Our Awakening.

We thought we had them "skinned a wore a self-complacent smile We had our fun for quite a while;

Then we woke up!

We spread our colors on our breasts, We'd show them just what team was best, hungered for this final test; -Then we woke up!

We pointed to the cup with pride, We'd hang our colors on the side, We had the whole thing cut and dried; —Then we woke up!

We smiled, as when the crowd applauds, We swore we'd win, by all the gods, We searched our jeans and gave th odds;
-Then we woke up!

We thought our halves would make 'em fade,
Our tricks would put make 'em fade,
Our tricks would put me in the shade,
Of course, our wings had them dismayed;
—Then we woke up!

We took our bands and learned our songs,
We hammered pans and pounded gongs,
We crowded stands with cheering throngs;
-Till we woke up!

We liked the players on our team,
We like them yet, they are the cream,
But all the rest was just a dream;
—And we woke up!

A GOOD RACE.

McCuaig Did Well Under Very Bad Conditions.

Papers from Berwick, Pa., received here to-day tell of the game bid made. by Don McCuaig, the Ninety-First Highlanders' fast ten mile man, to win Highlanders' fast ten mile man, to win the Marathon event there on the American Thanksgiving Day. After running well up in the first division throughout the race, McCuaig finished fifth, and just ahead of Harry Williams, who rancighth in the bay race here in Octobers. The winner of the Berwick event was Louis Tewani, one of the Carlisle Indians who captured all but two of the fourteen prizes. Tewani ran a remarkable race. The mountainous course, at little shy of ten miles, was covered by him in 54 minutes 16 seconds, under the most frightful weather conditions. Mud most frightful weather conditions. Mud and slush were ankle deep and a biting wind drove the snow in the faces of the runners. Tewani clipped over five min-utes off the course record. An effort will be made to bring him and some of the other runners here for the Christmas other runners and Day race.

The Berwick papers give McCuiag credit for running a game race and say liewas loudly cheered as he finished.
