YACHTS AT THE NICE REGATTA

ALISA HAS NOTHING TO FEAR FROM BRITANNIA.

the Five Flyer Won. But With the Prince's Cutter Disqualified for Crossing the Line Before the Signal—The American Dakeah Beaten in the Race for 10 Meters.

Nice, March 23.—The program of the opening day of the Nice International Regatta, included the Nice town prize race, yachts over 20 tons, 5000, 5000 and 1000 tons; Yacht Club De France tonnage race. The course was triangular, requiring a hard circuit to complete the race. In the start for the principal race the Alisa crossed the line first, having the windward position. The time of crossing the line was: Alisa, 10.40.00; Britannia, 10.40.10. The wind was light from the west.

Both boats stood close hauled to the west, the Alisa gaining. The Alisa's lead from the start took a great deal of interest from the race and it seemed a foregone conclusion that she would win, while the other boats in the race were not regarded as competitors, barring the handicap of a serious accident to the Britannia or Alisa. The wind was light from the southwest and the boats stood over the course entirely different from the one covered last week. The Alisa and Britannia carried their heads as they crossed the line and continued their run to the first mark. Shortly after passing the jolly on the way to the west they set their sails working to windward. The weather was clear, the sea calm and the wind light.

The first mark, the west buoy, was turned to the right, the Alisa and Britannia reaching the second mark at 12.31.10. The Britannia led the Alisa by a far reach to the starboard from the boat near the jolly to the first mark.

After passing the jolly the Britannia reached the second mark at 12.31.10. The Britannia led the Alisa by a far reach to the starboard from the boat near the jolly to the first mark.

A LIVELY FRACAS.

Police Corral a Bad Gang in Albert-street—Several Parties More or Less Injured in the Row.

Henry Symons and George Andrews were lured into a house at 23 Albert-street, Saturday afternoon, and but for the timely arrival of the police might not have escaped with their lives. The house is kept by John and Jennie Tiele, and among the frequenters were Hattie McBride, Pat Flood, Nellie Haply and Tom McLean. Andrews may be held up by McBride while Jack Tiele rifled his pockets of $15. He resisted, a light began and soon became general, with Andrews and Symons defending themselves against the other six. Knieve were freely used, and when P.C. Johnson and Hood arrived on the scene the fight was at its height. The whole outfit were arrested, and the patrol wagon was called. The arrival of the wagon was the signal for the renewal of the hostilities, McLean and Jack Tiele, who were linked together with a pair of bracelets, attacking P.C. Tripp. Hattie McBride also joined in the assault, but it was not possible to announce positively the composition of each team. The list is as follows:

Provence—Charles Morton, manager; pitchers: Egan, Reddickham, Lovett, Driscoll, catchers: Mackay, Dixon, Rogers, 1b; Stricker, 2b; Bassett, 3b; Conroy, ss; Knight, 4b; Lyons, cf; Murray, rf.
