Chamberlain Gives the Names of Two of the Liberal Candidates' Supporters Who Furnished Him With a List of the Names of the Party to Persuade—His Testimony Causes a Sensation.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 28.—The criminal libel instigated by A. W. Ross, M.P., against R. L. Richardson, editor of the Winnipeg Tribune, for connecting him with the alleged persecution of Charles Chamberlain of Toronto, came up in the Police Court to-day.

The most sensational part of the trial was the statement of Chamberlain, admitting that he had persecuted, and saying that he had been induced to do so by supporters of Mr. Martin, the Liberal candidate.

Being pressed to say who these supporters of Mr. Martin were, he mentioned the names of Pat O'Connor, a hotelkeeper, and ex-Ald. Joshua Calaway. These parties, Chamberlain said, had furnished him a list of names to persecute.

As Chamberlain's arrest for persecution was made at the instance of Mr. Martin's advisers, this statement naturally created a sensation.

Mr. Ross's Evidence.

Mr. Ross, in his evidence, swore that he had never received a letter of introduction from Chamberlain, signed by Small of Toronto, and further said that such letter would have been unnecessary, because he had known Chamberlain several years ago as a real estate speculator in Vancouver. He had met Chamberlain when he arrived in Winnipeg and shook hands with him, but had never discussed election matters with him, and no idea what he had come to Winnipeg for.
This was the principal part of the evidence, the case only occupying a few hours and both sides closing.

The Magistrate reserved his decision until Thursday.

Another sensational case is expected to arise out of the recent election. Information was laid this afternoon against Jack Hollman, deputy returning officer, who is alleged, opened one of the polling booths several minutes ahead of time and allowed a number of persons voted to be recorded. A warrant was issued on the strength of this information.

The Winnipeg Persecution.

[Winnipeg Free Press, Nov. 28.]

There seems little or no doubt that Chamberlain is not John Ayre in reality, as he is, he is, is Charles Chamberlain. He is still in the cells and suffering from extreme nervousness, the reaction from his big blow.

KILLED BY IRISH DYNAMITERS.

Patrick Reid Had Knowledge That It Was Filled With Dynamite—He Was Killed by a Bullet.

DUBLIN, Nov. 28.—Three men fought last evening in a lonely street near Carrighan, the City. One of them drew a revolver and fired. His companion, afterwards identified as Patrick Reid, a bricklayer, fell dead with a bullet in his heart.

The other men ran and escaped.
Reid was arrested yesterday with Sheridan on suspicion of being connected with the recent dynamite explosion here, but he was released owing to lack of positive evidence.

The general belief is that the gangster responsible for the explosion feared that Reid might divulge his secrets.

The police have been doubting throughout the city. Orders have been issued graphed to the police of all Irish and English ports to watch for suspects.

The police hope to shortly clear up the affair of the murder. Reid was arrested yesterday, on suspicion that he was the grocer's assistant, on suspicion that he was the man who had been seen in the street prior to the tragedy.

A man was arrested immediately after the shooting near the place. One of the two was the actual murderer and the other his accomplice.

The police have ascertained that Meane left Dublin the day after the explosion occurred near the detective office in Exchange-court, and that he returned here recently from America. The police believe they are on the scent of the conspiracy to which all the recent explosions in Dublin are due.

Several persons believed to possess knowledge of the conspiracy were examined yesterday.

The Coroner's Inquest.

DUBLIN, Nov. 28.—A coroner's inquest was held to-day on the body of Reid. A brother of the dead man testified that he knew of no one who entertained enmity against his brother, and he could not account for his murder. The wife of the deceased also testified, but she knew nothing that would throw any light on the case. The surgeons who made the post-mortem examination testified that the weapons had been fired at a distance of six inches from Reid's body. The wound could not have been self-inflicted.

The inquest resulted in an open verdict.
Reid was killed because he was a dynamite man.

The police have obtained evidence connecting the dynamite with the murder of Reid. The dynamite was found in the vicinity of Reid's home and he was seen to carry it to his home.

MCKINLEY ATTACKS THE BILL.

REGARDED AS A VERY SWEEPING MEASURE.

Opposed to Ad Valorem Duties, They Open Wide the Doors to Foreign Goods Under the Government by Importers, Where the Coming President of the United States.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 28.—Governor William McKinley arrived in the city tonight.

Governor McKinley was asked his views of the new Wilson tariff bill. He said he had not had an opportunity to give the bill careful study. He was not, therefore, prepared to go into a discussion of the measure.

He considered the bill as a whole, however, a very sweeping one, including as it did in the free list such important articles as coal, wool, iron ore, lumber and salt.
The average rate of duty was also largely reduced, the new measure making it between 30 and 40 per cent.

Opposes Ad Valorem Duties.

The most radical change the Governor had noted was the doing away entirely with specific duties and changing the plan of collection to ad valorem duties. The plan of ad valorem duties was one that had been condemned by all administrations.
Under it the duties were based on valuation of goods made by the foreign seller, and this opportunity opened wide the door to the raffish kind of fraud against this Government.

Henry Clay once said that if he could fix the valuation of goods that duty could be made a perfect revenue. The late Secretary of the Treasury under President Manning, Cleveland's first Administration, had made a careful study of the whole system of collection of duties, which on paper would make very interesting reading just now.
In that review the system of ad valorem duties was thoroughly condemned.

The entire bill, Mr. McKinley said, was in the general direction of the Democrats.
The platform in which had been given that no head would be paid to the pleasures and necessities of domestic industries.

He hoped it would not be passed.

In regard to the probability of the passing Congress in its present shape, Governor McKinley had no idea, but he sincerely hoped it would not.

In effect on business he could not foretell, other than to say that manufacturers of the country would be greatly benefited by the measure.

He had no idea it would meet the approval of the country, or of the great majority of the Democratic party.

The House will probably adjourn Friday, Dec. 22, for the holiday recess, and may not re-assemble before Jan. 8, so the bill is not likely to be sent to the Senate before February. There it may remain in committee until the end of the session, or it may be sent to the Senate at any time.

A BREAK OF EXCITABLE LADS.

ABERDEEN WIRES THE HOME OFFICE ON THE NELSON OUTRAGE.

Questioned Concerning the Matter the Colonial Secretary Quotes the Government's Opinion—No Information of the Dublin Dynamiters.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. James Keir Hardie, Socialist member for the south division of Westham, asked whether the Government would appoint a select committee of members of the House of Commons to consider the condition of the unemployed throughout the country.

Mr. Gladstone, in reply, said that the practices established in the extra distress prevailing in particular districts for the local authorities to deal with the matter. He added that it was decidedly the opinion of the Government that this course ought to be continued.

Russia in the Mediterranean.

In reply to a question on the subject Mr.
Gladstone said that the Government had no information regarding the acquisition by Russia of a portion of the Mediterranean coast.

Aberdeen on the Montreal Outrage.

Mr. Sydney Buxton, Parliamentary Secretary of the Colonial Office, responding to questions in the House of Commons, said the House would be glad to learn the views of the Earl of Aberdeen, Governor-General of Canada, on the recent attempts to blow up the Nelson monument in Montreal.

The Governor-General had telegraphed that the affair was a freak on the part of three excitable lads. It had been a subject of regret and commiseration in the French as well as the English papers of Canada.

The Dublin Dynamiters.

Mr. Edward Carson, Conservative, asked if the Government had any information regarding dynamiters in Dublin.

Mr. Herbert Asquith, the Home Secretary, said that the Government had no information regarding dynamiters in Dublin.
He added that the Government had no information regarding dynamiters in Dublin.

Brutality of the Matabele.

Upon the close of the debate on the Parliamentary Bill Mr. Buxton announced the receipt by the Colonial Office of information from the British South Africa Company that the Matabele had been killed by the Matabele.

Mr. Henry Labouchere, the Liberal member for the north division of Manchester, asked whether the Government had any information regarding dynamiters in Dublin.

Mr. Labouchere said that the Government had no information regarding dynamiters in Dublin. He added that the Govern-

TWO STORIES FROM THE LEHIGH.

Officials Claim the Strike Is Over—Wilkes-Barre Says the Tie-Up Is Complete.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—Officials of the Lehigh Valley Railroad said last night, as far as the company is concerned the strike is a thing of the past. Traffic is moving regularly and they have all the men they want.

The strikers insist that the company is still crippled, and that the striking employees are as firm in their position as ever.

No Attention Paid to the Strike.

ATLANTA, Nov. 28.—The strike has ceased to attract much attention in this latitude.
Freight and passenger trains are running on the Lehigh not always on schedule time and not the full quota, but things are kept moving and it cannot be said that traffic is seriously impeded. All is quiet in the yards, a force of 25 non-union men, engineers and deputy sheriffs still remain on guard to prevent any trouble from the west last evening to take the strikers' places.

Fifteen Coal Pits Being Worked.

PORTSMOUTH, Pa., Nov. 28.—Fifteen out of 22 Lehigh Valley collieries in the Schuylkill region were worked to-day. Most of them have been idle since the strike began.
Cars are far from plentiful, and at some of the places were more than a third of a regular full day's supply. The Reading Company's trains are busy with its own shipments and its collieries are all working on full time.

Coal Famine in Tunkhannock.

WILKESBARRE, Nov. 28.—A report comes from Tunkhannock to-day that they are short of coal. The strike has been in effect for some time in that town and that the coal being hauled in wagons from Factoryville, 13 miles away.

Two Hundred Extra Police.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 28.—The State Department this afternoon (100 additional coal and iron police for the Lehigh Valley Company were commissioned. This strikes about 200 officers of this class commissioned since Saturday.

Consider the Strike Over.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 28.—General Manager Voorhes returned to Philadelphia this afternoon. He said to a reporter: "I go to my Philadelphia office for good, because I consider the strike practically over. Trains are running much better today and no trouble has been reported."

Foreign Morning.

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—The Lehigh company has made such great progress on its Lehigh and New Jersey divisions during the past two days that it is now to revise lines practically free of freight except that which is in course of transit.

Twenty-one Engines Disabled.

SAVER, Pa., Nov. 28.—There is no change in the general character of the strike since yesterday. Passenger trains and a few freight trains are running, but with little or no irregularity. During the evening three engines were disabled in charge of non-union men, were burned out and brought to the Saver road, where they are being repaired.

No Accidents Reported Since the Strike Began.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad, which is estimated to have cost $80,000 in damage.
The wreckers did not finish removing the debris until 11.30 o'clock this morning.
General Superintendent Fennell said that the Lehigh Valley Railroad is in the vicinity of the yards.

THANKED POWERS.

THE K. L. F. THANKED THE POWERS FOR THEIR SERVICES TO THE ORDER.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—The General Assembly of the Knights of Labor adjourned this afternoon to meet next year at New Orleans. A resolution was adopted before the adjournment thanking Ex-General Master Thomas J. B. Powers for his services in the order and complimenting him upon his fair conduct, etc. It was also expressed the hope that his friendly relations with the Knights would not be severed and that much property would attend his future life.
