COLERIDGE AND MACAULAY
(ILLUSTRATED).

Coleridge's Ancient Mariner and Minor Poems, with Macaulay's Essay on Warren Hastings, bound in one volume, for High Schools and University Matriculation,

By THE LATE J. M. BUCHAN, M.A.

PRICE, 75 cents.

This edition contains a critical Introduction to the Study of English Literature, together with Mr. Buchan's Copious Notes, Biographical Sketch and Critical Estimate of Coleridge.

The Essay on Warren Hastings is treated with special reference to Composition as prescribed in the University Curriculum and for Teacher's Examinations.

Candidates will not be required to make a critical study of Macaulay's Warren Hastings, which is assigned as a Model of Style and not as a subject for minute literary criticism. The themes for Composition will be based on the Essay on Warren Hastings, "with the substance of which the candidate will be expected to have a general acquaintance." On this account the Editor, the late J. M. Buchan, M.A., himself an active member till the time of his death, of the Senate of the University of Toronto, advisedly omitted encumbering the work with historical or exegetical notes on Macaulay.

Coleridge's works, prescribed for critical study are fully analyzed and annotated.
