MEIGHEN SCORES FARMERS' STAND AGAINST GOVT.

Premier At Truro Criticises Attitude of U. F. Organization.

DEFILED LANGUAGE

Says Agrarians Totally Ignorant of Record of Union Government.

TRURO, N. S., Aug. 24.—(Canadian Press.)—Crowds that overflowed the Princess Theatre and spread out into a nearby hall heard Premier Arthur Meighen, Hon, Hugh Guthrie, minister of militia, and Hon. F. B. McCurdy, minister of public works, expound the policies of the new National Liberal and Conservative Government here tonight, and show why in their judgment Mr. McCurdy should be returned over Hugh Dickson, United Farmers' candidate in the Colchester by-election of September 2C.

Premier Meighen occupied the greater portion of the time at the Princess Theatre meeting, held simultaneously with the overflow meeting, with a review of the achievements of Premier Borden's war-time administration, and a discussion of the party's plans for the future. He was tendered an ovation upon arising, spoke in fine form, but was most effective, perhaps, in criticism of the Farmers' attitude toward the present Government. Quoting from a Press.)-Crowds that overflowed the of the Farmers' attitude toward the present Government. Quoting from a resolution passed at the meeting of Colchester Farmers, which nominated Mr. McCurdy's opponent, in which it was stated that "the corruption of the Unionist Government was a stench in the nostrils of the common people of Canada," he declared that the person who had phrased the resolution was either totally ignorant of the actual record of the Union Government, or else 'had wantonly defiled the English language.

But One Charge.

During the last three years, but one charge had been brought before the public accounts committee, made up of farmers and Liberals as well as Union-farmers and the was fund to be wholly groundless. Mr. T. A. Crerar, the leader of the Farmers' party was a member of the Union Government during two-thirds of its existence, and he ventured to say that Mr. Crerar would state, if invited to do so, that he know of no case of "corruption."

The fifteen members of the Farmers' party at present in the House knew nothing of any so-called corruption. The fifteen members of the Farmers' party at present in the House. They knew of no corruption, or else they did not think it would help matters very much to add another Farmer member to the present list.

To Present Reasons.

The prime minister said he had come since they had never brought this matter to the attention of the House. They knew of no corruption, or else they did not possess the capacity to expose it in the House. In either case he did not possess the capacity to expose it in the House. In either case he did not present ist.

To Present Reasons.

The prime minister said he had come to Colchester with the minister of militia and defence to present in the plainest terms some reasons why their colleague, Mr. McCurdy, should be returned in the present by-election.

It was surely right, he thought, that Nova Scotia, which for 50 years had held a proud place—often a leading place—in the councils of the Dominion, should have a place in the Government. The by-election had been called at the earliest possible date in order that representation need not be delayed for on day.

The prime minister praised Mr. McCurdy's record as a member of Parliament, and suggested that if partisan prejudice could be set aside in the coming by-election there would not be many who would vote against htm.

Mr. Meighen said the responsibilities of government in Canada were much greater than they were 10 or 20 years ago, a fact that must be borne in mindifferities my was to be intelligent. Volume of the old-line Liberal party was dead in the coming by-election had been called at the down many who would vote against htm.

Mr. Meighen said the responsibilities of government in Canada were much greater than they were 10 or 20 years ago, a fact that must be borne in mindifferities my was to be intelligent. Volume of the premier, minister of militia, who followed the premier, minister of militia, who followed the premier, was leader was entitled to whole-hearted support of Liberals like himself as well as Conservatives. Little remained of the old-time Liberal party. Today 36 Liberals in the House of Commons supported Premier of Meighen, He felt certain that Hon. Mackenzie King, after a few more included in the premier of Meighen. He felt certain that Hon. Meighen to Sir Robert Borden's leader greater than they were 10 or 20 years ago, a fact that must be borne in mind o, a fact that must be borne in mind criticism was to be intelligent. Volif criticism was to be intengent. Vol-taire's creed—whatever is is wrong— was dangerous, unwholesome and un-true. A thousand years from now there would be as much to impove as there was today, but a mere impulse to destroy was the worst epi-demic that ever cursed a country.

Drenched Humanity.

It has drenched humanity with blood and brought millions to starvation more than once. In our own day it has paralyzed and prostrated more than half the population of Europe. Every other country is stiffening its front and fighting harder and harder against the plague. Every one of you knows that that is true and you must keep it in mind in measuring the value of rticism at this time. Reviewing the difficulties of the tasks which the Government had accomplish-de, Mr. Meighen spoke of Canada's part in the later stages of the war, and while paying full tribute to the and while paying full tribute to the fighting men, said an error of judgment at home would have paralyzed the best army that ever took the field. He also referred to the work of demobilization and the soldiers' re-establishment and land settlement schems. Regarding the Government's railway policy he said the lines were being operated and would continue to be operated apart from politics with e operated apart from politics with purpose to give public ownership a air and vigorous trial, which, the overnment hoped, would be success-

Was Being Opposed. Was Being Opposed.

After all this record, continued the premier, a record concerning which even the Toronto Globe says there could be no mistake, no doubt as to its meaning, the Government was being opposed in Colchester in the name of "progress." An analysis of the platform as well as an address. Mr. Carrie made an appreciative reply.

Would Cure Them,
The prime minister said he did not believe one-third of Canada's farmers were free traders, if they would stop and think and see what they were headed for. He did not believe one-tenth of labor was free trade. Two years of free trade would cure those who were.

who were.

He quoted Mr. Mackenzie King's Toronto speech: "There will still be required for purposes of revenue large sums of money which of necessity will have to be raised by indirect taxation through a customs tariff. In revising the tariff to this end care will be taken of the position and needs of all the industries in our country," as illustrating the position of the Opposition leader, of Mr. Fielding, of Dr. Beland, and of many others. They believe in a customs tariff for revenue, or they believe in a tariff to maintain and extend Canada's industries, or they believe in both, yet they claim to be opposed to the Government's fiscal policy. WINDSORITES BUY SUGAR IN DETROIT AT 17 CENTS A POUND

While Local Dealers Talk of Further Increase in

WINDSOR, Aug. 24.—With the price of sugar remaining at 24 cents a pound in Windsor, with every prospect of it going up another few cents this week, according to local wholesalers, the situ ation on the border has become entirely reversed to that prevailing a few weeks ago. The price for the sweetening product across the river, following a heavy slump in prices a few days ago, has dropped from 26 cents a pound to 17 cents and now borderites on this side of the boundary line are buying their supplies across the river. Until recently when the shortage in Detroit became relieved hundreds of Detroiters crossed over on the ferries daily to secure their sugar in Canada. with conditions changed the other Windsorites are buying across the Local grocers are complaining bitterly of heavy shipments from Canadian re-fineries to the United States, and de-clare these heavy exportations are the cause of the drop on the other side of the boundary. Local commission men tonight said they were losing money at the present price, and with no prospect of lower prices from the refineries, looked for a further advance this week.
