Lead-Steady. CHICAGO. Chicago. July 20.—The influence of the continued decline in the New York stock market

tinued decline in the New York stock market was the principal bear argument used in wheat today, the options opening in a debilitated manner. However, considering the adverse influences, the market ruled fairly strong. Corn, with everything else in the speculative market, showed a decline, and was assisted in its downward tendency by the favorable weather conditions for that grain. The transactions were light. Oats declined, the heavy offerings of commission houses, it is said, helping matters along. The transactions from a buyer's standpoint were not remarkable. Provisions were weak.

The leading futures closed as follows:

BULLETS FOR BRICKS.

Another Shooting Affray in Cleveland, Growing Out of the Strike.

Cleveland, July 21.-Another shooting affray took place at the Brown Hoist-ing Works late last night, caused by the strikers or their sympathizers throwing bricks and stones at soldiers from behind places of concealment. One picket was hit and knocked down. Getting up, he discharged a shot into the yard whence the brick came. On hearing the report several soldiers came to his assistance and sent a volley of lead in the direction from which the missile had come. It is not known whether anyone was struck. The order has been given by the authorities to arrest any person who yells "Scab" at the non-union men or soldiers. The rioters attempted to escape arrest by jumping on a fast-moving motor car. The motorman, upon refusing to stop when ordered to do so by the soldiers, received serious

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly, and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and dealers are never twice made from the old, rich and poor, and is rapidly be-coming the most popular medicine for they vary and are not reliable. Diacholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

as much Cottolene as they formerly used of lard or butter. With two-thirds the quantity they will get better results at less cost than it is possible to get with lard or butter. When Cottolene is used for frying articles that are to be immersed, a bit of bread should be dropped into it to ascertain if it is at the right heat. When the bread browns in half a minute the Cottolene is ready. Never let Cottolene get hot enough to smoke. THERE IMPORTANT POINTS: The frying pan should be cold when the Cottolene is put in. Cottolene heats to the cooking point sooner than lard. It never sputters when hot.

The Cottolene trade-marks are "Cottolene" and a steer's head in cotton-plant wreath.

WASTEFULNESS IN THE WEST.

A String of Reasons Why She Didn't Like Her Son Daniel's Wife.

From the Detroit Free Press. A keen-eyed, nervously active little old woman, whose New England birth and thrift were plainly apparent to anyone familiar with the New England type, was a passenger on an eastern bound train leaving Chicago one morning not long ago.

"I've been out to Iowa visiting my son Dan'l," she confided to the lady who shared her section of the sleep-er with the old lady. "I've never been out west before, an' I donno' as I ever want to go again."

"You didn't like the west, then?" "No, I can't say as I did. It's a real nice country, too, in some respects, but I don't like the style of living out there. I'd go crazy if I had to live with my son Dan'l's wife."

"Indeed!" "Yes I just would. I thought I should fly some days when I was there. She's one of these western girls an' she wa'nt brought up to savin' as I brought my girls up an' as my mother brought her girls up." "Oh, wasn't she?"

"Indeed, she was not." Then lowering her voice to a confidential tone, she added: "I just want to tell you o' some o' Dan'i's wife's recklessness. In the first place, she uses a whole egg to settle her coffee mornings when everybody knows the yolk is aplenty! Just think o' that! A half an egg saved every day means 182 1-2 eggs a year, That's fifteen dozen and two eggs at 15 cents a dozen, which comes to $2 28! I figured it all out for Dan'l's wife, an' she just laughed an' went right on wastin' eggs. It's terrible. "Then here's another thing: She never cuts a pie into but four pieces! I was brought up to cut a pie into six pieces, an' it's enough for anybody. There's a whole third of a pie wasted every day. She says Dan'l likes his pie cut wide! I tell you he wa'n't fetched up to be a glutton. Then she pares potatoes and apples the thickest of anybody I ever saw. It just made me tired of the whole Save Your Money west to see her set down to pare the potatoes for dinner!"

"Potatoes are plentiful in the west." "That's no reason why they should be wasted. Sugar ain't as cheap where Dan lives by a quarter of a cent a pound as it is back in Vermont, where I live, an' I felt like screamin' to see Dan's wife putting two teaspoons of sugar in her cup o' coffee every morning! Did you ever! They run to riotous livin' awfully out here in the west.

"They don't think so much of economy as in Vermont.' "I should say not! Dan'l's wife puts cream in her mashed potatoes, an' a chunk o' butter as big as a walnut on a beefsteak after she's broiled it. It just made me homesick to see such goin's on, an' I ain't got no use for a country where girls are brought up like that. You give me old Vermont, where folks know the blessedness of bein' savin'."
