AN INTERESTING CASE AT AN-

DOVER.

ANDOVER, Feb. 13.-Considerable interest is manifested over the result of the case of Tibbits v. Porter on appeal to the supreme court. In this case the plaintiff, Alfred Tibbits, a young farmer of this town, had taken a small grist of six bushels of wheat to the defendant's roller mill to be ground. Plaintiff claimed that defendant took this wheat for seed without his knowledge and gave him flour from other wheat. Tibbits sues in the county court and at the July term received a verdict for $10. This verdict Judge Carleton subsequently reduced to $4.50, the actual difference or value.

Against this the defendant, Porter, appealed, with the result that the appeal was dismissed and the verdict sustained. It is understood that some of the remarks passed by the supreme court judges on the defendant's manner of doing business were very severe.

HAD A HARD TIME. Daniel Carpenter of Wickham, had uite an experience, owing to the terrible state of the roads, while driving to market Tuesday. He left home with about 400 pounds on his sleigh and near Kingston Creek missed the road, which one couldn't make out owing to the constant shifting of the snow by the wind. His horse and sleigh became tangled up in the soft snow and before he extricated his rig the whiffletree had been broken and sundry other damage done. He managed to fix things temporarily and get to the city, where repairs were made. He left for home yesterday morning, but with an empty team, claiming it would be impossible to take home a load. Reports from the Belleisle are to the effect that the weight of the snow on the ice is causing it to sag and forcing the water over the banks onto the road, which is thereby rendered worse than before.
