

ALLIES MAY SURELY VON KLUK'S CAPTURE SAID TO BE MADE

Report at Dieppe That German Commander of Right Wing, With Fourteen or Twenty-Five Thousand Men, Has Fallen Into Hands of Allies—Official Confirmation Lacking.

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Sept. 15.—The correspondent of the Central News at Dieppe, under date of Monday, Sept. 14, says: "A report has reached Dieppe that the extreme left of the allies, after making an encircling movement by way of Roye and Ham and joining a force from the Boulogne district, has compelled Gen. von Kluk to surrender, with, according to one statement, 14,000 men, and according to another statement, with 25,000 men, and a quantity of guns and war material." "It seems to be the opinion of the allied troops this afternoon.

The foregoing despatches caused the utmost excitement, both the Von Kluk and the Rheims reports being of such importance. Gen. von Kluk's army is the German force which tried to make the enveloping movement around to the north and east of Paris after pursuing the retreating British troops from the Belgian frontier. Apparently the allies have caught Gen. von Kluk in one of his own famous traps.

Roye and Ham are located to the southeast of Amiens, and were occupied by the Germans two days ago.

RUSSIAN NUMBERS VASTLY SUPERIOR OUTNUMBERED AUSTRIANS BY THREE HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND MEN.

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Sept. 15.—In a despatch from Copenhagen, the correspondent of the Central News quotes The Berlingske Lokalt Ansejger as saying that the Russian Austro-German armies were defeated in Galicia was Russia's numerical superiority, the Russians exceeding by 350,000 men. The Austrian losses have been enormous, some regiments losing all of their officers. The Russian broke through the German lines, and the German army, under the command of Gen. von Hindenburg, is making retreat absolutely necessary.

Another correspondent asserts that the Russian victory was due to the overwhelming superiority of their artillery.

THE WORLD WAR.
Vast hosts of armed men are aflame with hatred and lust.
Half-buried in ruins and dust,
While the checkmate game of envy, vain-glory, mistrust,
Death still is the wages of sin.
The dead lie in whorls like corn;
All hell with its thunderous din
Is loosed and its fury is on.
While homesteads and quiver-knives
Are desolate, drear and forlorn.
Thou Infinite Breather of Stars
That level Thy Face in the night,
Protect with omnipotent bars
Thy manifest selves in their plight;
Forgive ineffaceable scars.
The wounds of infinite fight.

ANOTHER VICTORY WON BY SERBIANS

Ninety Thousand Men Repulsed on Drina With Heavy Losses.

Canadian Press Despatch.
NIS, Sept. 15.—An official announcement says: "With the intention of holding back our offensive movement on the River Drina, the enemy massed a force of 90,000 men along a front extending from Raca to Janja. The enemy attempted to cross the Drina near Raca, but were repulsed with enormous losses.

"The main battle was fought in the angle formed by the confluence of the Drina and Save rivers. The enemy obtained some advantage at the beginning of the action, but after a violent bombardment by our artillery and repeated assaults by our infantry, the Austrians were repulsed. The Austrians suffered heavy losses in the night of September 8th. Artillery covered the retirement of the Austrians, but they left behind a Howitzer battery, a field artillery, six machine guns and a heavy quantity of munitions.

"All attempts of the Austrians to cross the Drina at other points failed; the enemy being repulsed in disorder. The Austrians sustained enormous losses, and their troops could not stand before our bayonet charges. The seventh and ninth Austrian regiments were captured. Many bodies are being carried along the current of the Save. Along the entire front the Austrian casualties were 16,000 men.

"This battle was one of the most fiercely contested of the war, and the defeat of the Austrians is one of the greatest consequences to them. It was the object of the Austrians to throw troops into the Drina at several different points for an offensive campaign, which would draw the Serbian forces south from Austrian territory. The victory of the Austrians at the Drina, however, has put an end to the offensive charges of the Serbians, but the accuracy of their artillery fire was another factor. The Austrians are alleged to have turned their backs to the river and fled to their own territory.

"Serbians have been reported to have destroyed the Hungarian station of Oravica, on the Danube, a short distance from the Austro-Hungarian border. The station was destroyed by the Serbians, thus cutting communication between Hungary and Roumania. 'Grewa' was the route by which the German officers and sailors were compelled to surrender. The Serbians are alleged to have turned their backs to the river and fled to their own territory.

FIND FOODSTUFFS SENT TO GERMANY Discovery Made at Liverpool of Shipments by Way of Holland.

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Sept. 15.—According to The Daily Mail investigations at Liverpool and other ports make it certain that foodstuffs and raw materials are still being shipped, even from British ports, for the use of the Germans. Shipments made from Liverpool last month of canned goods, feeding cakes, flour and cornmeal, etc., were sent to the Netherlands, but comparison with exports of other years makes it more than probable that they have gone to Germany. One Liverpool firm, The Mail says, has refused to supply its Rotterdam correspondents with certain raw materials until Holland ceases to supply Germany.

According to the municipal statutes of Ingersoll at the present time any extension of front yards, etc., is forbidden. This was originally entered as a safeguard. Now the community sees in this work an opportunity for relieving a situation which is beginning to threaten, and are accordingly setting the matter before the council.

CHINA THREATENED BY GERMAN CHARGE

Accuses Celestials of Tolerating Breach of Neutrality by Japanese.

Canadian Press Despatch.
PEKING, Sept. 15.—The German charge d'affaires in Peking, Baron von Mallman, has notified the foreign office that the government reserves the right to deal with China, at the present time and in the future, as it sees fit, because of the alleged breach of neutrality by the part of China in the fighting zone before the Japanese landings on Chinese territory whose destination was Kiaochow. The German Government further reserves the right to exact compensation for the losses which it and German subjects may sustain as a result of this action.

The German charge disputes the Chinese contention that the situation is analogous to the one which existed during the Russo-Japanese war. He declares that China should have given notification of the extension of the fighting zone before the Japanese landings on Chinese territory whose destination was Kiaochow. The German Government should have handed the Japanese minister in Peking his passports when Japanese troops landed at Lungkow.

The Japanese legation, on its side, has protested to the foreign office against German and Austrian soldiers, clad as civilians, traveling from Tientsin to Tsingtau by the Chinese railroad line.

GERMANS RESIST NORTH OF AISNE

Western and Central Armies Make Stand, While Eastern Army Retreats.

Canadian Press Despatch.
PARIS, Sept. 15, 2.55 p.m.—The western and central armies of the German forces continued their resistance today north of the River Aisne and north of Rheims and Chalons, while the eastern army is retreating. This is the substance of the French official communication given out this afternoon.

The text of the communication is as follows:

RUSSIANS TO TAKE ROUTE TO BERLIN Minister of War to Send Army to Capture German Capital.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 15.—Discussing the general situation today, Minister of War Sukhomlinoff declared: "The Russian army is going to capture Berlin. That is the task assigned to it by the allies in the present war. The entire strength of the Russians will be used to this purpose. We are not compelled to remove the Austrians as a source of danger, but we have not planned any general invasion of Hungary or any attempt to take the Budapest area. The Russian army is crushed. Its losses exceed 300,000. They have lost a great part of their artillery. The position of the remnants of the Russian army is precarious and its surrender would be no surprise. On the other hand, the spirit of the Russian troops was never better than at present. They are ready to forward without further delay.

"Russia is administering the captured territory, but it will not forcibly endeavor to surround the Austrian army. Questions of that sort must be left until after the war is over."

The military stronghold of Przemyel, where the Russian general Przemysl, who the Russian army is regarded by military experts as the last important fortification guarding the way to the interior of Austria-Hungary.

Przemysl is situated on the River San, 51 miles west of the evacuated capital of Galicia, Lemberg, and is the headquarters of the tenth army corps.

The Russian contention is that the capture of Przemyel would allow a free passage to the Russian army in the direction of Vienna, or would permit a swinging movement to the northwest to effect a junction with the Russian army in East Prussia.

AUSTRIAN YOUTHS CALLED TO ARMS

Apprehension Increased in Vienna, Where Thousands Beg Bread and Shelter.

Canadian Press Despatch.
VIENNA, Sept. 15.—Thousands of Galician Poles, chiefly Jews, are in Vienna without means of support, and are forced to beg for food and shelter. The Hebrew charitable societies are doing all they can to succor their unfortunate co-religionists. Free meals on a generous scale are dispensed daily.

The public apprehension that all has not been going well with Austria, is increased by a military decree under the laws providing for the national defence, calling upon the youth born in 1894 to join the army for home defence. Under ordinary circumstances these young men would not have been summoned to the colors until next spring. Men born in 1892 and 1893 have, up to the present time, been rejected when appearing for enlistment, now they have been ordered to join the army. It is intimated that they may be called to active service within a short time.
