TWICE-A-WEEK.

VOL. 12.

VICTORIA, B. C., MONDAY, AUGUST 5, 1895.

NO. 1.

THE VICTORIA TIMES

Twice-a-Week.

With this issue the VICTORIA WEEKLY TIMES will be changed to a Twice-a-Week edition, thus giving subscribers 104 papers every year instead of 52, as formerly. The paper will be eight pages, of six columns each, or 48 columns in all, an enlargement of over twenty-five per cent.

Although this change will largely increase the cost of publication, the price will remain the same as before, viz., TWO DOLLARS PER ANNUM, payable in advance.

The Twice-a-Week TIMES will be mailed at Victoria every Monday and Thursday evenings, and subscribers will thus receive the news several days earlier than by a weekly publication.

We ask for a continuation of your support. The Times will be a better paper than ever, will give all the home and foreign news, and will be, as in the past, independent and fearless in the expression of its views on all public questions.

WM. TEMPLEMAN, Manager.

TO OLD SUBSCRIBERS

Pay Up Now.

In view of the extra labor and expense involved in issuing two papers per week, prompt payments of subscriptions will in future be required. The Times has been extremely lenient in the past, but we find from experience that the best subscribers are those who pay annually in advance. We shall insist upon that policy hereafter. We print a paper that is worth more than the small sum charged for it, and which the people of British Columbia cannot do without if they want to get the news of the capital, of the world, and of the world. We, therefore, ask the reader, if he is in arrears for past or current years, to remit amount at once—next week, or the week after, but NOW.

LATE CABLE DISPATCHES.

An Unpleasant Incident in Connection With the Goodwood Races.

Germany Will Enforce a Quarantine Against Trans-Atlantic Cattle.

London, Aug. 5.—Now that the Goodwood week is closed everybody is looking forward to the Cowes regatta, which commences to-day, and where the usual brilliant gatherings will continue until the end of next week. An unpleasant incident is reported in connection with the Goodwood racing which, if true, does not redound to the credit of England's sporting prince. It is said that there is a little doubt that Baron de Hirsch scratched Remainder for the Manchester cup in order to allow the Prince of Wales' Florizel II. to win, but it is supposed that the Prince of Wales was no party to the arrangement. However, it is asserted that the Prince of Wales, at the beginning of the week, intimated to Captain Matchell, the owner of Ravensbury, that he was especially desirous of winning the Goodwood cup with Florizel II. It is added that Ravensbury, who was a favorite in every event, was thereupon scratched and Florizel II. won easily from Lord Penryn's The Sallian, which was only put in to make a race, there being only two runners. A Conservative paper first drew attention to this rumor and then the Radical Sun of this city took up the matter, saying that the report was persistently being made at Newmarket, and adding: "If the Prince is correctly represented it would appear that he temporarily lost his head and was unable to obtain a full grasp of the nature of the consequence of his action. It is to be hoped for the sake of the reputation of the turf and the prince as a sportsman and a gentleman, that the rumor be authoritatively denied and Ravensbury be seen at the post." Captain Matchell then came out with a denial of the story and the prince also heard the rumor, and it was declared by a member of his entourage that he was greatly upset and told a friend it was almost enough to make him sell his horses. The prince's friends explain the origin of the report in the fact that the prince asked Capt. Matchell if he intended to enter Ravensbury for the Goodwood cup, and that Florizel would not start as a colt as she would need to stiff a training. Captain Matchell said to have replied that he had no intention of starting Ravensbury. This explanation is very plausible, but the option is expressed in some quarters that the Prince's simple question may have influenced Captain Matchell's decision not to run his horse for the Goodwood cup.

The Cornell vs. Leander affair is not forgotten here, and the Dexter Times' comments on the cause of the collapse of the Cornell crew is denounced in the English papers.

The total number of houses burned is about 75 and the loss is $200,000; insurance, about $25,000. Hundreds of people are wandering about the streets or sleeping upon mattresses under trees. The fire originated in the stables owned by F. W. Henry, presumably from the spark of a cigar.

The losses include 24 locomotives, 54 freight cars, $225,000; shops, machinery, etc., $50,000; headquarters, passenger station, warehouse, etc., $125,000. Half a mile of track was destroyed, together with 7000 tons of coal and 5000 cords of wood, bringing the Northern Pacific loss up to $750,000.

Jackson, Mich., Aug. 5.—Two aeronautes were fatally injured in a balloon accident at Vandercook's lake last night. The balloon used was one of the hot air variety with double bars. At six o'clock it was successfully inflated. Ella Cook, the trapeze performer, took the upper and Charles Elliott the lower. At the moment the retaining ropes were cast off a gust of wind caught the canvas and carried it to one side and it took fire. The monster balloon shot into the air some distance with both aeronautes on the bottom, and then it came crashing down. Miss Peak is large and she fell heavily, breaking both legs besides suffering internal injuries. Elliott struck on his shoulders and is badly hurt. His injuries are said to be fatal. They were dragged from the burning balloon and carried to the nearest tent, where surgeons attended them. Miss Peak is a niece of Prof. Hogan, who lost his life in the Century magazine. The Atlantic Ocean five years ago.

Leavenworth, Kan., Aug. 5.—William Welton and John Stangout, school boys, 13 and 11 years old respectively, fought a deadly duel with knives on Saturday night. The boys are very plucky and are good friends and schoolmates, and both have good reputations. They quarreled over some trivial matter and, urged on by their associates, they agreed to fight it out with knives. They fought for 20 minutes and when the crowd of small friends around them found they could not separate them an alarm was given and the parents sent for. He is the smallest man who has yet gone to the chair, being only 5 feet in height. It is believed jealousy was the actuating motive for the deed. The woman died a short time after being assaulted. He says: "The story is ridiculous, and as far as I have been able to ascertain, is absolutely without foundation. I never heard of W. P. Morrow before, nor of his alleged scheme of organizing a filibustering expedition. Furthermore as the Daily Evening Bulletin says: 'Morrow is simply a confidence man.'"

Nyack, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Frank Briggs, the second victim of toastful eating at Spaikil, died last night.

THE TOURNAMENT OPENS. Annual Meet of the Tennis Club Commenced This Morning.

The annual tournament of the Victoria Lawn Tennis club opened this morning, and is this afternoon well under way and everything points to a very successful meeting. Some of the best players of the South cities are in attendance, and a fair share of the honors give promise of going over to the Stars and Stripes. A comparison of annual entries in each class shows that never before was the same amount of interest manifested by Victorians who are patrons of the game. If there was any objection to the day's sport it was the heat. Along in the afternoon the sun made it a trifle uncomfortable for spectators, let alone players. A pretty evening has been erected in the old board court, and the seating accommodations are better than ever before. The attendance to-day has been very good. The courts are in splendid condition, and the games played to-day were interesting. The results up to 3:45 o'clock to-day were as follows:

THE KNOWING SHAHZADA. He Got His Oriental Gifts Made in "Brunnaggen."

The Shahzada, he knows above a bit. According to the rules of the game, when a distinguished Oriental visits a European sovereign valuable presents have to be exchanged, and that of the visitor from the East has to be distinctly Eastern in its character. Now, it is a matter of common knowledge that Birmingham is accustomed to provide the greater part of the world, and Asia in particular, with a large proportion of its curiosities, antiques, dainties and the like. So the Shahzada, who has an autograph letter from his sire to give our Queen, and being sufficiently up in the game to know that he would be expected to hand it over in a jewelled case, desired to procure this "noteworthy example of the jeweller's art" from trusty Birmingham. The work was executed by a well-known firm in three weeks, is valued at $15,000, and throughout of distinctly Oriental character, especially as regards the centre diamond, which is three-quarters of an inch across, and weighs 17½ carats. But the game must not supposed to be over. The Queen has her immings now, and has to give the Shahzada back as good as he gave, which is all good for trade.—Pall Mall Gazette.

The council of the Board of Trade meets to-morrow morning to select a design for the cover for the annual report and attend to other business.
