LORD HERSCHELL.

In the choice of Lord Herschell as British representative on the commission, the Imperial Government has paid a high compliment to Canada. Lord Herschell is gentleman of wide attainments in the Mother Country and eminently qualified for the post. He has taken a very prominent part in deliberations on the Judicial Comnittee of the Privy Council within recent years, and delivered the upon the reference upon the inland fisheries dispute, as between the Dominica of Canada and the provinces. Lord Herschell was twice Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain during Mr. Gladstone's administration of 1886 and 1892. He was born in 1837 and was educated at the University College, London, and at Bonn; was called to the bar in 1860, then became a O.C., and a Bachelor of Lincoln's Inn, in 1872. He sat in Parliament as a supporter of Mr. Gladstone from 1874 to 1885, when he was made Solicitor-General in Mr. Gladstone's Ministry. He took part in the Round Table Conference on Home Rule, the first meeting of which was held in his own house.

go on in the shape of bye-elections. Whether it will be a tragedy or a comedy with the Government will not be revealed until the curtain goes up for the concluding acts, the re-assembled session. In other words, the supposedly regular new session, anticipated for January or February next year, is to be only a continuation of this one. Mr. Whitney elicited this last night from the Premier , who said, in addition, that next year's portion of the session r ight be called by proclamation. This course, it is understood, gives the Government the option of calling the House any time within a year. It will not, according to Mr. Hardy, be called until after the election trials and resulting bye-elections have been fought out and things thereby put on a!

more certain basis. Actually, Though, a New Session, The Attorney-General provided for any! ontingencies that might arise by passing a resolution to have the rules of the House respecting the time for reception, of petitions for private bills, for the introduction of such bills, and for the reception of reports of committees, altered to have the time counted from the first day of the re-assembled session.
