

MRS. ELIA W. PEATTIE
United States

PEATTIE, MRS. ELIA W. ; journalist and author ; born Kalamazoo, Michigan ; removed to Chicago in early girlhood ; married Robert Burns Peattie, journalist ; reporter Chicago dailies until 1888 ; now literary editor Chicago Tribune ; has written a number of popular works.

PLUMMER, MISS MARY WRIGHT ; Librarian, Director of the Pratt Institute Library School, Brooklyn ; born at Richmond, Indiana ; graduated from the Friends' Academy there. Special student at Wellesley, 1881-2 ; student of Library Science, 1887-8 ; President, New York Library Club, 1900-1 ; Member of Council, American Library Association, 1897 ; United States Delegate to International Congress of Libraries, Paris, 1900 ; President, New York State Library Association, 1906. Miss Plummer is the author of "Hints to Small Libraries," 1894 ; "Verses," 1896 ; "Roy and Ray in Mexico," 1907 ; "Roy and Ray in Canada," 1908.

MISS M. W. PLUMMER
United States

POLLARD, MRS. ALICE, studied Natural Science at Newnham College ; took an Honours' Degree in the Natural Science Tripos in 1883. Married in 1887 Mr. Alfred W. Pollard, of the British Museum. For fifteen years a member of the Executive Committee and twice President of the Association of Assistant Mistresses in Secondary Schools. President of the Women's Institute, London ; member of the Executive Committee of the National Union of Women Workers.

RUUTH, COUNTESS ANNA, Sweden. For many years a delegate of the Swedish National Council, in Stockholm. Has taken a prominent part in philanthropic work. President of the General Swedish Ladies' Association for the Protection of Animals. Was Swedish delegate in the International Finance Committee at the Conference in Geneva, September, 1908. Married Count Magnus Ruuth, Officer and Director-General for the Royal Swedish Pilotage, who died in 1903.

MRS. ALICE POLLARD
England

COUNTESS RUUTH
Sweden