What Became of a Lie.

First, somebody told it. Then the room wouldn't hold it, So the busy tongues rolled it Till they got it outside, When the crowd came across it Till it grew long and wide.

From a very small lie, sir, It grew deep and high, sir, Till it reached the sky, sir, And frightened the moon; For she hid her face, sir, At the dreadful disgrace, sir, That had happened at noon.

This lie brought forth others, Dark sisters and brothers, And fathers and mothers-A terrible crew;

And while headlong they hurried, The people they flurried,

And troubled and worried, As lies always do.

And so, evil-boded, This m astrous lie goaded, Till at last it exploded In smoke and in shame; While from mud and from mire The pieces flew higher, And hit the sad liar, And killed his good name.

The journey continued, tilt, reaching Bothany, Jesus and the twelve paused for rest.
