erring to the question of the in-on against the grain inquiry com-on, Mr. Crerar said that the United fusing to yield on the question of al-

parliament today, Sir James Craig in-formed the members—as he had told the British prime minister on the first day he met him, which he described as "black Saturday"—that such a scheme as an all-Ireland parliament was imsible, utterly impossible.

On the other hand, the Sinn Fein is insistent upon the unity of Ireland, and is still adamant on the question of the oath of allegiance.

The Ulster premier added that the Sinh Fein had until Dec. 6 to decide whether negotiations were to be broken off, but in Sinn Fein quarters, it is as-serted, it is for the government to pull the conference out of the fire. This latter view apparently is held also in government quarters, for the prime minister was not slow in putting his intention of making fresh proposals to the Sinn Feln in practice.

A conference was called in Downing prime minister, J. Austen Chamberlain and Lord Birkenhead for the government, and Michael Collins, Arthur Griffith and Eamon J. Duggan, represent-ing South Ireland. They consulted to-gether as to what steps should be taken in the circumstances.

The fact that foreign quotations were lower counted as a bearish factor, and there was a possibility of liberal deliveries here tomorrow. On the declines however, fair buying developed, owing more or less to reports that drought conditions in Oklahoma and Texas were even worse than in Kansas. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged to 1½c off, were followed by a moderate general setback and then something of a rally.
