

AMUSEMENTS

OPERA HOUSE---THIS WEEK

The Distinguished English Comedian

Mr. Edward Terry

And His London Company Direct From Terry's Theatre, London,

--- IN ---

A Repertoire of Delightful Comedies

Wednesday "Liberty Hall"
Thursday "The Toymaker of Nuremberg"
Friday "Finn's Widow"
Saturday Eve. "Sweet Laverde"

PRICES FOR THIS ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY---$1.50, $1.00, 75c, and 25c.

MATINEE PRICES
Reserved Box Seats $1.00, Orchestra 75c, Dress Circle 50c, Balcony 35c, Gallery (Fish Seats) 25c.

NICKEL--"The Cattle Rustlers"

Wonderful Evolutions In the Himalayas
Belgian Military Cyclists Darjiling--In the Clouds

WEDNESDAY SINGING DUET THURSDAY
"Foreador Song" Klisto & Baylis "Funie, Funie Cula"
"Canveller" "Christmas Eve"

New Dramas By Vitagraph and Biograph

EMORY WHITE--Tenor THE ORCHESTRA
FREE DELICIOUS DENTAL BUDS Wed. and Sat. Matinees

You'll Have to Hurry

IS THE LAST OPPORTUNITY OF SEEING

The Fondleers

IN THEIR FAMOUS RUSSIAN DANCES

Spectacular Juggling and Trick Wire Work

They Made the Biggest Hit of a Hit Yesterday

Ask Anyone Who Saw Them

SEIZE THIS LAST CHANCE They Are Too Good to Miss

LYRIC

SPECIAL TODAY AND THURS. ONLY

"THE SEVEN CAPITAL SINS"

One of the most stupendous stories ever filmed

THURS.-FRI.-SAT. VENTRILOQUISTS OF INTERNATIONAL FAME

THE VERNONS In a high class comedy act, assisted by a company of funny grotesque gnomes.

UNIQUE

"IN NEIGHBORING KINGDOMS"
Yvesvian Comedy of Interesting Type

"A Christmas Carol"--Chas. Dickens
Most Popular of All This Author's Works

MR. FISCHER in Comic Numbers
Finely Illustrated

BIG MID-WEEK FEAST

"THE JEWELER'S ASSISTANT"
A Popular Serial Revival

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY--Returns of "THE ARMORER'S DAUGHTER"

One of the Strongest Love Stories Ever Screened

GEM--3 Big Film Hits!

"EVER FAITHFUL"--Comedy--Souvenirs Sat. Mat.

"In Neighboring Kingdoms" NEW MUSIC NEW SONG

Indian Drama "Jim Bridger's Bride" KALM TRIUMPH

Tonight BIOPHAPH'S STRONG DRAMA

"JUST A PLAIN SONG"

STAR "The Little Prospector"--Western

Union Hall "New Style Inkwell"--Comedy

North End "The Motor Fiend"--Farce

Tonight Dewitt Calms In Good Songs

BAND TONIGHT

Victoria Rink BAND

Half-Mile Championship Race Between Band and Film Bands

All The Fastest in The City Will Compete, Including Logan, Belyea, Bell, Wright, Coleman, Ingram and Others

The Best yet - Follow the Crowd That's All

Lockhart & Ritchie Insurance Underwriters and Brokers

114 Prince Wm. Street. St. John, N. B.

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; HOME AND ABROAD

Bowling

The City League. Y. M. C. A., 4, Imperials, 0. This is the result of the match in the City Bowling League last night.

The Imperials, who generally put up a good game, were a little off color, and the Y. M. C. A. had things much their own way.

They led for the winners with an average of 85%, and the same average for the losers.

The following are the scores:

Table with 3 columns: Name, Total, Avg. Y. M. C. A. Bowlers: Estey 100, Best 78, Finley 87, Jackson 69, Scott 80.

Imperials. Total, Avg. Sinclair 69, Gamblin 73, Smith 70, McKeen 78, Stanton 69.

The Commercial League. The Mackay bowling team took three points from the O. H. Warwick team in the Commercial Bowling League on Black's last night.

The Mackay team led by two pins. Forsyth was high man for the winners, with an average of 85%, and Colner for the losers with 83%.

The following are the scores:

Table with 3 columns: Name, Total, Avg. O. H. Warwick & Co. Bowlers: McIntyre 73, McLeod 79, Furlong 65, Ramsay 73, Colner 87.

The Inter-Society League. The opening matches of the second series of games in the Inter-Society League were played last night on St. Peter's bowling alley.

The teams were Holy Trinity and the Knights of Columbus. Holy Trinity won by a score of 129, which breaks the record of this season for the losers.

The results in detail are as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Name, Total, Avg. Holy Trinity. Bowlers: Doherty 78, O'Brien 66, Nugent 83, McDonald 90, Riley 88.

Knights of Columbus. Total, Avg. McCafferty 83, O'Neil 82, Murphy 81, Gale 72.

Post Office Men Won. The post office bowlers beat the city market team in a fast and exciting game on Victoria alley yesterday afternoon.

These two teams have been rivals for some time and yesterday afternoon the excitement was high.

Burt, captain of the winning team, is now out with a challenge for the custom house men.

The Ring. Langford Won. Sam Langford of Boston won from Joe Neunteufel of New York in twenty rounds before the Army club of Boston last night.

Hockey. Fredericton won from Maryville in the N. B. H. L. last night 4 to 2.

The game was played under the management of the Sussex Hockey team Secretary McMillan.

The team are not under suspension. Nova Scotia Maroons were defeated by E. E. team at Charlottetown last night 4 to 2.

Ottawa won from Renfrew at the latter place last night.

The Wanderers won from Quebec last night 5 to 4.

The Wanderers won from Truro last night 11 to 4.

Wrestling. Hack and Schoelch. Baltimore, Md., Jan. 10--Arrangements have been concluded for a handicap wrestling match to be held in this city January 21.

George Hackenschmidt, and Gus Schoelch (American), under the terms of which Hackenschmidt undertakes to throw Schoelch three times in an hour.

To Play in Fredericton. Six rinks of Thistle curlers will journey to the capital tomorrow to try conclusions with the members of the Fredericton Curling Club.

Three games will be played in the afternoon and three at night. The following members will represent the local club:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Position. W. H. Morant, H. G. Vaanant, A. J. Snelcar, A. J. Machum, H. C. Olive, J. S. Malouin, Dr. L. A. McAlpine, R. M. Fowler, E. S. R. Murray, F. J. Burpee, R. S. Orchard, J. C. Chesley, J. Ford, Shaw, skip.

W. J. Robertson, A. W. Estey, S. W. Palmer, F. Watson, F. A. McAndrew, J. W. Cameron, W. A. Shaw, skip.

Three of the rinks will go up in the morning and three in the evening.

The Lily Trophy. Two rinks of Thistle curlers will play the first game for the Lily trophy in their rink tonight.

The following players have been selected for the match:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Position. D. McAulay, R. Crawford, W. B. Robertson, E. S. R. Murray, J. W. Cameron, W. A. Shaw, skip.

The rinks that will compete for the trophy throughout the season have been selected, as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Position. H. Youngmans, D. Cameron, L. T. Lingley, A. B. Holly, A. G. McAlpin, J. A. Snelcar, D. B. Willett, J. E. Shaw, skip.

P. J. McKeen, R. B. Bingham, H. Vanvater, T. H. Flewelling, A. J. Machum, J. W. Holly, A. W. Sharp, skip, D. Malouin, skip.

Rev. J. J. McCall, I. F. Archibald, H. G. Barnes, H. Mitchell, skip, E. P. Howard, R. McPherson, W. Arnold, A. W. Daley, F. P. Burpee, R. H. Gibson, W. S. Malouin, skip.

R. E. Smith, T. A. Linton, J. A. Lasky, E. J. Lasky, H. C. Olive, skip, A. G. Stevens, skip.

Rev. L. A. McLean, J. G. Taylor, Dr. M. McLaren, R. L. Langstroth, skip, Rev. W. O. Raymond, J. C. Chesley, skip.

A. G. Staples, A. G. Starkey, R. S. Orchard, R. S. Malouin, skip, H. M. McAlpine, A. P. Patterson, F. A. McAndrew, W. J. Shaw, skip.

H. Tapley, W. Downing, W. M. Mowatt, G. L. Warwick, R. S. Orchard, G. S. Bishop, W. Watson, skip, W. S. Staples, skip.

The Magee Trophy. Play for the Magee trophy was resumed on the Carleton rink last night.

Two rinks competed, and the team captained by W. Watson defeated that captained by J. A. Kindred, 13 to 9.

Play was very close throughout the match.

Fredericton Defeats St. Andrews. Fredericton, Jan. 10--(Special)--Six rinks from St. Andrew's Curling Club, of Fredericton, were defeated by local rinks in a game with local curlers.

Not one St. John rink won in the afternoon, and in the afternoon the rinks of G. A. Kimball and J. L. McAvity were overwhelmed. The total score was 142 to 11 in favor of Fredericton. The score by rinks was:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Score. Afternoon. St. Andrew's Fredericton, 18 to 11, McAvity, 12 to 9, Hawthorn, 10 to 8.

Evening. Robertson, 11 to 6, McAvity, 10 to 7, McAvity, 10 to 7, Hawthorn, 10 to 8.

SACKVILLE COMMENT ON HOCKEY

(Sackville Tribune)

Although the meeting of the Intercollegiate hockey league which was held in St. John a few days ago did not materialize for some reason or other, it is probable that a schedule of games for the summer trophy will be arranged shortly by Mount Allison, Acadia and the University of New Brunswick.

This year Mount A. plays in Fredericton, Acadia plays here and the U. N. B. boys meet the Kings College team in Wolfville.

St. John's College may also be on the schedule of entering the league.

Last year the silverware was won by Acadia and the Wolfville collegians are bent on retaining possession this winter.

Nearly all the members of their 1910 squad will again play this season and with them will be Gordon Richmond, who has a hockey reputation made down in Cape Breton.

W. H. Emerson, the professional, thinks there will be nearly all their 1910 players in line again since Archie Babbitt, Jack Penney and Sterling have developed into first class players.

It is said that the Fredericton collegians also intend to have a couple of new recruits on hand this winter.

It is quite probable that this year will see the abolition of the intercollegiate graduate students to play in the league games. Both Mount A. and Acadia are understood to favor the change.

The intercollegiate football games played in the past have been a success. The abolition of this in the hockey league would bar several men who otherwise might be seen in college uniforms this winter.

Of last year's Mount A. seven Stuart McKean, point, and Charlie McDougall, center, are the only ones who will be on hand this winter.

McDougall, who is coming to her by Charlie Milford, of Charlottetown, Charles Thompson, another Islander, Will Godfrey, of Charlottetown, Charlie McDonald, of Truro, Harold Lewis, of Sydney, Charlie Fowler, of Wolfville, and Nappan, C. H. Oucharek, the football captain, Charlie Mitton, of Moncton, and one or two others are going to turn out.

Whether or not any of these will be seen in the arena, it is not a good thing for the league or any other hockey league.

It is understood that Mount A. has lines on the question. The question is proposed to take the position.

QUEER PARIS HEADGEAR

Gold Tiaras, Helmets, and Strange Feather Arrangements Seen

Paris, Jan. 11--Headgear in Paris for men and out is developing new eccentricities. The gold tiara set all round for men, and having for its accompaniment Byzantine ornaments with pendulous tassels hanging over the temples which are a beautiful woman were at the theatre recently.

The first of these eccentricities is a new hat worn in ten could wear it. The hat is a white lace over the hair, is very effective also.

Another striking headgear is the helmet of the First Empire. Then the learned of new headgear is the helmet of the First Empire.

The helmet is made of gold and encased in old gold and finished with gold and silver.

A headgear consisting of four green feathers and a hat seen on the Champ Elysees recently and worn by a woman was seen in the French.

The only eccentricity which has been seen in the French is the helmet of the First Empire.

The helmet is made of gold and encased in old gold and finished with gold and silver.

A headgear consisting of four green feathers and a hat seen on the Champ Elysees recently and worn by a woman was seen in the French.

The only eccentricity which has been seen in the French is the helmet of the First Empire.

The helmet is made of gold and encased in old gold and finished with gold and silver.

A headgear consisting of four green feathers and a hat seen on the Champ Elysees recently and worn by a woman was seen in the French.

The only eccentricity which has been seen in the French is the helmet of the First Empire.

The helmet is made of gold and encased in old gold and finished with gold and silver.

A headgear consisting of four green feathers and a hat seen on the Champ Elysees recently and worn by a woman was seen in the French.

The only eccentricity which has been seen in the French is the helmet of the First Empire.

The helmet is made of gold and encased in old gold and finished with gold and silver.

A headgear consisting of four green feathers and a hat seen on the Champ Elysees recently and worn by a woman was seen in the French.

The only eccentricity which has been seen in the French is the helmet of the First Empire.

The helmet is made of gold and encased in old gold and finished with gold and silver.

A headgear consisting of four green feathers and a hat seen on the Champ Elysees recently and worn by a woman was seen in the French.

The only eccentricity which has been seen in the French is the helmet of the First Empire.

The helmet is made of gold and encased in old gold and finished with gold and silver.

A headgear consisting of four green feathers and a hat seen on the Champ Elysees recently and worn by a woman was seen in the French.

The only eccentricity which has been seen in the French is the helmet of the First Empire.

The helmet is made of gold and encased in old gold and finished with gold and silver.

A headgear consisting of four green feathers and a hat seen on the Champ Elysees recently and worn by a woman was seen in the French.

The only eccentricity which has been seen in the French is the helmet of the First Empire.

The helmet is made of gold and encased in old gold and finished with gold and silver.

A headgear consisting of four green feathers and a hat seen on the Champ Elysees recently and worn by a woman was seen in the French.

The only eccentricity which has been seen in the French is the helmet of the First Empire.

The helmet is made of gold and encased in old gold and finished with gold and silver.

A headgear consisting of four green feathers and a hat seen on the Champ Elysees recently and worn by a woman was seen in the French.

The only eccentricity which has been seen in the French is the helmet of the First Empire.

The helmet is made of gold and encased in old gold and finished with gold and silver.

REMINISCENCES BY H. L. SPENCER

In some reminiscences of over fifty years ago, H. L. Spencer, writes--

"About this time (1854 or '55) I met William Cullen Bryant for the first time."

He spent a day at his home on Staten Island. My mother recited his greatest poem, Thanatopsis, to me when I was a face I ever looked upon, yet in his way.

It was as familiar to me as an alphabet. I also met about this time Fitz Greene Halleck, N. P. Willis, Thomas Buchanan Read, John G. Sax, Charles G. Eastman, Daniel P. Thompson, George W. Curtis, Henry Ward Beecher, Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips and George P. Morris, author of the once famous song, "Woodman, spare that tree," and editor of the New York Mirror.

I met Morris once on a salmon fishing trip to the Miramichi, and again on a duck shooting expedition in the Adirondacks.

"It was at this period that I first met John G. Whittier, the Quaker poet, Ralph Waldo Emerson, the profoundest thinker of modern times, and Nathaniel Hawthorne, who delighted in the dissection of human nature and the exposure of its good and evil qualities as they had never before been exposed. Whittier was outwardly a commonplace man of letters, Emerson was all thought. He spoke as if his lips were marble and as if he were not aware that he had an auditor on the globe.

My mother recited his greatest poem, Thanatopsis, to me when I was a face I ever looked upon, yet in his way. It was as familiar to me as an alphabet. I also met about this time Fitz Greene Halleck, N. P. Willis, Thomas Buchanan Read, John G. Sax, Charles G. Eastman, Daniel P. Thompson, George W. Curtis, Henry Ward Beecher, Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips and George P. Morris, author of the once famous song, "Woodman, spare that tree," and editor of the New York Mirror.

I met Morris once on a salmon fishing trip to the Miramichi, and again on a duck shooting expedition in the Adirondacks.

"It was at this period that I first met John G. Whittier, the Quaker poet, Ralph Waldo Emerson, the profoundest thinker of modern times, and Nathaniel Hawthorne, who delighted in the dissection of human nature and the exposure of its good and evil qualities as they had never before been exposed. Whittier was outwardly a commonplace man of letters, Emerson was all thought. He spoke as if his lips were marble and as if he were not aware that he had an auditor on the globe.

My mother recited his greatest poem, Thanatopsis, to me when I was a face I ever looked upon, yet in his way. It was as familiar to me as an alphabet. I also met about this time Fitz Greene Halleck, N. P. Willis, Thomas Buchanan Read, John G. Sax, Charles G. Eastman, Daniel P. Thompson, George W. Curtis, Henry Ward Beecher, Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips and George P. Morris, author of the once famous song, "Woodman, spare that tree," and editor of the New York Mirror.

I met Morris once on a salmon fishing trip to the Miramichi, and again on a duck shooting expedition in the Adirondacks.

"It was at this period that I first met John G. Whittier, the Quaker poet, Ralph Waldo Emerson, the profoundest thinker of modern times, and Nathaniel Hawthorne, who delighted in the dissection of human nature and the exposure of its good and evil qualities as they had never before been exposed. Whittier was outwardly a commonplace man of letters, Emerson was all thought. He spoke as if his lips were marble and as if he were not aware that he had an auditor on the globe.

My mother recited his greatest poem, Thanatopsis, to me when I was a face I ever looked upon, yet in his way. It was as familiar to me as an alphabet. I also met about this time Fitz Greene Halleck, N. P. Willis, Thomas Buchanan Read, John G. Sax, Charles G. Eastman, Daniel P. Thompson, George W. Curtis, Henry Ward Beecher, Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips and George P. Morris, author of the once famous song, "Woodman, spare that tree," and editor of the New York Mirror.

I met Morris once on a salmon fishing trip to the Miramichi, and again on a duck shooting expedition in the Adirondacks.

"It was at this period that I first met John G. Whittier, the Quaker poet, Ralph Waldo Emerson, the profoundest thinker of modern times, and Nathaniel Hawthorne, who delighted in the dissection of human nature and the exposure of its good and evil qualities as they had never before been exposed. Whittier was outwardly a commonplace man of letters, Emerson was all thought. He spoke as if his lips were marble and as if he were not aware that he had an auditor on the globe.

My mother recited his greatest poem, Thanatopsis, to me when I was a face I ever looked upon, yet in his way. It was as familiar to me as an alphabet. I also met about this time Fitz Greene Halleck, N. P. Willis, Thomas Buchanan Read, John G. Sax, Charles G. Eastman, Daniel P. Thompson, George W. Curtis, Henry Ward Beecher, Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips and George P. Morris, author of the once famous song, "Woodman, spare that tree," and editor of the New York Mirror.

I met Morris once on a salmon fishing trip to the Miramichi, and again on a duck shooting expedition in the Adirondacks.

"It was at this period that I first met John G. Whittier, the Quaker poet, Ralph Waldo Emerson, the profoundest thinker of modern times, and Nathaniel Hawthorne, who delighted in the dissection of human nature and the exposure of its good and evil qualities as they had never before been exposed. Whittier was outwardly a commonplace man of letters, Emerson was all thought. He spoke as if his lips were marble and as if he were not aware that he had an auditor on the globe.

My mother recited his greatest poem, Thanatopsis, to me when I was a face I ever looked upon, yet in his way. It was as familiar to me as an alphabet. I also met about this time Fitz Greene Halleck, N. P. Willis, Thomas Buchanan Read, John G. Sax, Charles G. Eastman, Daniel P. Thompson, George W. Curtis, Henry Ward Beecher, Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips and George P. Morris, author of the once famous song, "Woodman, spare that tree," and editor of the New York Mirror.

I met Morris once on a salmon fishing trip to the Miramichi, and again on a duck shooting expedition in the Adirondacks.

"It was at this period that I first met John G. Whittier, the Quaker poet, Ralph Waldo Emerson, the profoundest thinker of modern times, and Nathaniel Hawthorne, who delighted in the dissection of human nature and the exposure of its good and evil qualities as they had never before been exposed. Whittier was outwardly a commonplace man of letters, Emerson was all thought. He spoke as if his lips were marble and as if he were not aware that he had an auditor on the globe.

My mother recited his greatest poem, Thanatopsis, to me when I was a face I ever looked upon, yet in his way. It was as familiar to me as an alphabet. I also met about this time Fitz Greene Halleck, N. P. Willis, Thomas Buchanan Read, John G. Sax, Charles G. Eastman, Daniel P. Thompson, George W. Curtis, Henry Ward Beecher, Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips and George P. Morris, author of the once famous song, "Woodman, spare that tree," and editor of the New York Mirror.

I met Morris once on a salmon fishing trip to the Miramichi, and again on a duck shooting expedition in the Adirondacks.

"It was at this period that I first met John G. Whittier, the Quaker poet, Ralph Waldo Emerson, the profoundest thinker of modern times, and Nathaniel Hawthorne, who delighted in the dissection of human nature and the exposure of its good and evil qualities as they had never before been exposed. Whittier was outwardly a commonplace man of letters, Emerson was all thought. He spoke as if his lips were marble and as if he were not aware that he had an auditor on the globe.

My mother recited his greatest poem, Thanatopsis, to me when I was a face I ever looked upon, yet in his way. It was as familiar to me as an alphabet. I also met about this time Fitz Greene Halleck, N. P. Willis, Thomas Buchanan Read, John G. Sax, Charles G. Eastman, Daniel P. Thompson, George W. Curtis, Henry Ward Beecher, Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips and George P. Morris, author of the once famous song, "Woodman, spare that tree," and editor of the New York Mirror.

I met Morris once on a salmon fishing trip to the Miramichi, and again on a duck shooting expedition in the Adirondacks.

"It was at this period that I first met John G. Whittier, the Quaker poet, Ralph Waldo Emerson, the profoundest thinker of modern times, and Nathaniel Hawthorne, who delighted in the dissection of human nature and the exposure of its good and evil qualities as they had never before been exposed. Whittier was outwardly a commonplace man of letters, Emerson was all thought. He spoke as if his lips were marble and as if he were not aware that he had an auditor on the globe.

My mother recited his greatest poem, Thanatopsis, to me when I was a face I ever looked upon, yet in his way. It was as familiar to me as an alphabet. I also met about this time Fitz Greene Halleck, N. P. Willis, Thomas Buchanan Read, John G. Sax, Charles G. Eastman, Daniel P. Thompson, George W. Curtis, Henry Ward Beecher, Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips and George P. Morris, author of the once famous song, "Woodman, spare that tree," and editor of the New York