said they paid 35 cents a ton to handle freight each time, or 70 cents for the trip, and in some cases they only get $1 for carrying it. A reduction in such a case would mean an actual loss to his company.

Mr. Ker pointed out that Vancouver got a dollar a ton better on flour from Winnipeg than Victoria.

The rate charged on Nanaimo and northern route was also discussed, and while it was pointed out that the Messrs. Dunsmuir stood in their own light in not reducing the rate per ton to Nanaimo to $1.50 as the trade was undoubtedly leaving Victoria. The matter of rates was allowed to lrop without any action being taken. Wharfage and cartage charges, which are considered by merchants who pur-chase from Victoria to be very vexatious, t was claimed by Messrs. Irving and Rithet, were not greater than in other places on the coast. The proposition to establish a cold stor-age warehouse, was informally debated.

number of dead salmon in the Straits. -The total salmon pack on the Columbia is 375,000 cases, or just 100,000 cases, short of last year.

-The finding of the hat belonging to Mrs. Emma McDonald is all that has so far rewarded the Lake Washington searchers.

-The five "swagger sticks" presented o Corp. McConnon, and Gunners Quigley, Booth, Johnston and Smith for the neatest tent during the recent camp at Macaulay Point have arrived from the east. (From Wednesday's Daily.)

-An alarm from Box 31, was turned in at 11:45 a.m. to-day for a fire on the roof of C. A. Vernon's residence, Humboldt street. Ten dollars will cover the damage done. A spark from the kitchen stove was the cause of the fire. -Yesterday afternoon a workman employed at the outer wharf had his hand smashed between a pile and a large stick of timber. It took several men with crowbars some time to pry open the timbers and release the crushed member. (From Thursday's Daily.)

-The damage by fire at Mr. Charles Vernon's residence westerday did not amount to $500, but $16. The house in which the fire alarm box key is kept was not closed, the door being wide open all afternoon.

-Quadra street from Topaz avenue through the Tolmie estate has been graded and is not in a passable condition. The government will shortly commence grading the portion of the street outside the city limits.

MR. GLADSTONE. To the Editor: It is time that some one raised his voice in protest against the vicious, not to say unmanly, abuse contained in Mr. Phillipps Wolley's letters to the Colonist directed against one whom so many millions all over the world love and revere. Hatching Out a Python Family.

The python lately received at the Zeological Gardens in Leipsic completed its work of hatching its eggs on the10th inst. This and a second sitting python. of the Indian species were received a few weeks ago at Hamburg by the proprietor of the Leipsic Garden. They were sent to Leipsic carfully packed in chests, but one of them, disturbed by the jolting of the train, left her place on her eggs, and they were destroyed. The other python, who had laid several dozens of eggs as big as goose eggs and covered with a thick, leathery skin, remained lying u on them in a pyramidal coil, at the apex of which protruded her head. Both pythons were unusually angry, and tried to shoot forth their heads through every opening of the chest, uttering low hissing cries. On the 4th of this month, the first young snakes of the successfully hacehed brood began to appear, creeping out between the coils of the python mother. Every day more appeared, until on the 10th (when the mother at last left her long-continued position, there were more than 30 young snakes. They were as thick as a man's thumb, about two feet long. and exquisitely marked, their light color bontrasting strongly with the dark brown of their mother. The empty eggs, slit in young pythons, which at first resembled a Medusa's head, began to creep away from their mother-some lying in a tangled heap under the blanket, some rwisted separately into a small knot in the corners of the chest. The python whose eggs were destroyed by her forsaking her position has gone blind. The hatching of python snakes in confinement is of very rare occurrence, but the place the currence proves the truth of the belief
