

Talk of Columbian gold mines, or nickle mountains in Ontario, or coal beds in Nova Scotia, whose yields are never certain, while the water—the electric producing power—rolls on forever.”

