

3. Why are Christians like soldiers?

They must fight the devil.

4. Why do we need armour?

To protect us from the cunning enemy.

5. Who has provided armour for us?

God.

6. What are we to do with it?

Put it on and wear it.

7. What will we then become?

“Strong in the Lord and in the power of his might.”

SENSIBLE TOMMY.

Who would not say that Tommy is a very sensible boy? His father is a butcher and little Tom often helps his big brothers deliver the meat and vegetables. One day a heavy thunder-shower came on, and Tom was the first to think of the bright idea of putting the big basket over his head. It was such a huge one that it quite covered his head and shoulders, as you see in the picture, and so kept the large rain-drops from wetting him.

AN INTERRUPTED MEAL.

Charlie is a little Scotch laddie. His home is in the highlands of Scotland, where he earns his living by tending sheep. He has a splendid sheep-dog called Yarrow, that always goes with him and his flock and keeps the sheep from getting lost. He lives in a little cottage on the mountain-side and when he goes home at night is nearly always met by old Tom, the cat, waiting for him on the door-step.

In the picture we see both Tom and Yarrow looking very much as if they would like some of Charlie's porridge. When he has finished his bowlful he will go to the stove and get some more and divide it among his dumb companions.

Whenever you think a wrong thought or do a wrong act, remember that you are pleasing Satan, that wicked old spirit who is always making so much trouble in the world.
