THE EDITOR OF "AN AMERICAN TEXT-BOOK OF PRACTICE." "In announcing the completion of 'An American Text-Book of Practice,' the publisher asserts that in this work over 500 piges are from the pen of Dr. William Pepper. This fact, from a purely mechanical standpoint in these days of enormous literary production, would not appear in itself to be matter for special comment, but when there is taken into account the Editor's busy life, it is a notable instance of the wonderful vitality and executive ability of an exceptionally gifted man."

"Dr. Pepper, who is a native-born Philadelphian, is perhaps no less widely known as a medical practitioner than as Provost of the University of Pennsylvania, and since assuming the administration of this venerable institution its interests have been more rapidly advanced than during any equal period of its history. The words of Governor Hoyt, addressed to Dr. Pepper at the time of his installation as Provost (1881), that 'the events of this day will affect your own and the fortunes of the University of Pennsylvania,' were singularly prophetic. An indefatigable worker, he has conducted the affairs of the University with such remarkable tact that the various educational departments now aggregate thirty huge buildings and the institution commands an international reputation. But it is not alone as the chief administrative officer of the University that Dr. Pepper's influence is all-potent; he is connected with, and is especially active in various capacities in, many lea:ned societies."

"Moreover, in addition to shaping and directing the general policy of the University, Dr. Pepper attends to a very large medical practice. He is recognized as the leading American authority on medical questions, his powers of diagnosis amounting almost to intuition. He was mainly instrumental in securing from the city of Philadelphia the gift of the site on which now stands the University Hospital, and he has always been an ardent supporter and a successful promoter of charitable works deserving public recognition."

"The question naturally arises, How does Dr. Pepper meet the exactions of all these engagements? The answer is, Simply by self-abnegation and by his mental adroitness, no opportunity being

Private Sanitarium ... for Inebriety

No. 1 Clarence Square, TORONTO, ONT.

THIS INSTITUTION possesses facilities for the successful treatment of the drink habit on modern principles.

It is situated on the corner of Spadina Avenue and Clarence Square, and facing a beautiful park; is only one block from street cars, only a short distance from the Brock Street boats, and five minutes' walk from Union Station. All the rooms are large, well furnished, and house is heated by furnace and gas.

The medical treatment is superintended by DR. GOODE, whose assistants are competent. As the residence of patients will be from three to four weeks, and as occupation or amusement is almost necessary, it will readily be seen that a first-class place where gentlemen may be treated in the city has great advantages over a like institution in the country.
