Simcoe, Sept. 4.—(From our own correspondent).—School opens to-day. Students at the high school will find the walls of the halls, rooms and class all re-kalsomined and varnished, and the whole building and grounds clean, sanitary and well kept.

Working against great odds, Mr. Thos. Haddow, at the Central public school, has every last corner of the ramified wilderness of rooms, passages and basement, ready for the most critical inspection, and the grounds most attentively kept in order.

The students of both institutions are fortunate enough to catch even the contagion of the janitor's result should in itself be an education in the matter of care, order and protection of common property.

Long Casualty List Yesterday evening we were submitted the following list of dire casualties:

Killed Pte. Gordon Small, 133rd, married, worked with E. F. Best Co. Pte. Harold Diver, 133rd, single, mother lives at 100 Stanley street, father also in France.

Wounded Pte. Russell, 133rd, single. Pte. Joe Taylor. There were two of this name in the 133rd.

Most of these casualties were reported to have occurred about the 17th to 20th of August, we believe. It is the biggest list received here in one day. Most of them appear to be men of Major Jackson's company, and residents of Simcoe.

Public Subscription to I.O.D.E. There was received by the treasurer, Mr. Frank Reid, and not over to the Simcoe Chapter, I. O. D. E. For July, $704.27, for which $196.83 was ear-marked for St. Paul's ladies, and $35 for Belgian relief.

From Overseas Pte. David Cormack, of the first draft from Simcoe, is now working as a cook in England. A letter from a friend who saw him, claims that Dave is doing his best service and working hard.

Press Photographs Mrs. Wm. Burt returned on Saturday from an extended visit with relatives in New York and Saginaw. Geo. Laplant, late of the Harcourt Litho Company, at Toronto, spent Labor Day in town, and will return to Toronto presently in the employ of the Belding-Paul Corticelli Silk Co.

N. J. H. Green of Teeterville was in town Saturday and informs that he has the dam repaired and mill grinding again. Mr. Ernest and Miss Hilda Canning of Galt, visited their uncle, Chief Canning yesterday.

THE ITALIAN ADVANCE

The Italian line on the Isonzo front has been straightened out by the success of the last two weeks. The Austrians have admitted that the Italians have progressed to the east of Auza which is located on the map.

ton visited Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lawrie over the week-end last week. After two years successful work in Delhi, Rev. Thos. L. Armstrong expects to be removed to Sebringville, Perth county.

Mr. Oscar Clarke, accompanied by Mrs. S. Melick, of Dunnville, visited relatives in Norfolk last week. Mr. and Mrs. Robt. H. McHardy of Woodstock were week-end guests with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Shoemaker.

Mr. Andrew McKnight and Miss Marjorie and the remainder of a seven-passenger load of vegetables, from up Teeterville way, attended the annual Labor Day picnic of the Ray family, of Rockton yesterday.

Mr. J. B. Jackson, of Hamilton, lost a purse containing money and other valuables on Norfolk street, last Saturday. The purse was found by Harvey Culver, and the owner located by the police.

Saturday's runaway horse came up Victoria street. With oats a bumper crop the outlook for runaways is quite promising.

Further inquiry regarding the results of Saturday morning's electrical blowing indicate that apart from the blowing of several fuses little material damage was done here. The bolt shot into the Hydro circuit by the primary, and jumped to one section of the service wire, blowing fuses or burning out lights in a few residences. The north side of the pyramidical roof of the tower at St. Paul's will require some repair, the scaffolding to which will be a bigger job than making the repairs.

Constable Pepper, who was shocked by the bolt, felt the effects throughout the day and yesterday.

Most of the women, boys and girls, are keeping in mind Friday's agricultural show. See list of competitors in last week's Canadian.

Port Dover, Sept. 4.—R. A. Barrow, B.A., of Port Dover, has been appointed substitute teacher of classics and history at Simcoe High School. Mr. Messmore being unable to resume work. Mr. Barrow leaves this morning for duty, accompanied by a couple of his children who will attend school there.

Mr. Hugh J. Haviland was engaged by the Board of Education as principal of the high school here. Each of the two previous engagements, one of which we reported a few days ago, proved a slip.

Many were down to the port yesterday, as if saying a last good-bye for the season to the inviting beach.

THREE IN FAMILY HELPED BY TANLAC

"In Every Case it Has Given Fine Results," Says Well Known Piano Man

"It has not only done me a world of good, but my wife and daughter have also been wonderfully benefited and, hereafter, Tanlac is a family medicine at my house." This statement was made recently by Arthur Wakelin, who was for twenty-six years employed by the Heintzman Piano Company, and resides at 52 Park street, Toronto.

"I simply needed a general, all round building up," Mr. Wakelin continued, "and Tanlac has done that very thing. I am getting along in years and I never thought anything could give me such quick and satisfactory results. I had been in a general run-down condition for about a year and while I wasn't sick enough to stay in bed, I just felt like my strength was all gone. I would get up in the morning tired and all fagged out, feeling like it would be impossible for me to do my work, and the least little job would tax my strength to the utmost. I simply felt unfit for anything and knew I needed something to correct my troubles and build me up.

"I was almost obliged to have some confidence in Tanlac after reading such high endorsements, and in just a few days after I started on it I began to feel my old-time vim and vigor returning. I have now taken two bottles and that old worn-out, don't care feeling has left me entirely and I am feeling fine. I get up in the mornings feeling refreshed and brimful of new life and energy, and fit and ready for anything that comes my hand.

"My wife, seeing the good Tanlac did me, decided to try it, too. She had been suffering from a bad case of stomach trouble for several years, and while she tried many different medicines nothing ever helped her until she got Tanlac. She had no appetite and, honestly, I don't believe she ate as much in a week as she has almost lost hope of ever finding anything to help her. Tanlac seemed to get in its work right off and three bottles have straightened her up until she can eat anything she wants without the slightest trouble afterwards.

"After seeing the good it did my wife and myself our daughter began taking it, too, and in every case it has given fine results—far better than we expected. So we are all indebted to Tanlac and hereafter it's going to be a family medicine at my house."

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Milton H. Robertson and Co., Limited; in Galt by M. H. Cooke and Co., in Elmvale by W. J. McGuire; in Leroy by G. R. Ardill; in Stayner by N. B. DURNAN WON Eddie Durnan, champion sculler of America, demonstrated beyond a shadow of a doubt on Saturday afternoon that he is the foremost single sculler when he disposed of John L. Hackett, of Beaudette, Minnesota, by beating him in a three-mile match race for $500 a side on Toronto Bay by approximately a quarter of a mile.

Hackett was the only logical professional contender of the title in sight, but as on other occasions, Durnan won handsily, the big American failed to hold his own with the Hanlan's point sculler. The time of the race was 24 minutes 25 seconds, and Durnan crossed the finishing line just three minutes and five seconds before his opponent.

Durnan was given a great reception as he crossed the line at Hanlan's Point, the start and finish of the race. Joe Wright, was referee, Harry Dibble judge at the finish and James Barry, of Argonauts, judge at the turn. John Guinane and Francis Nelson were the time-keepers.

THE BRANT. In "The Immigrant," heading the holiday bill at the Brant theatre, Chaplin is seen at his best, and Chaplin at his best is no idle word, for the little comedian is capable of rising—and indeed, often does so soar—above the realm of slapstick and knock about farce, to the level of a sublime comedy, tinged even at moments in pathos. Never was his ability afforded more ample scope than in "The Immigrant," and all witnessing this, his last mutual picture, are assured of two reels of genuine artistic comedy, abounding in moments, yet rising above the slapstick standard which measures too many film comedies to-day.

George Behan, in "The Cook of Caynon Camp," offers another of his inimitable Latin characterizations, depicting the semi-comic, semi-pathetic role of an Italian cook in a western mining camp. Francis X. Bushman and Beverley Payne co-star in the latest episode of "The Great Secret," Metro's mystery serial, now nearing its climax.

The Arthur L. Gay trio present a classy black and tan novelty offering, with musical singing numbers of unusual interest and ability. An added attraction for the holiday was the presence of the London Quartette, whose excellent singing afternoons and evening created a great hit with two record audiences.

Rippling Rhymes

Walt Mason

Yes, truly, there are other things than captains, catapults and kings, of which we should be thinking; we all have errands to pursue, and divers things we ought to do, straight, every unshrinking. It's well to talk about the war, of all the carnage I abhor, at quitting time or later, but if I use the boss's time to talk of swords and Beverley Payne co-star in the latest episode of "The Great Secret," Metro's mystery serial, now nearing its climax.
