British Submarine Attack Successful; Summary of The Morning War News

London, Oct. 7, 8.30 p. m.—Submarine E-9, of the British navy, under command of Lieut. Commander Max Horton, yesterday made another raid into German waters, off the mouth of the River Ems, and succeeded in sinking a German torpedo boat destroyer. It was this same submarine, under the same commander, which made a similar dash and sank the German cruiser Hela off Heligoland September 13. As on the former occasion, the E-9 has safely returned to her home port. The action took place at 1 o'clock yesterday, and was witnessed by the Dutch coast guards on the Dutch Island Schiermonnikoog, in the North Sea, off the province of Friesland.

Paris, Oct. 7, 2.30 p. m.—The Messager publishes a despatch from Ancona, in Italy, on the Adriatic, telegraphs the Rome correspondent of the Havas Agency, which declares that four Austrian torpedo boats and two Austrian torpedo boat destroyers have been lost off the coast of Dalmatia as a result of coming in contact with mines.

The Ancona despatch adds that a majority of the members of the crews of these vessels lost their lives. While the world awaits news of the great battle in which the British and French allied forces and the Germans in Northern France have engaged for twenty-six days, the meagre official reports from the front vouchsafe little information of the actual operations. Today it is a small piece of ground lost, and tomorrow the same ground has been regained. Meanwhile the French forces are moving northward, but are gaining little to the eastward, which would be essential to the outflanking of the German right wing.

As a matter of fact, Gen. Von Kluck, in command of that section of the German army, with heavy reinforcements, which have reached him in the past week, has taken a decided offensive, and day by day the same announcement is made by the French war office that the "violent battle continues."

The British official bureau reports that the French army is fighting with the greatest dash and bravery, but is silent on what the British are doing. The French officials report an advance on certain points on the centre, and the re-taking of the ground previously yielded in the Roye district.

The situation as between the Russians and Germans and Austrians is somewhat problematical, but a very frank statement from Berlin admits that the German forces on the frontier of East Prussia have assumed a strategical defensive movement, and that they abandoned the bombardment of Ossowetz fortress, in Russian Poland.

The forty-third German casualty list, issued at Berlin, contains 10,600 names in dead, wounded and missing. The Belgian government has been removed from Antwerp to Ostend, several of the ministers and many thousands of refugees having reached there. The bombardment of Antwerp, it is reported, has already begun, following a notification from the commander of the German troops that non-combatants and others desiring to do so, should withdraw from the city.

The second son of the German Emperor, Prince Eitel Frederick, is reported to have been injured by a fall from his horse in a recent battle. Already two other sons of the emperor have suffered physical ailments, Prince Joachim having received a bullet wound, and Prince Oscar having been stricken with a heart affection after an exhausting engagement.

HAMPTON BELGIAN FUND.

Allendale Farm, Hampton, N. B., breeders of pure bred Ayrshire cattle, have donated a pure bred Ayrshire bull calf, one month old, to be drawn for by lottery at fifty cents a ticket, and the proceeds to be given to the Belgian Fund. This is a grand opportunity for some farmer or dairyman to secure a pure bred animal, and at the same time to aid in the relief of the pucky Belgians. Any one wishing to secure a chance on the same may do so by sending his name and address and 50 cents to the treasurer of the Hampton fund for the relief of the Belgians.

The Hampton relief committee are putting on two grand entertainments on the afternoon and evening of Thanksgiving Day, October 12, in Hampton Consolidated school building, and the draw-pure will take place at the close of the evening entertainment.

IN PRAISE OF APPLES

(By Peter McArthur.)

Fruit Commissioner's office, Ottawa—The apple-lovers of the country have been altogether too finicky in their taste. Nothing will do them but No. 1 apples and those of the choicest varieties. In Ontario the No. 1 Spies, Snows and McIntosh Reds could have been sold many times over. I am told that it is the same with the Gravensteins and other choice varieties in the maritime provinces and the Jonathans and Spitzengers of British Columbia. Everybody wants the choicest grade of the best known varieties. They are all like the spotty Kentucky Major who said: "I figger that we ah goin' through the world for the last time and that the best is none too good." Nonsense, and what is more, criminal nonsense!

It is entirely right that apples should be graded to a legal standard, so that the man who buys may get what he is paying for, but there are thousands and thousands of barrels of sound apples of little known varieties and culls of the best varieties that are as good as the best for cooking and eating. They are not "fancy," but they are wholesome and delicious and not one of them should be allowed to waste. And there is no reason why you should sniff superior and talk about "having them for the poor."

Yesterday I was in an orchard where packing was in progress and saw twentysix crates of apples being thrown to the pigs because they had a few scabs that made it impossible to pack them in the best grades. There is no market for culls and yet those culls were just as good as any apples in the No. 1 barrels. Just think of the apples being thrown away because they were disfigured by a few blemishes that were only skin deep!

Now, do not scold my friend, the orchardist. He cannot sell them to the evaporating factory, for the nearest is miles away, and the price he would get would not pay for the price of loading them in a wagon and hauling them. And he cannot put them on the market because nobody wants culls. So they go to the pigs. If the pigs that the French

German army. It was time for the beloved veteran to sound a warning. In a signed article he says: "I cannot help thinking that the great task of subduing Germany will begin when we, with our French, Russian and Belgian allies have driven the German allies into the heart of their own territory."

"We may be sure that Lord Roberts has no illusions about the difficulty of the preliminary task of driving the German allies into the heart of their own territory." It cannot be done by bullets and bravado.

"Let us avoid," he goes on to say, "what Kipling during the Boer war described as 'killing Kruger with your mouth.' Let us rather devote all our energies to defeating our foe man by the superior fighting of adequate numbers of British soldiers in the open field."

"Finally the old hero, referring to charges of atrocities that gross charges of our brave soldiers fighting in South Africa." He exhorts his countrymen so to conduct themselves in the campaign as to earn the liking of the Germans as well as their respect.

"England was in need of this same counsel, this restraining admonition and the generous appeal of her greatest soldier."

TWENTY BOTTLES OF SCOTCH
Amherst News—Rev. H. R. Grant, who had such a trying experience at Fugwash a short time ago, added another chapter to his reminiscences in Stellarton last week, when he in the company of Inspector Soy, called at a place kept by D. Hoar. Mr. Hoar's door opened to let out a caller and the men forced their way in, but before they could get behind the counter the proprietor smashed a bottle containing rum, in order to prevent it from falling into the hands of the law. A long search followed which was rewarded at last by the discovery of a concealed hatch leading into a space between the double walls of rooms upstairs. The place had no opening in the other rooms, but was large enough to hold about one thousand bottles of liquor. Rev. Mr. Grant squeezed his way through the small exit and emerged with about twenty bottles of Scotch.

HERE'S CHEERING NEWS
(Amherst News)
The Canadian Car and Foundry Co. have recently closed a contract for six L. C. R. passenger cars to be built at the Amherst works. The company has also seven passenger cars to be built for the C. N. R. and also several diners for the same railway. With the orders on hand, there should be steady work in the passenger department and for the other shops now running up until probably February of next year.

Numerous inquiries with regard to the manufacture of shells, boots and shoes, sweaters and other articles have been received at offices here and we are assured that within a very few months the industries of this town will again become active.

The Oxford Woollen Mills received an order this week for an enormous quantity of military blankets, which will guarantee that thriving industry an active winter's work. Indeed, it is anticipated that this order, in conjunction with the others on hand will oblige the Oxford industry to work overtime.

The Jubilee Coal Mines which have been quiet for some time have started operations. A number of men have organized a company and have leased equipped schools, built and endowed of this valuable property for a term of five years. They have already begun work on the property.

The work at the Joggins Mines at the River Herbert coal mines which has been somewhat slack during the summer months, is steadily improving and it is anticipated that these mines will have steady work through the winter months. The Springhill collier has been operating its full staff of men all summer with a steady increase in output. The outlook for the coming winter is very satisfactory.

A GREAT INDIAN RULER
The Gekwar of Baroda is far wealthier than the King-Emperor to whom it has profited all his troops and resource. The annual income of his Highness Sayaji Rao III. amounts to over £1,000,000, and his collection of jewels is said to be worth £2,000,000. When holding durbar his Highness wears a necklace containing a diamond for which he gave 550,000. This is a Brazilian stone of the first water, known as the Star of the South and formerly belonged to Napoleon. The Gekwar, however, spends money on more useful objects than gems. Baroda is famous for the wisdom with which it is governed, and for its splendidly equipped schools, built and endowed of this valuable property for a term of five —flashes of the mind that decide for success or failure.

Thoughts are Sparks

The question is, what kind of sparks does your brain generate?

The brain, like a battery, must be supplied with certain elements to generate thought properly. These brain elements are water, albumen and phosphate of potash. If any of these are lacking in the daily food, brain and body energy are vitally lessened.

Are you lacking? Listen! Water and albumen are plentifully supplied in ordinary food, but phosphate of potash—together with other mineral elements—is almost wholly lacking in white bread and all white flour products.

Grape-Nuts

—containing all the nutriment of wheat and barley, including the precious phosphates so essential to perfect bodies and active brains, provides a food at once delicious, nourishing and economical.

A morning dish with cream furnishes POWER for accomplishment that many a man has come to appreciate.

Common sense goes a long way toward success. To eat right often means to BE right.
