THURSDAY EV'G, NOVEMBER 7.

ERIM ITEMS.—The hurricane on Sunday and Monday was very severe in Erin, a cottage put up by Mr. John Sibley of the village, and partially built was blown down, many fences were also levelled. The Drill Shed is nearly completed under the contractor Mr. Duncan McMillan. Every one says it is a very fine building. McMillan. If fine building.

ABERFOYLE PLOUGHING MATCH.—This match will be held on the farm of Mr. John McKenzie, lot 22. 7th Con. Puslinch On Friday the 16th Nov. when the following prizes will be given —Mens' class, $4, $4, $3, $2 and $1. Second class, $5, $3.50 $2, $1 and 50cts. Third class, $4, $3, new neckyoke for third prize, $1 for fourth, and 50cts. for fifth.

ACCIDENT.— We regret to learn an accident occurred to Mr. Alex McConachie Guelph Township, on Monday last, by which he was badly hurt. He was hauling in turnips when the horses ran away, pitching Mr. McConachie out of the cart on to a lot of stones. He was injured in the back and side, and is now confined to his bed. We hope he will soon recover.

a man whose name we could not learn was found dead on the road side in the north-east corner of Eramosa, near the town line. Dr. Lightbody held an inquest on the body, Dr. Munro of Fergus making the post morten examination. The verdict returned was that he had died of disease of the heart. Deceased had some time before worked for Mr. Henry Duffield, and at the time of his death was looking for employment.

TEA MEETING.—The Primitive Methodist Tea Meeting took place in the church on Tuesday night, when upwards of 300 people attended. The refreshments were of the best, and served in great abundance. Able and interesting addresses were given by the pastor, Rev. Wm Wood, and Rev. Mcsers. Clarke, Howe and Griffin, of Guelph. The singing during the evening enlivened the proceedings greatly.

FIRE AT MOUNT FOREST.—On Friday night last a fire started in Richd! Poyle's blacksmith shop, adjoining the rillage, on the north, from one of the forges, and destroyed about one half the building, consisting of the north side of the shop, including the roof. As soon as the alarm was given a large number of persons hastened to give their assistance, and owing to the strong wind they found serious difficulty in checking the flames. Altho' the building was not costly, the owner is put to much inconvenience and loss for repairs.

NEW FANCY GOODS Evening Mercung. THE ARTS EXHIBITION.

Mr. Wilkie is the next contributor to the exhibition whose articles we have to notice. He sends a small petrified horn, a piece of coral and some other curiosities, a sample of beautiful cone-work, some hair work, and stuffed birds. One of the hair work, and stuffed birds. One of the latter is very pretty.

Mr. John Saunders, of the G. W. R. sends some specimens of his patient ingenuity in the shape of two canes, a picture frame, and a toddy ladle, all uniquely carved, and what shows still further the ability of the carver is the fact that he used no tool other than a jack-knife.

Mr. J. Smith sends a case of shells, and pretty pebbles, and a case of other curiosities.

Mr. Joshua Kribs contributes a fine old Art. Joshua Kribs contributes a inte oil painting illustrative of a scene in the life of Christ, besides a stone thimble which was once the property of some of the Cape Croker Indians. It is somewhat clumsier than the silver thimbles in use among our ladies, still it must have cost the maker considerable time and trouble to fashion it so symmetrically as it is.

among our ladies, still it must have cost the maker considerable time and trouble to fashion it so symmetrically as it is. There is a small cavity at the top in which the needle is inserted, thus preventing the possibility of its slipping off the smooth surface, which without this provision would very often be the case.

Mr. John A. Davidson, of Eden Mills, has sent some articles, which probably will long be heirlooms in the family. These are a small likeness, set in gold, of Alex. Davidson, his father, who was acting lieutenant on board the Temeraire man-of-war, at the battle of Trafalgar, and a medal which his conduct won for him on that occasion. He has besides a skull cap, which once belonged to Col. Mosby, a guerilla chief in the late American war, but which was taken from his head by a young Canadian.

Mr. Wm. Kennedy sends imitations, in wood, of the monument designed to be erected to Lord Clyds, of St. Andrew's Church, Guelph, and of Bell Rock lighthouse; also a bird cage, without a single wire.

Dr. Clarke contributes some fine old wire.

Dr. Clarke contributes some fine old pictures from Hogarth. These have been placed close by those of the same artist, which are owned by Mr. Blair, and as the framing and general appearance of the pictures are the same, they look very well, and together form perhaps the most valuable little group in the whole building.

Mr. John A. Wood sends fourteen engravings and paintings. "Gloria Patri," and the "Holy Watchers at the Tomb, are truly magnificent engravings; and the colored photographs in their neat frames look handsome indeed.

Mr. Gibson sends a fine engraving illustrative of a cricket match in Australla, between the All England Eleven, and some of the Australian cricketers.

Mr. Ingles sends five plates illustrating various kinds of machinery.

Mr. George Murray sends some handsome picture frames (cone work). Mrs. Furness sends a fine engraving representing Columbus propounding his theory of the new world, and Miss Keebles sends a pencil drawing.

Mr. James Hodgert contributes alto-

Steers and heifers, two or three years old, made up were as usual quite a large number of yokes of working cattle, and as usual heifers, two or three years old, made up were as usual quite a large number of yokes of working cattle, and as usual heifers were worth notice this time, which they seldom are. It is well known of what class the animals of this species that are are offered for sale here, generally are, but we noticed on the ground at this fair several horses that would be no diagrace to any farmer's stable. We did not learn of any business having been effort of the weight, and the best that was offered going for no more than $4.25. collection of oil paintings and engravings. One of the former is a family portrait, and one of the latter is "the Royal Family" of England, a most beautiful picture of Royalty in its hours of retirement.

Mr. P. R. Brodie sends two oil paintings, family portraits.

Dr. Cowan sends some drawings illustrating the anatomical structure of various parts of the human body.

Mrs. Gouck and Miss Wright send each some well-finished samples of wood work. Mrs. F. W. Galbraith also sends a very pretty specimen.

Mr. Guthrie sends a very nice collection of pictures. One of them is a photograph, showing Guelpha si twas in 1837.

Mr. Cormie sends two portraits in most elaborately carved frames.

Dr. Howitt contributes some pictures in oil, and a few pencil drawings.

Mr. R. Mitchell sends a steel engraving, the "Red and White Rose," a fine steel engraving of Gen. Lee, a handsome lithograph, and a photograph taken from the original painting, of Telemachus relating his adventures to Calypso.

Mr. James Anderson, Puslinch, sends a valuable oil plainting representing a ship at sea, a rare collection of ancient coins, and an autograph letter from Pope Leo XII, to Mr. Anderson's father.

Thus we have described, so far as we were able to ascertain the owners] what we considered the most worthy works of art, or the most curious of the curiosities which met our view. There are two or three saperb engravings, such as the "Trial of Stafford," whose position precluded the possibility of our finding out the names of the individuals who were the fortunate possessors of these treasures of art, that have not, for this reason, been mentioned. With these exceptions we believe we have noticed all the most prominent and rare or valuable articles on exhibition, and if any have been omitted we shall be happy to mention them.

Hayl. It is rumored that the Cambel has negotiated a loan of $200,000 in London.

The steamer Eagle, from New York, had arrived at Havana. She reports having met the steamer Hendrick Handsen with her machinery disabled, and towed her one night, but in the morning her hawser parted and the Hendrick Handsen went on the rocks. Vessels have been sent to her assistance, and it is expected she will be got off. The Herald's Havana special says the steamer Elder, from Vera Cruz, Nov. 2nd, has arrived here. Santa Anna is on board and is on his way to St. Thomas. The Elder brings news that the court which was so lenient as to exile the old fellow, has been in turn imprisoned. The election of Juarez is now reported doubtful. Should he come out victorious, it is said that there will be a revolution within two months.
