Donovan and Jennings Differ About Shocker

Bill Donovan, manager of the New York Yankees, and Hughey Jennings of the Tigers differ on Shocker's ability. York Yankees, and Hughey Jennings of the Tigers differ on Shocker's ability. Donovan says he has shown him such fine pitching in his last three starts that he has worked himself into a regular berth and that he will take his turn in the box from now on.

Jennings, and in fact the entire Tiger team, on the other hand, insist that his fast ball will not do. They made this claims when Shocker was first recalled by New York, and even after he had disposed of them on Thursday they came back with the same claim. Whether his fast ball is good enough, however, did not prevent him from tying the Tigers up in various kinds of knots and making some of their heavy hitters look foolish in the pinches.

Speaking of Shocker, he slipped one over on Cobb, but Umpire Silk OLoughlin couldn't see it. The count was two strikes and one bal lon the Georgian, and Shocker curved one over he inside corner. Cobb made a great bluff that it almost hit him, when, as a matter of fact, it was a pretty strike. Catcher Walters of the Yankees tossed the ball around the field just as is done when a batter is retired, but Umpire O'Loughlin ruled that it was a ball. The Yankees set up a roam, and it looked from immediately behind the plate as the they had reason to. Cobb should have been struc kout, but he outgeneraled Silk O'Loughlin.
