POOR QUEBEC!

A word of warning may be in order just at this period of post-war depression, for the signs of the time point to an effort being made to urge Governments to enrich their treasuries by debauching the citizenship. Heralded throughout the Dominion of Canada, have been reports of millions of money flowing into the Treasury of the Province of Quebec from the free sales of intoxicants, a condition which has attracted tens of thousands of people from Canada and the United States, and has been instrumental in having the City of Montreal termed the "City of Conventions", in which nearly all conventions will be held and to accommodate which, many hotels are being enlarged and a new nine million dollar hotel is under construction. It is said that some of this money will be spent to improve roads and highways. Possibly this may be done, but only to enable tourists in their limousines to speed uninterruptedly into their city to spend their gold and satiate the unnatural and depraved tastes and desires. The reports of immense revenues are spread broadcast throughout the land and the same source of revenue is being seriously considered by other Provinces at the present time. Not a word is advertised about the disregard for law, the wholesale violation of all civil and moral law, the mysterious deaths, the broken and sad hearts and blasted hopes and ambitions. Picture houses open all day Sunday and in fact everything that would tend to make the territory a blot on the map of our fair Dominion.

In Quebec, "The government has established one of the biggest liquor businesses in the world. It consists of 14 warehouses, 59 liquor stores and three postal delivery services, with 915 employees and a monthly payroll of $71,000. The sales from May 1 last to January were $9,325,727.41, with an anticipated surplus next May of over $4,000,000." The business is growing from month to month. Think of conditions with the whole province made a rumshop under the government!

ARBUTUS

Last night at dusk it came to me;
 I heard th' postman's strident ring,
 Then found this wonder and delight—
 A fragile, fragrant box of Spring!

Pale blossom from the northern woods,
 Elusive pink or lustrous green,
 As delicate as butterflies,
 All iridescent glow and sheen.

Cool fragrance from the northern woods,
 How may a mortal understand
 The mind that dreams you into life,
 Then laid your beauty in my hand!

Oh, I remember hills and woods,
 And perfumed winds that wildly blow
 Across the purple mountain tops,
 And song of wind and river's flow!
 Continued

And I remember melodies,
 The lilting joys that laugh and sing,
 Young Love in April, unafraid,
 Awake and bent on blossoming!

A magic wand has waved for me;
 I see the wood, the fairy ring,
 And then, pink, fragile, like a bride,
 The lovely, luring Soul of Spring!

—Elizabeth Newport Hepburn, in The New York Times.

WHAT'S THE ANSWER

If you were a telephone girl and was at a switch board in a rush hour, and if some one took the telephone receiver off the hook when there were forty other people doing the same thing within a minute, and if that person having waited ten seconds should ask if you were asleep, how would you like it?

If you were a telephone girl and you had eighteen telephone wires with plugs at the ends inserted in eighteen connections to enable thirty-six people to talk, and there were seven of these close together and a couple of people hung up their phones and you pulled out of the maze the wrong wire and cut two people off from talking, would you think it fair if either of the victims swore a little and asked if you were out late last night?

If you were at the switchboard and some one asked for a connection and the person desired did not answer the telephone, and if the party calling rattled the receiver rapidly, instead of slowly, as he should, and the rattling of the phone hook did not register in the office and if after a while he did get into communication with you, would you like him to ask you if you thought you were enjoying a "pink tea"?

It would, no doubt, do us all good to put ourselves in the other persons place when ever we are inclined to find fault with public service. The employees generally do their work as well as they can. —G. B. Gazette.

Lord Shaughnessy says it isn't so that he will be governor-general of Ireland. He is right if he intends fulfilling his intentions of spending his life's twilight in "tranquility and peace."

HAT SHOULD SUIT FIGURE.

To stand before a full-length mirror is a distinct help in selecting a beaming hat, as in this way the figure is suited as well as the face. For instance a woman with broad hips cannot wear a narrow-brimmed hat, while a good-sized brim will balance the figure. Some times a trimming such as broad loops of ribbon extending out past a narrow or medium brim will accomplish the same effect as a broad brim.

About the best advice we can give at this time of the year is: When you get ready to take off your winter underwear, leave it on.

Is Now a Healthy Boy

"From a puny, delicate child, my little Johnny has become a strong sturdy boy."

One mother writes—"If you had seen my little Johnny four months ago and you were to see him to-day, you would never believe that he is the same boy. Then he weighed only 49 pounds. To-day he weighs 90 pounds, almost double what he weighed four months ago. His trouble first started with a cold, which we never noticed because he was strong and like all boys of his age occasionally caught cold. After a while we began to notice that his cough, instead of getting better, was getting worse, that he was looking pale and losing weight. He seemed to be tired all the time, had no energy to do anything. Before he caught this cold he had no trouble with his lessons and remained at the head of his class without much study. But we began to notice a change. He didn't seem to care whether he knew his lessons or not and nothing seemed to interest him. He coughed so much and so hard at times that his face would become purple and we thought he would surely burst a blood vessel. Medicines and cough mixtures didn't do him any good. Finally, in desperation and as a last resort, we tried Carnol. In a short time his cough had almost disappeared. His appetite was returning and he was beginning to take an interest in his studies. And, thanks to Carnol, he has become as strong and healthy as he has ever been."

Carnol is sold by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it has not done you any good, return the empty bottle and he will refund your money. 1-122
