Mrs. A. F. Falls gave a very pleasant afternoon tea on Tuesday for Miss McPhee, who has been Mrs. J. L. Bray's guest. The affair was a very unique and enjoyable one. Each of the guests made tissue paper hats and prizes were given to the one who made the best one, and the one who made the worst. After much judging and discussion the first prize was awarded to Miss Flossie Butler, and the booby to Miss Edie Ball. The idea was a very clever one and worked out admirably.

RUHLAND-HAVILAND.

The marriage of Miss Lyda Belle Haviland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Haviland, of this place, and Mr. Geo. C. Ruhland, of Milwaukee Wis., was solemnized at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. John W Powers, King street west, on Wednesday, November 29th, 1905, at 5.30 p m., in the presence of immediate relatives and friends, Rev. J. R. Battisby, Ph. D., of St. Andrew's church, officiating. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by Miss A. P. Hampton, of Detroit. The groom was assisted by Dr. T. Thompson, of Wilwaukee, formerly of Chatham.

The house was decorated by Haxter, the color scheme being pink and white. The large bay window in the drawing room where the ceremony took place was banked with palms and ferns as a background for the bridal party.

The bride's wedding dress was of white organdie batiste trimmed with Valenciennes lace, her bouquet being white chrysanthemums. travelling suit was of Alice Her blue broadcloth with hat to match. The bridesmaid wore white batiste over taffeta, Mrs. Powers was also gowned in white, Mrs. Haviland, the bride's mother, wore black crepe de

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served in the dining room which was gracefully festooned with smilax, the table decorations being pink and white carnations.

The bride was the recipient of many handsome presents. Dr. and Mrs. Ruhland left for the vest on the 9.19 G. T. R. train amid showers of rice and good wishes.

DELIGHTFUL RECITAL. "And gave all thy shords to light, reedom and song!"-Moore.

Rarely, if ever, have Maple City overs of music had the good fortune to participate in such a genuinely and delightfully artistic musical melange as that which was preented for their delectation at the Auditorium last evening. 'Twas such a treat as will live long in the memory of the Euterpean diletante, and was greeted by the hearty appreciation of a large and cultured atronage.

To Miss Louise Hillman, the accomplished pianiste who arranged the recital, many encomiums are deservedly due. No greater impetus to the cultivation, development and appreciation of the art of music could be given than that which this young lady and her large class of successful students have, from time to time, been good enough to bring about, in the many memorable musicales they have so happily arranged.

Mr. F. S. Welsman, the celebrated Canadian piano virtuoso, was never heard to better advantage. His exquisite tone, admirable technique, peerless execution and faultless finish were repeatedly evidenced in the classical repertoire contributed, while the many encore numbers demanded provided opportunity to render, with all the artist's perfection, those more familiar standard selections which always appeal to the popular pulse.

Mr. W. Francis Firth was heard for the first time in the Maple City and created a markedly favorable impression. He is a baritone of rare quality and remarkable range and ang with splendid expression. His "Lorraine, Lorraine, Lorree" was especially fine, as was also his spirited rendition of the patriotic ballad, "King Charles."

The accompaniste of the evening was Miss May R. Vondenten, a former pupil of Miss Hillman who is now studying with Mr. Welsman in Toronto. Her exquisite playing bespoke her own accomplishment and the splendid training of her talented teachers. The pramo used throughout was a handsome baby grand Steinway, which was brought from Toronto for the occasion. The Steinway is too well known to need any word of eulogy.

The groom was ably supported by Mig W. G. Mackness, of Eberts. The bride, attended by her father, entered the drawing room to the strains of the wedding march, playstrains of the wedding march, play-ed by Miss Pearl Smith, sister of the bride.

The young couple were the recipients of many useful and handsome presents from friends and relatives. After a sumptious repast the even-ing was spent in music and other amusements, after which the gathering dispersed, and the newly married pair left for their future home on the 8th Con., where Mr. Brooks-bank has a fine farm.

The C. B. C. Literary Society met The C. B. C. Literary Society met last Friday evening and, as usual, was a grand success. After the minutes of the last meeting were read the program opened by instrumental from Miss Lamont, followed by a farewell speech from Mr. Nisbet. Then there was a recitation from Miss Tompkins, followed by Miss Western, and by the manner with which each of those ladies expressed themselves, emphasizing the narts western, and by the manner with which each of those ladies expressed themselves, emphasizing the parts where necessary, the students were convinced that they were well acquainted with the principles of elocution. Now there was a slight change in the program, as the patriotism of the students was aroused by the orchestra, which set the air in motion by the strains of the British Grenadiers. The next selection was a quartet by the Misses Graham and Coatsworth and Messrs. Kropf and Jacksom, which was highly appreciated by all the listeners. Other items on the program worthy of mention was a reading by Miss Skinner, followed by the reading of the College Journal by Miss Logan, and the numerous jokes caused great applause as the shoe generally fitted the foot that was intended to wear it. Last but not least was a short address by Mr. Burlingham, and although taken unawares, he held the audience to perfection. Now as a great number of the selections reaudience to perfection. Now as a great number of the selections received an encore the evening was getting late so the meeting was brought to a close by the National

"Long hours on the engine and the mental strain broke down my constitution." Mr. Rafferty says: "My back gave out entirely. Terrible, sharp, butting pains followed one another, till I felt I was being sliced away piecemeal. I would come in tired to death from a run. My sole desire would be to get rest and sleep, and they were the very things I could not get. Finally I had to lay off work.

I have worn for years. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Dec. 2.-The annual St. Andrew's Dec. 2.—The annual St. Andrew's supper and entertainment in connection with the Erskine Presbyterian church was held on Thursday evening and was a great success. As usual, the tables were loaded with delicacies. After supper the following program was rendered: Invocation by the matter Rev C. Gilmonation and the connection by tion by the pastor, Rev. G. Gilmore, followed by the Erskine quartet, Misses McPherson and VonGunten, and Messrs. J. D. McPherson and P. Misses McPherson and VonGuntes, and Messrs. J. D. McPherson and P. Haggart, who sang Lass O Gowrie, followed by the singer of the evening, W. F. Firth, of Toronto, who delighted the large audience present; also did Miss Jean McGregor in the reading of the easay written by her and which won the first prize among the competitors for The Planet gold medal. The only address of the evening was given by the Rev. A. H. MacGillivray, the popular pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Chatham, whose short and pithy address was much appreciated. The accompaniste for the evening was Miss May VonGunten. The proceeds for the evening amounted to about $170.
