THE UNIVERSITY EXAMS.

GRADUATES, MEDALLISTS AND SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS.

The Pass and Honor Lists in Art and Law—No Dark Horses—Sixty Candidates Plucked—A Successful Lady Student.

The results of the recent examinations in the Arts and Law courses of Toronto University were made known last night. Out of a total of 380 candidates, a larger number than ever before, 58 were rejected, 2 in the fourth year, 11 in the third, 30 in the second, and 15 in the first. Second year Mineralogy and Biology floored a large number. There were few surprises, no "dark horses" particularly distinguishing themselves. The graduating class numbers 70. The lady students acquitted themselves nobly. Miss Eliza Balmer, this year's only girl graduate, sustains her former reputation, alone ranking in first-class honors in all subjects. In the first year H. J. Cody of Galt takes a double scholarship. This is the first examination at which the new University regulation doing away with medals and certain scholarships has been in force. The University commencement to confer degrees and award honors will be held on Wednesday afternoon.

AN OUTRAGE BY ORANGEMEN.

Two Thousand Cowardly Attack a Hundred Navvies—One of the Latter Killed.

BELFAST, June 4.—Two thousand Orange workmen, employed at the Queen's Island ship yards, attacked a hundred Catholic navvies to-day, badly beat them and drove them into the water. Thirty navvies were badly injured, twelve having to be taken to the hospital, and one, a youth named James Curran, drowned. He was the sole support of a widowed mother. Great excitement prevails and a repetition of the rioting is expected.

A Defaulting Cheese Buyer.

LONDON, Ont., June 4.—A capias for the arrest of Alfred Finnemore, cheese buyer, was issued yesterday afternoon at the instance of the Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here. To-day it was generally rumored that Finnemore had fled. It is stated that he is indebted to the Bank of Commerce to the extent of about $23,000. He mortgaged his property in London South, a couple of days ago, for $12,000 cash, which he is believed to have taken away with him.

Home Rule for Ireland.

Editor World: Permit me to make a few remarks regarding the great question of Home Rule. The Protestants of Ulster are acting all along as though they considered themselves a superior people to their Roman Catholic fellow-countrymen, not giving them credit for so much moral principle, judgment or nobleness of aim as themselves, although they do not express this opinion in so many words, nor have they done so directly, but keep denouncing the Roman Catholic religion, priests and leaders; but the Roman Catholics on their part consider themselves, whether rightly or wrongly, of as much account as Protestants, and even more than that, as they are taught to consider the latter heretics; while Protestants profess to acknowledge the equal rights and privileges of Roman Catholics with themselves. This attitude of British Protestantism towards Irish Roman Catholics has, I believe, helped to cause the latter to think that, being by far the majority in Ireland, and being (to use a homely expression) "as good as the Protestants and better," they should be foremost in governing Ireland; therefore, looking at the matter from a Home Rule point of view, Roman Catholics compose, say, two-thirds of the population of Ireland, and are in favor of having an Irish Parliament, and as "most votes carry" it is right that Ireland should have Home Rule; but the Ulster anti-Home Rulers say we are the real majority, not numerically, but in morality, intellect and industry, and we are against Home Rule and partial separation from Britain, therefore we oppose Irish legislation. The question, then, is which party is right? I am of opinion that, considering the religious toleration which British Protestants have shown to Irish Catholics, the latter are not unreasonable in desiring a government which would be agreeable to their wishes, and for a cessation of that government which they consider oppressive. The Irish Catholics are not, I suppose, very anxious to govern Protestants, but if they cannot rule the other three Provinces without including Ulster they don't see why the people of one Province should outweigh the people of three Provinces; at the same time it is doubtful whether Home Rule would be beneficial to Ireland, it might if only "religion" were kept out of politics, otherwise the two elements would be very likely to clash disagreeably, and it does not appear that an Irish Parliament could exist without strong religious prejudice and interestedness, however the votaries of Home Rule disclaim against this suggestion; and it is only fair, humanly speaking, that Home Rule in some shape or form should have a trial. The results could hardly be worse than the increased discontent, outrage and perhaps open rebellion which will be likely to follow should the Home Rule Bill fail to pass.

The Park Laws.

Editor World: I was glad to see your manly editorial on the Queen's Park sumptuary law. Whenever I get my indignation worked up on any public grievance or humbug, you always speak out and exactly voice my views. The coincidence may probably be explained by the fact that we are both very sensible.

Seriously speaking, it seems hard to believe that in a city in America, free from the relics and rubbish of class and feudal legislation, such absurd and tyrannical regulations should be enforced, which destroy the very object of a public park's existence, viz.: to be a place of recreation for the thousands who have not their lawns and pleasure grounds. Further, the 9 o'clock regulation forces me—if I am returning from an evening's visit to a friend in the Avenue road—to walk home by way of St. George or Yonge street, in either case a long walk out of my way. The query of course suggests itself to my mind: Is all this done to keep the common herd away from the residence of Mayor Howland and his neighbors? I think a public indignation meeting should be held, and these few snobs shown that the thousands of hard-working taxpayers insist upon the public funds and property being applied to public uses, and not to the delectation of a few, whom accident has made dwellers in the Queen's Park. VOX POPULI.

Early Closing on Saturdays.

Editor World: I see in to-day's issue of your paper that there is a movement on foot to close the retail dry goods stores at 1 or 2 o'clock on Saturdays during the summer months. I hope that will be carried into effect. All the trades in the city have their Saturday half holidays; but the poor dry goods clerk works longer on that day than any other—usually fourteen to sixteen hours. And why is it so; the majority of tradesmen are paid early in the week and have their money to spend before Saturday night, and could do their shopping earlier without any inconvenience, and thus afford the poor, overwrought clerk a little time for much needed recreation. I think the matter only needs to be brought before the public to enlist their sympathies.

An Attempt to Get Off the Double-Scull Race Results in Failure—Some Good Sport Promised This Afternoon.

Several thousand disappointed people, including many ladies, assembled at the Island yesterday to witness the races on the program for the first day of Hanlan's regatta. The weather was gloriously fine, and splendidly adapted for an outing, but Toronto Bay had a reputation for fickleness to maintain, and right worthily did it maintain it. A strong south-westerly wind blew all the afternoon, making the water a sea of chops, so that except with extremely careful handling no racing boat could live in it. Referee Davis on board the Mascot with the Lieutenant-Governor, members of the press, Ald. Piper and T McGaw, judges at the finish, and Messrs. Chas. Brown and L. J. Cosgrave, timekeepers, W. K. McNaught, starter, Mrs. Hanlan and Mrs. Piper and other ladies as associates or guests, was an anxious man. Time and time again did he steam over the three-quarter mile course, which had been laid from the lagoon at Hanlan's Point towards the Queen's Wharf, in the hopes that the water at the latter point had lulled a bit, but it was all in vain. The wind would not down and the Bay could not but act in accordance with its wilfulness. At length, sick of heart at the delay, and wishing to give the public a race, Mr. Davis decided to call out the double scullers and if they were willing to start to let them go. The water was by no means in fit condition for the venture, but Hanlan and Lee and Hosmer and McKay appeared and consented to take the word. Gaudaur and Hamm sent word that they could not live in such water and would not even enter their boat. In this they were wrong. They should have rowed out as the others did and then the referee could have paid heed to their protest. Coming to him indirectly by a second party Mr. Davis could pay no attention to it. The St. Louis pair declined to pay him the poor compliment of notifying him themselves that they thought the state of things did not warrant a race and, therefore, Mr. Davis could nurse no other course than to allow the others to go. Under the circumstances the rule that the crews should turn their own buoys was altered by general consent to allow them to turn any buoy they wished at their peril. At 6.15 the word was given, and Hanlan and Lee with Hosmer and McKay started on their journey of twice round the course to make the three miles. They had not gone far before it became apparent they were in danger of swamping. Hosmer and McKay dashed boldly through the heavy sea, but Hanlan and Lee picked their way more cautiously and yet at forty strokes or so to the minute managed to take the lead and keep it. Nearing the buoys for the first time each boat shipped a quantity of water. Both turned the second or white buoy, but Hanlan and Lee exhibited great generalship by rowing crossways instead of taking the waves full on. The result was that although well wet they got round safely. Hosmer and McKay, on the other hand, managed to straighten out for home and then their boat began rapidly to fill. Before going another hundred yards they actually swamped and had to be rescued from their perilous position. Hanlan and Lee went on along, cannily and cleverly threading their way. They got round once and were fairly started on the second half of their journey, when, in response to a signal, somebody threw them a sponge to bail out with. Hanlan accepted the friendly aid and relieved his craft of some of its superfluous load. By this means the double contrived to complete the distance set down for the race, but the assistance cost them the award, for immediately on reaching the goal Referee Davis notified them that, as they had accepted outside aid, under Rule 15 of the National Amateur rules they were disqualified. He, therefore, declared the race off, and ordered it to be rowed over again this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the other portion of the program set for decision yesterday will also be proceeded with, leaving probably the final heat of the singles and the consolation race for Monday. If, however, weather and water are favorable efforts will be made to finish the whole regatta. Anyhow some capital sport is promised for this afternoon. Hanlan, it should be mentioned, hospitably entertained those who had the good fortune to be on the referee's boat. It was not the ex-champion's fault if the first day of the regatta did not go, for the management and arrangements were perfect, reflecting the greatest credit on his foresight, exercised, it should be borne in mind, amid the arduous training involved to fit him for the present and coming races.

The Canadian Association Regatta.

The annual regatta of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen is set down to take place at Lachine on Saturday, Aug. 7. The race for the Lachine four-oared challenge cup will come off on the preceding day. Toronto oarsmen do not approve of the date for the regatta. They think that it should be placed at least a week or ten days earlier. The National Association Regatta will be held at Albany July 20 and 21, and the idea is that many competitors in that event would like to take part in the Canadian affair, but that the extra expense and inconvenience occasioned by keeping in training for so long a time as from July 20 to August 7 will debar them. There is a vast amount of wisdom in the contention, and if the Lachine people desire to increase the interest in their regatta they will pay heed to it.

Was Laing Nobbled?

MONTREAL, June 4—Joe Laing, the sculler, states that his reason for not going to Worcester before Friday was simply because he knew the course well, having been there previously. As for the tossing of positions being done by the referee, he explained that the course is such that it matters but little which position is taken by the contestants. The holder of the stakes being the Boston Herald, there ought to have been no difficulty of finding him. Laing indignantly repudiated the idea that anything else beside a genuine contest took place. If there was any foul play it was on the part of the other party. Nothing ever before had gone wrong with him, and he is now taking medical advice. He firmly believes that a job was put up on him.

T. L. C. Practice Match.

The Toronto Lacrosse Club will have a practice match on the Rosedale grounds this afternoon between the following teams, commencing at 6 o'clock sharp:

Mills, Garvin, Bonnell, Drynan, Martin, Coulson, Schofield, Boyd, Sewell, Johnston, Meheary, Wilson, Taylor, Gourlay, Anderson, Cassels, Hays; Captain, F W Garvin.

Stowe, Eckardt, McHenry, Irving, McDonald, Dixon, Coulson, Davis, Schofield, McMaster, Irving, Carmichael, Langley, Donaldson, McBrine, Stewart, Meheary; Captain, W Logan.

A large number of players is desired. Full practices will be held every night next week to practise for the Shamrock match at Montreal on Saturday next.

On the Toronto Baseball Grounds.

The Ontarios will place the following players in the field in the match against the Montreal Club to be played at the Baseball Grounds this afternoon: J Clews, D Clark, M McGovern, W Hall, R McPherson, C Adamson, G M Rose, R Cheyne, J Wilson, A Martin, D Small and E Foley. E J Malone will be the referee and Messrs Brown and Logan umpires. The match will be an exciting one, and the attendance should be large.

SEC. MANNING WISHES TO RESIGN

And in His Letter Strongly Advances Free Trade Views.

WASHINGTON, D.C., June 4.—Secretary Manning has tendered his resignation, but the President declines to accept it. In his letter to the President Mr. Manning, after stating that his health will not bear the strain of the full duty he owes to the President and public, goes on to say: "The reforms in our fiscal policy which you have maintained and which have been framed and commended to the wisdom of the legislative branch, are reforms necessary to our safety, binding in honor, obligatory in the traditions of the democracy, set down with promises in our statute book. All our needful customs revenue might be collected by strictly revenue duties upon a few score of articles instead of by extravagant or prohibitory duties upon more than 4000 articles. The mere machinery of administration, by its own mass and complexity, breaks down and crushes out the enterprise it assumes to protect. Under the operation of the currency laws and tariff laws now in force, which you and the forty-ninth Congress were elected by the people to repeal and reform, the burdened industries of our country are plunging heavily along a miry road toward foreseen dangers. We talk of arbitrating our respective share of disaster, instead of knocking off our self-imposed fetters and releasing general prosperity. This is not in my judgment a time when the President can delay to provide, or afford to dispense with an actual as well as a titular head of the Treasury Department."

Imprisonment for Debt.

ALBANY, N.Y., June 4.—A hearing was had to-day before the Governor in favor of the Bill for limitation of imprisonment for debt. The delegation from the Chamber of Commerce was Erastus Wiman and Charles Watrous, and was supplemented by a Committee from a meeting of citizens composed of Messrs. Leeds, Hawes and Miller. The Bill was opposed by Messrs. Wilder, Ross, Hall and a representative from Long Island City. After a patient hearing of two hours and a half the Governor took the papers.

The Truth for Mr. Blaine.

LONDON, June 4.—The Pall Mall Gazette, commenting on Mr. Blaine's correction of the report of his Portland speech, says: "It is quite in accordance with Mr. Blaine's character to hurl insults and then retract them. Mr. Blaine is a public man, whose support is almost a discredit. He is now posing to gain the next nomination of the Republican party to the Presidency. If he succeeds, it is pretty safe to say that America will repeat the rebuff it gave him two years ago."

Nominations for North Bruce.

TARA, Ont., June 4.—The largest convention ever held in Bruce met here to-day to nominate candidates for the House of Commons and Local Legislature. For the Local J. M. Kilbour received the unanimous nomination. For the Commons there were two candidates named: Dr. Bonnar of Chesley and B. B. Miller of Wiarton. Dr. Bonnar receiving a majority of the votes, his nomination was made unanimous.

A Truckman's Broken Leg.

John Bullen, a Grand Trunk truckman living at 24 Davenport road, was delivering goods at 88 Adelaide street east yesterday afternoon. While unloading a heavy case from the truck it slipped, and coming in contact with one of Bullen's legs it was fractured. The injured man was placed in the ambulance and removed to his home.

The Arts and Sciences.

A glue which will resist the action of water is made by boiling one pound of common glue in two quarts of skimmed milk.

Professor Helmholtz has confirmed the statements of Mr. John Aitkin, that the formation of cloud in saturated air is induced solely by particles of dust.

It is said that stove-pipes may be perfectly cleared of soot by putting a piece of zinc on the coals of a hot fire. The vapor decomposes and carries off the soot.

Copper-plating sheet-iron and steel is a new industry established at Carondelet, Mo. The process in use is an English invention, and the samples show work of superior merit; but whether copper-covered plates can be produced so as to compete with galvanized iron is still a question to be determined.

A new remedy for hydrophobia is reported from Russia. It is the onion-shaped root of the water plantain, which is gathered in August, dried and grated, and the powder thus procured administered to the patient with his food. It is said that two or three doses will cure hydrophobia in its acute stage, and has never been known to fail.

A striking illustration of the value of the camera to astronomy is furnished by the recent discovery of a nebula near the star Maia in the Pleiades. Until photographed at the Paris Observatory this nebula had never been seen with the best glasses, although it has since been detected with the great telescope of the Pulkova Observatory. The Emperor of Brazil now announces his determination to co-operate at the Rio de Janeiro Observatory in the general project of photographing the entire heavens, already begun at Paris with such unexpected success.

Advice to Lord Mandeville.
From Vanity Fair.

I am sorry to see that Lord Mandeville is unable to leave Ireland on account of indisposition; but it is satisfactory to know that his Lordship has retired there fully armed, and with his American experience; and so long as he keeps the shutters up he should be able to hold his own.

Meanwhile the unfortunate cabman whom he requested to bring his revolver from his private house to the cafe where he was dining preparatory to catching the Irish mail, and who inadvertently touched the trigger of the weapon, and thereby considerably frightened a policeman, is being weekly remanded before the Magistrate, charged with the serious offence of discharging firearms in the public streets.

When one goes partridge driving, one might mention, for the noble Lord's future guidance, one does not load both choke bores over night, although one sees the wisdom of Lord Mandeville's action in getting some one else to carry the firearm about when in that state.

All wind!

Some men are swaggering and blowing the whole time about their stores, goods, prices, etc., marking goods in the window at half-cost price, and when a customer purchases and pays—it's—"Oh, I beg pardon, my clerk must have put the wrong ticket on," or—"you see that's how we draw our custom, madam." Its poor policy. There's one place where they buy for cash, sell at small profits and mark goods at the honest selling price. THAT OBJECTIONABLE BY-LAW.

The Second-hand Dealers Hold Another Indignation Meeting.

Between forty and fifty second-hand dealers met in a basement room of Temperance Hall last night to protest against the bylaw requiring them to submit a report of their business to the police daily. The meeting was warm and interesting. When The World arrived upon the scene the air was full of broken German and bad English. Chairman A. Millar made the following statement of their case: "We are going to form an association, to protect ourselves against tyranny. We are co-religionists, known to be loyal to our country, and never interfering in politics or anything else, and here is this iron-clad license forced upon us." He then proceeded to liken the situation to the time when the Egyptians forced the Israelites to make bricks without straw.

The Chairman was rising to the greatness of the subject, when Wolf Simon complained that he was doing all the talking. Mr. Miller stated that he was speaking for the benefit of the press, as the newspapers were their best friends. He appealed to the meeting and was unanimously upheld. When Mr. Simon got on his feet he asserted that Mayor Howland was not the friend of the workingman that in fact he was a Grit. The Chairman—"Oh, no; I don't think so. I believe he's an Independent."

Mr. Simon: "But I'm sure he's a Grit." This momentous question nearly upset the meeting, but they gradually got back to the license again. Several dealers avowed that if the bylaw went into force they would never again assist the detectives in catching thieves.

As a number of those present were anxious to get back to their business, a Committee consisting of J. Fisk, M. Mendles, B. Danson, J. A. Harris and B. Yanover was appointed, and another meeting will be called when a copy of the Bylaw has been served upon each second-hand dealer.

Workingmen Say the Parks Should Be Opened to All.

The Trade and Labor Council held its regular meeting last night. President R. J. Whitten in the chair. J. Webil handed in his credentials as delegate from the Brotherhood of Carpenters. The Municipal Committee handed in its report, which showed that the Committee had not been idle and was attending to the Council's welfare. Delegate Piddington reported as impracticable the establishment of a co-operative yard so as to get coal at first cost. A. F. Jury referred at length to the position of the street car strike. On motion of Delegate Hastings the Municipal Committee were instructed to take action to bring about a repeal of the regulation prohibiting the playing of games in the Parks and requiring that they be cleared at 9 o'clock.

In Memory of Bishop Jamot.

At the meeting of the Separate School Board on June 1, Mr. P. Curran and Mr. James Ryan offered this resolution, which was unimously carried:

Whereas Almighty God, in his inscrutable wisdom, hath been pleased to remove from his episcopal labors an illustrious prelate, the Right Rev John Francis Jamot, first Bishop of Peterboro,

Be it resolved, that we, the Trustees of the Roman Catholic Separate Schools of Toronto, at our first meeting after his decease, beg most respectfully to tender to the Rev clergy and the people of the Diocese of Peterboro this expression of our sympathy with them in their hour of affliction.

That knowing, as we do, the many sterling sacerdotal virtues of the deceased prelate, he having been for many years an honored associate with us, we bow with resignation to the Divine will, and as a mark of our respect for his memory, record this resolution on the minutes of our Board, and request that an engrossed copy be sent to the Very Rev P D Laurent, V G, Administrator of the Diocese.

Signed, F P ROONEY, Chairman.

Sir George Errington Arrives Late at Night.

Just before last midnight a middle-aged, neatly-dressed gentleman, who was puffing mildly but aristocratically at a cigarette, entered his name on the Rossin House register. The new-comer proved to be none other than Sir George Errington, a personage well known in English politics, having been the British Government's emissary at the Vatican when efforts were being made to induce the Pope to fulminate against the National movement in Ireland. For his services on that occasion plain Mr. Errington was in 1885 made Sir George Errington, Baronet. Up to the last general election he represented Longford, Ireland, in the Imperial Parliament.

Sir George arrived by the late train. He is making a tour of the American continent.

The "Growler" at the Island.

The "growler" was out in full force at the Island yesterday afternoon. In rear of the Hotel Hanlan, and into various secluded nooks men were seen to dart and produce well-filled bottles of whisky or other liquor, with which they largely moistened their thirsty throats. One of the officers on duty told a reporter that be counted nine different parties with bottles. License Inspector Wilson said a large steamer tied herself up to one of the wharves opposite the hotel. The bar was thrown open and a lively trade was done for a while. The Inspector says he will summon the parties for violating the Vessel License Act, which prohibits them to sell liquor while in port.

The Scott Act in Peterboro.

Mr. John O'Meara, counsel for eight hotel keepers of Peterboro, at Osgoode Hall yesterday applied in the cases Queen v. Daly and seven others for writs of certiorari to test the local Police Magistrate's conviction of defendants. The ground taken was that defendants were obliged to answer questions criminating themselves; that the order in council declaring the Act in force in the county was prematurely signed; and that in consequence the Act is not yet in force there. The writs were granted and will be argued next week.

Hanlan's Early Career.

—It is said that when Hanlan was 18 months old he fell into Toronto Bay. He swam like a duck (or at least floated like a cork) even at that age. He can row now as well. Hanlan always buys his hat at Dineen's, corner King and Yonge streets. All visitors to Toronto should follow his example. x

EARLY CLOSING OF STORES.

THE DRY GOODS CLERKS ORGANIZE AN ASSOCIATION.

Enthusiastic Meeting Last Night—The Merchants To Be Canvassed—The Saleswomen on the Question.

About 50 dry goods young men gathered in an upper room in Temperance Hall last night to discuss the early closing question. They have come to the conclusion that they are a hard worked—not to say ill-paid and underfed class, and have resolved once more to let their voice be heard on this matter. John McMillan and Charles Booth were appointed Chairman and Secretary by General Consent, and a free and easy discussion commenced which lasted for over two hours. An association was formed and canvassers told off to visit dry goods men and clothiers doing business on Yonge, King and Queen streets, and ask them to sign a requisition to close at 6 o'clock Saturdays all the year round. Some of the more hopeful wished to have the stores close Saturday afternoons at 1 o'clock for the months of July and August, but it was decided not to press this, though it will be mooted to employers. One young man suggested that they should "six quarter" any person who made purchases after the forbidden hour. This term in dry goods slang means "let her go."

While none of the young ladies were present at the meeting they are heart and soul with the boys in the effort to reduce the hours of labor. Some of them yesterday went so far as to offer to hug the reporter if he took their side. They will hold a little caucus of their own some of these days and make themselves heard. The young men will advertise extensively, requesting all parties to do their marketing Friday. Several of the larger firms here signified their willingness to close early if the thing can be made general, and in the meantime the clerks are enthusiastic. They will hold another meeting shortly.

Billy Backus Collared.

"Billy" Backus, alias Frank Roach, was making himself very conspicuous in the crowd at the Island yesterday afternoon. Billy wore a pair of immense goggles, but this disguise did not throw the keen-eyed Detective Burrows off the identification trail. Thinking that Billy was up to no good behind such a pair of properties, the detective nabbed him. At police headquarters a few handy "tools" were found in his possession. Billy is the young man who once attempted to shoot Policeman Mitchell.

Coal Drivers Again on Strike.

The coal drivers in the employ of Patrick Burns held a meeting last night and decided to go on strike to-day. Their complaint is that they are only given a certain time in which to make a delivery, and are docked if they are a few minutes late, no allowance being made for unavoidable delay.
