Carnefac Stock Food

MADE IN CANADA
BY CANADIANS
FOR CANADIANS

Honest Recommendation of Carnefac from any of Canada's leading stockmen and veterinarians, — men known to every farmer, — is testimony carrying conviction and that cannot be gossamed. The following is one of many letters received :

Thomas Shaw, formerly Professor of Agriculture, Guelph, Ont., now Professor at Minnesota State Agricultural College, and Editor of the St. Paul Farmer :

THIS IS TO CERTIFY that the ingredients used by Mr. W. G. Douglas, Winnipeg, Manitoba, in the manufacture of his Carnefac Stock Food have been submitted to me for my opinion regarding their value. I may say with reference to them that I am satisfied they are all beneficial. If properly blended, they should make a splendid tonic for live stock, more especially when the digestion is not in the best working order. They will act as an appetizer, and will also tend to stimulate the digestion, so that when fed to animals not in good condition of thrift, the result should be to quickly improve their condition. I would suppose that this food would be especially helpful in feeding horses in preparing them for spring work, and in putting in tone the stomach of cattle, sheep and swine that have been pushed too hard in feeding. It should also render good service when fed to calves that are not prospering because of indigestion.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 10, 1902.

THOS. SHAW.

Exhibitions are coming on. The winner in the ring must have a purely healthy system. His digestive organs must be working properly, giving heavy flesh and a glossy coat. The most successful leaders testify that Carnefac is indispensable for their production. Ask your dealer for it at once.
