An Outside View of Miramichi's Boception of Governor Snowball.

Referring to the reception tendered to His Honor, Lt. Governor Snowball on Saturday at Newcastle and Chatham, the Fredericton Gleaner says:

"Altogether the Governor's return seems to have called out a remarkable popular demonstration. As a rufe, one takes the Governor pretty much for granted, and his reception is apt to be a little perfunctory. It says a great to deal therefore for the popularity of Governor Snowball, and the wisdom of the choice made at Ottawa, that he should have been so enthusiastically received. There have been occasions on case in the proposed of the popularity of Governor Snowball, and the wisdom of the choice made at Ottawa, that he should have been so enthusiastically received. There have been occasions on case in the proposed to a sample temperature, and even the hopeleseness of the opposition causes in the proposition acase in the Province does not ruffle his temper or detract, in any degree, from the arbanity and genial disposition which win and retain at all times the personal regard and friendship of political supporters and opponents alike. Mr. Hazen's time of political success will, no doubt, come at a not very late period in the present century. We can fancy him—handsome and grey-haired—in the physical and intellectual vigor of his sixty-fifth year, having learned the error of his pelitical ways, celebrating his elevation to the alite perfunctory. It says a great of the corresponding the proposed demonstration to the promiser of the choice made at Ottawa, that he should have been so enthusiastically received. did their duty well. He would say for the retiring governor, Hon. Mr. McCleian, that he was a most constitutional administrator, faithful in guarding the rights and privileges of the Province and conscientious in the performance of the duties devolving upon him. He would retire with the respect of the province-of every man who had knowledge of the worthiness with which he had deserving object which had a claim upon his purse and had done it quietly—the right hand not knowing what the left did.

He observed that Governor Snowball was cautions in his utterances regarding the residence question. He had no doubt that he would reside in Fredericton, but would find that the proper preservation of his health would make it imperative that he should continue to inhale the atmosphere of the Miramichi. His doctor would so advise. Fredericton is a beautiful city. It is on the lou't the depth of water there, nor the large ocean-going ships with which His Hour's life has been associated. He will miss and pine for them. He will want to smell the bark of the spruce logs and sound with a pole to see if the pulp mill is depositing any more refuse tibre in his boom [laughter]. So we may expect that, whatever may come, he will dwell, for much of his time, in Northumberland.
