Park on Saturday.

Some Fair Racing and Game of Football on Side.

The Dundas and North Wentworth fall fair closed on Saturday afternoon fall fair closed on Saturday are to and the directors have every reason to feel satisfied with the large crowds which thronged the Dundas Park. The receipts showed that the crowds attending this year were larger than for a number of years. There were a number of good a-tractions on Saturday, the most interesting being the horse racing. The first event was the farmers' green driving horse race, and it was in three heats. result was as follows Miss Philadelphia Springs1

In the mile flat race, Draco beat Dan Kelly in three straight heats. Little Min-nie threw her jockey and was disqualinie threw her jockey and was disqualified.

There was lots of excitement in the pony race, at a half mile, and Elsie won out, beating Nimble Dick, Floss, Starlight and Fly.

The football game between Dundas and Waterdown was witnessed by a large crowd. Dundas has an exceptionably eithor team this year, and what they did with the Waterdown boys was a shame. The score at the end of the game was 28—0. Dundas had its own way throughout the whole match, and pushed Waterdown all over the field at will. The line up was:

Chiffon Calling Gown.

Grey chiffon broadcloth is used to make this calling gown. The jacket is tucked, and shaped bands of the same, finished with silk ornaments, and are used to trim both jacket and skirt. The edges of these are left as cut, and the stitching leaves about three-quarters of an inch free. The skirt has extensions over the shoulders, which are trimmed with folds and knots of grey satin, and a girdle of this shows below the bolero.

PLANS A BUREAU FOR ESCORTS.

WOMEN VISITING NEW YORK MAY HIRE CHAPERONES' TOO.

Scheme is to Employ Young Men Who Are Working Their Way Through College and Gentlewomen Who Need Employment-Messenger Boy System Fails.

There is a new idea in town. It is only an idea as yet, but by the begin-only an idea as yet, but by the beginning of next month it promises to be an organized bureau.

"Our object is to give the young men who come to New York to work their way through college an opportunity to earn money by acting as escorts to the thousands of women who visit the city for the purpose of seeing the sights," declared the woman who, if she didn't a ctually evolve the idea, is now busy planning to carry it out. "Most persons seem to think that the women who stop in our women's hotels do so because they wish to show their independence of men and conventions. There never was a greater mistake. They do it from a timidity more than any other reason.

"They want the comforts of a hotel with the privacy of a boarding house. If they were as independent as some persons try to make it appear why should they object to going to any first class hotel? When they reach New York as a rule it is so different from anything they have ever seen or known that at first they are appalled, and if they stay long enough the majority of them only overcome this feeling sufficiently to go to places and see the sights immediately around their locality.

"As for going out at might, why, there are thousands of women who come to new York year after year and never go out after dark. They have no men friends to take them out to places of interest and they are too timid to trust themselves with messenger boys or to go, to places and see the sights immediately around their locality.

"As for going out at might, why, there are thousands of women who come to never a aiming to reach. We will estable to places and see the class of women we are aiming to reach. We will estable them out to places of interest and they are too timid to trust themselves with messenger boys or to go, out alone. Those are the class of women we are aiming to reach. We will estable to place a mining the place of them to whom it has a chaperon as well as an escort.

"While our plans are not entirely perfected we expect to have expect to have expect to have expect to ish a bureau to supply escorts and chaperons, if necessary. In the case of young girls who have come to the city alone or who have no older woman to go out with them we shall require them to take a chaperon as well as an escort.

"We shall investigate the character of each young man before putting him on our list. He must be a gentleman, vouched for by responsible persons, and he must have suitable clothes. One objection that many women have to going to public places escorted by a messenger boy is his clothing.

"Then, too, our escorts must be informed about the places they are to attend. They must, be able to interpret a grand opera, a French or German play, and above all they must be thoroughly posted in the etiquette of the occasion. They must be able and ready to tell the ladies under their charge what to do and how to do it.

"Take the rule that excludes the unattended woman from our best restaurants. There has been so much said about it that now the visiting woman never thinks she can enter any public restaurant after dark without the escort of a man. Think how much a person coming from our smaller cities misses in not being able to go to some of our best dining places after the theatre or opera. "It was only the other day that I was visiting a friend who lives in a woman and he whole place bearing the stamp of the woman, and imagine my surprise when all lights turned off and the whole place bearing the stamp of after hours.

"When the been the sum of the dead of the woman from our smaller cities misses in not being able to go to some of our best dining places after the theatre or opera."

"It was only the other day that I was visiting a friend who lives in

New York after dark. Imagine what one's impression must be of New York who has never seen Braodway lighted. There are many women in the same boat. Those are the women in the same boat. Those are the women we expect to accommodate. They are able and willing to pay for the escort of a gentleman, though they are too fastidious to care to be taken out by the average messento be taken out by the average messenger boy.

"Where will we get our chaperons? Oh, from the women's hotels, principally. There are a number of women past their youth, women of social standing in their day, who, now in reduced circumstances, will be only too glad to earn a few dollars a week so pleasantly. And what could be more to the taste of a refined elderly woman than chaperoning well-bred girls through a sightseeing trip in New York? It seems to me an ideal occupation for such women, and several of them to whom I have broached the subject agree with me.

"While our plans are not entirely perfected we expect to have everything in working order by the hearings of the

RECEPTION BY OWEN SOUND

GRIT AND TORY PAY TRIBUTE TO

Mr. James McLauchlan, a Former Con servative Candidate, Pays Mr. Mac-Kay a Graceful Compliment—Mayor Kennedy's Speech and Mr. MacKay's

Owen Sound, Sept. 21.—That the citi a resident during the greater part of his life, and of his native township of Syden ham, appreciate the honor conferred up ham, appreciate the honor conferred upon Hon. A. G. MacKay, K. C., M. P. P., was abundantly in evidence to-night in the spontaneous welcome home that was tendered him. Hon. A. G. MucKay thought of arriving quietly in Owen Sound by the noon train, but the citizens decided otherwise. Accordingly he was met at Rockford station by Messrs. Matthew Kennedy, Mayor; John G. Hay, President of the North American Chair Company, and F. W. Harrison, President of the John Harrison & Sons Company, and driven to the residence of Chair Company, and F. W. Harrison, President of the John Harrison & Sons Company, and driven to the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Neil McDonald, Reeve of Sydenham, where the afternoon was spent. In the evening at the outskirts of the town he was met by a procession led by the city band and the pipers. After parading the streets, as many as could gain admission crowded into the Town Hall.

Mayor Kennedy stated that on the 9th he as Mayor had the pleasure of welcoming Mr. R. L. Borden, K. C., M. P., leader of the Opposition in the Dominion House, to Owen Sound. Tonight he congratulated Mr. MacKay on occupying the second position in the Provincial Legislature. The citizens of Owen Sound, regardless of their party leanings, were pleased with the honor so unanimously conferred upon Mr. MacKay by his fellow-members.

Mr. James McLauchlan, who was twice standard-bearer for the Conservative party as a Dominion candidate, made a very neat congratulatory speech. The citizens of the town, regardless of party, were glad to watch Mr. MacKay's onward progress. This honor, he hoped, would be followed by still further and higher honors. Mr. MacKay's onward progress. This honor, he hoped, would be followed by still further and higher honors. Mr. MacKay was a native-born citizen of the adjoining township of Sydenham, and distinctly a self-made man. Since coming to town he has been one of our leading and most respected citizens. He was deserving of the honor conferred upon him by his fellow-members, who best knew his work as a Parliamentarian. He had a united town behind him in wishing him all successs. The speaker had been at the Legislature a great deal during the least two easines and paragnets. ing him all successs. The speaker had been at the Legislature a great deal dur been at the Legislature a great deal during the last two sessions, and personally knew that Mr. MacKay was Hon. Mr. Graham's right-hand man during the last session. The citizens of Owen Sound were proud of the honor conferred upon their follow-citizen. Mr. MacKay was an honor to Owen Sound, and the citizens generaly wished him all success.

citizens generaly wished him all success.

Mr. J. P. Raven spoke briefly. He congratulated Mr. MacKay on his elevation to so honorable and distinguished a position in the Provincial Government. Mr. MacKay was honored by the position, but they all knew he would do honor to the position.

Mr. James C. Keenan, Vice-President of the Board of Trade, tendered his congratulations. Mr. MacKay had succeeded by his own efforts. He was a self-made man, a citizen of whom they were all, regardless of politics, proud, and he had no doubt that in the future, as in the past, the town would give as in the past, the town would give Mr. MacKay the encouragement he so well deserved.

Mr. MacKay's Reply.

Mr. MacKay the encouragement he so well deserved.

Mr. MacKay's Reply.

Hon. Mr. MacKay received rousing cheers as he rose to speak. After some happy introductory remarks, he said that he had hoped the choice of leadership might have fallen on other shoulders. There had, however, been a unanimous decision among his fellow members on the question, hence his acpectance. He was particularly gratified at the kindly references made of him and his Parliamentary work by the Conservatice and independent press. It was indeed extremely generous of Mr. McLauchlin to voice the sentiments of those politically opposed to him in such kindly words. He warnly thanked his Conservative friends for such a tokeof good fellowship, publicly expressed. As the Mayor had stated, the speeches should be non-political, and he certainty would not trespass. Mr. MacKay, proceeding, dealt at some length with the important work of the local Legislature, dealing as it did with such all-important, subjects as education, agriculture, for est, lands and mines, etc. He felt so gratified at the kindly things Mr. Meauchlan had said that he jocularly remarked that possibly the law might be changed so as to allow two representatives for a riding, and if so he would be delighted to have Mr. McLauchlan as a running mate. He closed a felicitous and non-partisan speech by advocating more independence in politics, and, above all, fairness and honesty in all public discussions, whether upon the floor of the House or on the hustings.

PROTECTION FOR GAME FISH.

New Regulations Issued Applicable to Mr. McLauchlan leaver with the end of the year if I can make them hones and honesty in all public discussions, whether upon the floor of the shock. It was unfortunate, as it was so deeply engrossed in lauding the virtures of the Opposition.

PROTECTION FOR GAME FISH.

New Regulations Issued Applicable to

New Regulations Issued Applicable to Whole of Canada.

Whole of Canada.

Ottawa, Sept. 22.— An brder-inCouncil has been passed adopting new fishery regulations applicable to the whole of Canada. One provision stipulates that no person, other than a British subject, shall angle for or take any game fish in Canada without having first obtained therefor an angler's permit, issued by the local fishery officer in each district, under the authority of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, except in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, where such permits are issued under the authority of the Provincial Governments. Each person, not a British subject, is to pay for such a permit a fee of $5.

The export of black bass or speckled trout is absolutely forbidden, and those fish cannot be offered for sale until June, 1909. This is a somewhat drastic provision, but is in line with the repeated representations of anglers who desire to preserve two of the chief game fish of Canada.

EDITORIAL OPINIONS ON QUESTIONS OF THE DAY.

(The Canadian Gazette.)

Municipal Socialism.

(The Canadian Gazette.)

Mr. Barrett, in the introduction to his book, "Canada's Century," says, "no such extreme of municipal Socialism as exists in England has yet been reached," but "a tendency that way needs to be curbed if the Dominion would not stuttify its progress and its chance of securing English capital. Municipalities," he adds, "can scarcely expect to borrow money freely here for schemes intended to compete with private enterprise." He has in mind, he tells us, "a growing city [probably Winnipeg] with a splendid power scheme now installed that drives electric cars and oftherwise supplies all local needs; but these idealists are forcing on a scheme of municipal electric power whilst citizens have reason to complain that water is imperfectly supplied." Doubtless the point is well taken, and the warning is one that can generally be given with profit to progressive young communities.

(Monetary Times.)

The Mayor of Vancouver is an interesting gentleman. This week he afforded us the skeleton of an excellent diplomatic farce. Nine hundred Hindus arrived in Vancouver. The sight of their turban heads called for mayoral action. So a wire was sent to the Prime Minister, asking whether they should be housed in the drill hall at the Government's excense, and giving the impression that pense, and giving the impression these swartuy giants were paupers. which Sir Wiltrid Laurier replied they were paupers the law required they be deported. Presumably, after much weighty consideration, Sir Wilfrid was informed that the much-discussed Hindus were not poverty stricken. Indeed if they had been blessed with the white if they had been blessed with the white man's trouser pocket, they could have brought forth therefrom, between them, some twenty-five thousand dollars. And the Prime Minister was glad to hear that the combined wealth of the Hindus was sufficient to establish the claim of an asaspiring Croesus. Which, altogether, was an excellent exhibition of diplomatic swordsmashin. The Mayor of Vancou. swordsmanship. The Mayor of Vancou-ver is doubtless chagrined at his failure to create, what the theatrical fraternity term, a "situation."

Aylmer, Sept. 22.—"The greatest day this church has ever known," is way a prominent Aylmer Episcopalian, in speaking of the beautiful service this morning, characterizes the Bishop of London's visit to the church. Hundreds had to be turned away from the service, and by 10 o'clock enough people were already awaiting admission to pack the building to the doors. At 10.30 the doors were opened, and in a remarkably few minutes the church was packed so that no more standing room was available. Rev. A. F. Winnington-Ingram chose for his text for the morning the 23rd verse of the sixth chapter of St. Matthew: "Where your treasure is there will your heart be also." in speaking of the beautiful service this

He said he wished to speak, not as he He said he wished to speak, not as he had spoken to some gatherings in Candada, but as to his own people in London, simply, modestly and most earnestly. Through conversion only can we lay up treasure in heaven. And what are the tests of conversion? First of all, are we trusting anyone have God from recovery. tests of conversion? First of all, are we trusting anyone but God for our conversion? If not, He is our treasure. We must believe in the sufferings of God Himself. Our aims must not be to be rich or popular, or to satisfy our own lusts, but to be like Christ, Prayer, too, is a great essential, and therefore our treasure. We must all have a standard, and what better than Christ Himself.

Christ Himself.

In concluding, the Lord Bishop said:
"If you can stand this fivefold test, lift up your heart, rejoice, rejoice, you have the treasure of the world. Let us not lay up treasure on earth, but rather in heaven, and our hearts shall be right toward God."

the pet of a wealthy woman, yesterday got into the double-fenced enclosure in which four alligators are kept in the city park. When the dog barked at the reptiles one of them snapped the pet up, and the four attractions made a meal of him.

The Board of Public Works to-day decided to put leather muzzles on the reptiles in order that they may be able to eat small pieces of meat, but unable to masticate dogs.
