

THE IMPORTANCE OF CANADA CONSIDERED.

MY LORD,

THE conversation I lately had with your Lordship has encouraged me to declare my sentiments to you in writing on the same subject. I with more readiness venture on this task, as I am convinced that no great address is necessary, but only common sense and an impartial relation of facts, to prove beyond contradiction what I then advanced, viz. That unless we keep all Canada we keep nothing. This I think evincible by many reasons,
