RECENT BOOKS.

Mrs. Gaskell's CRANFORD; MEMORABLE PASSAGES FROM THE BIBLE; Longfellow's MILES STANDISH. Cloth. Price 25 cents each. The Macmillan Company, New York. G. N. Morang & Company, Toronto.

The Series of English Texts which includes the above, was referred to in the December number of the REVIEW. It is sufficient here to refer to the convenient size of the volumes, the good paper, excellent type and illustrations, and the beautiful binding. These features, with the fine selections of subjects, critical introduction and notes, render the series a choice one in every respect.

Scott's OLD MORTALITY. Edited with introduction, notes, and a short glossary. W. Keith Leask, M.A. Cloth. Pages 400. Price 1s. 6d. Blackie & Son.

Bacon's ESSAYS. Edited with introduction and notes by E. H. Blakeney, M. A., Cambridge. Cloth. Pages 373. Blackie & Son.

ELEMENTARY PHYSICS. By John N. Brown, A.R.C.S., London. Cloth. Pages 111. Price 2s. Blackie & Son, London.

This belongs to a series of five science handbooks on physics and chemistry, which aim to combine theoretical and practical work. They are the outcome of methods applied and discussed in the Royal College of Science, London.

SIMPLE LESSONS ON HEALTH, for the use of the young. By Sir Michael Foster, K.C.B., M.P., etc. Cloth. Pages 116. Price 1s. Macmillan & Co., London.

A simple treatise on the value of fresh air, food and drink, light and cleanliness, and the importance of these in preserving the health, arranged in easy language and adapted for children.

MACMILLAN'S NEW GLOBE READERS, Book VI. Cloth. Pages 280. Price 1s. 8d. Macmillan & Co., London.

A series of reading lessons designed to interest young persons and awaken a love of literature. Attractively illustrated, and containing extracts from books of established literary position.

THE WORLD OF ICE. By R. M. Ballantyne. Cloth. Pages 223. Price 1s. Blackie & Son, London.

An interesting book at a low price. It details the whaling cruise of the "Dolphin" to the shores of Greenland, and a winter spent there amid ice and snow, with many interesting adventures and hairbreadth escapes.

SCHOOL RECITATIONS (for juniors and seniors). Paper. Pages 32. Price 1d. each. Blackie & Son, London.

A neat little pocket series, containing short gems of poetry, selected from the best English authors, and of the right length for school recitations.

Blackie's STORY-BOOK READERS. For Standards I, II, III, and IV. Price of each, 1d., 2d., 3d.

These little books are attractively illustrated, brightly written, and in suitable language for the respective standards.

Blackie's ENGLISH SCHOOL TEXTS. Edited by W. H. D. Rouse, Litt.D. Strongly bound in flexible cloth. Price, 6d. each. Blackie & Son, London.

In this excellent series of English texts we have, from nearly thirty volumes now being prepared, the following: Battles from Napier's Peninsular War (pages 128), Lucien's A Trip to Wonderland (pages 117), Admiral Anson's The Taking of the Galleon (pages 132), Blakeney's The Retreat of Sir John Moore (pages 111). Each book is neatly printed, and has a brief introduction dealing with the author's life and place in literature.

ENGLISH LITERATURE SERIES. For Secondary Schools. Edited by J. H. Fowler, M.A. Macmillan & Co., London.

This series has many excellent features to recommend it to the student and general reader: the texts are provided with introduction and notes, and a complete glossary of unfamiliar words; there are, in addition, sets of questions to direct the study of each text, and suggestive subjects for short essays. The books of which we have the following, are clearly printed, on good paper, and have many fine full page illustrations: Keary's The Heroes of Asgard, Scott's The Talisman, Macaulay's Essay on Addison, Macaulay's Essay on Clive. Price 1s. each.
