

POPE MAY ANNUL.

Strange Marriage of a Nova Scotian in New York.

Bride Asked Groom, After the Ceremony, to Return Loan—He Went to Get the Money, But Did Not Return For Some Days.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Within the next few days an order is expected to reach this country from the pope annulling the marriage of Miss Ada Brown to Thomas Mangan, who was for several years an inspector in the department of sewers of the borough of the Bronx.

Mrs. Mangan left this city on Saturday for Texas, where, after establishing a legal residence, she intends to bring an action for the breaking of the marriage tie.

Miss Brown's marriage to Mangan was one of the strangest ever recorded.

The couple were married in the presence of a large number of their friends in the Roman Catholic church of St. Thomas Aquinas, at 177th street and Boston avenue, on January 15 last, by the pastor, Rev. Father Parks. Following the ceremony the couple drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harnett, in Commonwealth avenue, near West Farms road, where several hundred friends gathered to congratulate them. The reception there was followed by a wedding supper and a dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Harnett are the uncle and aunt of the bride, who had made her home with them for many years.

ASKED FOR THE MONEY.

About eleven o'clock, after the supper, the bride, it is said, asked the bridegroom for some money which he had promised to return to her before the wedding. The couple had hired apartments in 165th street, near Boston avenue, and had ordered a quantity of furniture. When this was delivered, it is declared that Mangan said he did not have the money to pay for it.

With him, Miss Brown said she had some money, but made Mr. Mangan, it is asserted, promise to return it to her the next time he called to see her. When she spoke to him about it after the wedding supper he declared he had thoughtlessly left it on his dressing case at his home, No. 731 East 145th street. He sent his brother Lawrence after it, but the latter, returning at midnight, reported that he could not find it.

"I'll go myself," the bridegroom is said to have remarked, and, with the assent of the bride, he called the coach that was waiting to take them to the station, and ordered the coachman to drive him to his home.

Nothing more was seen of him by the bride for four days. Messengers were sent in all directions and to the police stations, it being supposed that he had met with an accident. The bride, surrounded by her friends, including the three sisters of the bridegroom, waited for him to return, and when daylight came and he had not been heard from she became impatient. The bride and the old shoes were laid aside and all departed. Dr. Van Etten, of 117th street and Anthony avenue, was sent for, and for six weeks the young woman hovered on the verge of insanity.

Mangan, dazed, staggered into his father's home two days later, and declared that he had gone into a saloon at 148th street and William avenue, where he had been drugged. Where he had been since then he said he did not know.

WEDDING RING MELTED.

Relations of the bride found him several days later, and insisted upon him calling at the home of the bride. She fainted when she saw him. It is said he made no explanations and did not say anything about the belated wedding tour. She has seen nothing of him since.

Wedding gifts were then returned to the givers, and the wedding ring was given to Father Parks to melt for a part of a new chalice.

Through Father Parks the circumstances surrounding the strange marriage were communicated to Archbishop Corrigan, and by him transmitted to the pope, with a request for the annulment of the marriage. The papal decree absolving the bride from the ties which bind her technically to Mangan is expected shortly.

Mrs. Mangan recently consulted with lawyers, and on their advice went to Texas on Saturday, preliminary to instituting proceedings there. Her parents live in Nova Scotia and are said to be well to do.

"It was the most singular marriage I ever heard of," said Mr. Harnett, the bride's uncle, yesterday. "I cannot understand why the man should have gone through the wedding ceremony and left his bride on the eve of his departure on a wedding trip. Mangan had brought up a map of the state-rooms on the Jacksonville steamer, the intention of the bride and bridegroom being to spend their honeymoon at Palm Beach. She intends to secure both a religious and civil release from Mangan."

FREDERICTON.

Hon. A. F. Randolph Stricken With Paralysis.

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 11.—John Perkins, formerly of this city, where he carried on a large bakery business, died at Houlton yesterday. The remains will be brought here for burial, arriving tomorrow.

The fire department was called out at six o'clock this afternoon for a slight blaze on the highway bridge, caused doubtless, by a cigarette. The damage was slight and traffic was not interrupted.

Fred McGowan, lumber surveyor of the boom company as inspector of the corporation drive. His duties will be to report from time to time as to the progress of the drive.

Hon. A. F. Randolph, who has been ill for over a year suffering from Bright's disease, had a stroke of paralysis at 8 o'clock this morning, becoming speechless, but not unconscious. All the family, his wife, three sons and two daughters, are at his bedside. The daughters, Mrs. D. J. Eaton, and Miss Randolph, were at Halifax, where they had gone to see Mrs. Eaton's husband, Capt. Eaton, off to South Africa. A message of their father's critical condition reached them just in time to catch the special English mail train for St. John. At the latter place a special train was in waiting and they arrived home at six o'clock.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Forrester on Saturday afternoon was very largely attended. The floral tributes from Toronto were among the most beautiful ever seen here and included lovely and costly pieces from the officers of the Royal Canadian Dragoons and Royal Canadian Regiment, from the non-commissioned officers of the R. C. D. men of R. C. D. attached of ficers at Stanley barracks and from a score or more of individual friends.

The pallbearers were Col. Dunbar, Loggie and McDougall, Surgeon Major Bridges, Captains Lister and Forbes. The service was held at the Cathedral. Dean Partridge and Canon Roberts officiated, and interment was made at Forest Hill cemetery.

(Special to the Star.)

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 12.—Mr. Randolph passed a comfortable night, sleeping well and is resting easily today. His condition is unchanged since morning. He is conscious and recognizes those at his bedside, but is unable to speak.

MEMORIAL TABLET UNVEILED.

The Y. M. C. A. of Trinity church celebrated their eleven anniversary last night, when, on their behalf, Charles Robertson, president of the association, unveiled a tablet to the memory of Rev. Wm. Eatough. The tablet, which is of brass with a marble base, is placed at the left of the chancel near the baptismal font and bears the following inscription:

"In memory of Rev. William Eatough, born November 17th, 1861, died May 25th, 1899. Former curate of this church from 1890 until his death. Was organizer and first president of the Young Men's Association, by whom this tablet was erected."

The large congregation assembled filled every pew of the great church. Sermons were conducted by Rev. J. A. Richardson and Rev. W. W. Craig. The sermon to the young men of the association was delivered by the rector.

SCANDAL LOOMING UP.

Disquieting Rumors Affecting the Honor of Canada and Likely to Create a Sensation.

Speaking in reference to the Webb stock flurry, Edward T. Perine, assignee for Lockwood, Hurd & Co. of New York, when seen, said: "The situation looks considerably clearer to me now. I have worked pretty nearly continuously since yesterday morning, with the aid of relays of accountants but we are not yet in shape to make a statement of assets and liabilities and I doubt whether I will be able to give out any statement today."

Thoroughly trustworthy information from Ottawa and Halifax, says a New York despatch, indicates that a political scandal of large proportions will develop in the Dominion out of this Webb-Meyer collapse. It is whispered that the promise of legislation by which the syndicate companies were to receive a special grant of $20,000 per mile involved the distribution of a considerable portion among certain members of parliament. The denials of Mr. Blair, Dominion minister of railways, that any subsidy had been awarded occasioned wide-spread comment in Wall Street.

The event of the closing session of the closing session of the supreme council of the Independent Order of Foresters held in San Francisco, was the presentation to Oronhyatekha supreme chief, of a magnificent gold collar of his 21 years of service. The chain bears upon the links the emblems of the order and the coats of arms of countries where the order is established. The cost was contributed to by every member of the supreme court and the scene when it was presented was one of the greatest enthusiasm.

The Australian delegates entertained Hon. W. H. Montague at dinner, Hon. R. Lee Bryce presiding with the Right Rev. Bishop Riley in the vice-chair. The speakers congratulated the doctor upon the splendid work he had done in Australia and spoke of the great service which the visit had done for Canada.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., May 11.—Mrs. Wm. Snow died very suddenly this afternoon of neuralgia of the heart. She was out yesterday afternoon, and very few people imagined she was ill at all, so that the news of her death was a great shock to her many friends in the community. ## JAMES ROSS DEAD.

The St. Martins Centenarian Passed Away Friday Night.

James Ross, the St. Martins centenarian, was found dead in his bed on Saturday morning. He was almost 112 years old.

James Ross was born at Port Mahon, Pembrokeshire, Scotland, on a short time at Truro and Pictou and in 1812 in a vessel called the Rover, landing at Pictou, N. S. From Pictou he went to Londonderry, N. S., where he worked for about six and a half years with the late Captain Martin, being at that place when the battle of Waterloo was fought. He lived a short time at Truro and Pictou and finally, about 1820, he went to St. Martins, where he has resided continuously ever since.

In 1837 he married Phoebe Amelia Brown, who died in 1888. They had nine children. Of these four are still living, two sons, Jacob and John, and two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Clark and Mrs. Mary Gallan. There are 23 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Mr. Ross was a member of the Presbyterian church. He was a very active man until a year or two ago and was a great smoker. A little over a year ago the municipal council of St. John county presented him with a chair. The deceased spoke Gaelic quite fluently, never having forgotten his native tongue. Mr. Ross never rode in a railway train.

The funeral took place yesterday from the residence of his son, St. Martins, and was very largely attended. The service was held in the Baptist church and Rev. Robert Fulton officiated.

The photograph accompanying this sketch was taken six years ago.

A LIBERAL FIREBRAND.

Urges French in Ontario to Down the English Protestant Fanatics.

The Mail and Empire reports the speech which J. L. Gauthier, a liberal organizer from Montreal, made at Belle River, in North Essex, claiming that the defeat of Ross would be followed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier being forced to resign, and reports his remarks as follows:

"The liberal party is a party of liberty. In Beauharnois we defeated Mr. Bergeron, because he was the leader of the English fanatics and Protestants, and in order that we might teach the Mail and Empire and the Montreal Star that we understand the constitution, and that we are bound to defeat the fanatics who are trying to destroy us. In Essex it is the same. Remember that it is the liberal candidate, and that speaks for itself, for has not that party always fought the Protestant fanatics? When the King of France sacrificed us to England only sixty thousand French-Canadians were left in Canada, but now we have two million in this country, and the same number in the United States, and we invite the English fanatics to try to put us down. Remember that the Protestants are the cause of your increase in numbers, and to put the Protestants down you must be united. Remember that it is the liberal party that has always fought the Protestants and the same party has also chosen one of your number to be premier of Canada. The stubborn stand which Mr. Laurier has taken against Great Britain on political affairs, especially Imperialism, has set the world at large talking, and if Mr. Ross is defeated the opposition will claim that it was due to the stand which the premier has taken on Imperialism. It is not unlikely that within a month after the election the premier may be forced to resign."

Mr. Gauthier concluded his feverish peroration as follows:

"Do not forget that this part of the country is where the French made their stand against England. The conservatives in Quebec ruined Mercier; they drove him to his grave, and now they regret their actions so much that every year they put flowers on his grave and then kneel down and ask forgiveness for their sins against him. Beware that you do not do the same with Ross in Ontario."

As the city grew and the business of the province increased, Mr. McAlpine kept to the forefront with his guide books and directories, until McAlpine's directories were part and parcel of the necessities of a well equipped business office. The business that he inaugurated has been in recent years continued by his sons, who inherited their father's aptitude for this particular line. They have duplicated in the larger field of the maritime provinces, the West Indies and Newfoundland what he first accomplished in this province. Mr. McAlpine was a genial, hearty business man when in his prime and was respected by all classes.

He leaves three sons, Charles D. McAlpine of the Halifax house, H. M. McAlpine of this city, and Dr. L. A.
