

I am also strongly of the opinion that the men should receive their limbs in England before returning to Canada, unless a man particularly wishes to return to Canada without a limb, and in that case, he should sign a definite statement that he was offered a limb in England, but preferred to have it fitted in Canada.

Yours very truly,

G. C. JONES, Surgeon-General.
Director of Medical Services,
Canadian Contingents.