Poetry.

APPEAL TO NOVASCOTIANS

IN AID OF THE PATRIOTIC FUND.

The following verses, the production of a Novascotian lady, have so much poetical as well as patriotic merit, that we gladly insert them.

England has put her armour on
To battle for the right,
And gallantry each soldier son
Goes forward to the fight;
France sends her chivalry and pride
To quell the despot Czar—
And Christian blade gleams bright beside
The Moslem scimitar.

To guard the honour of their land,
Repel their haughty foe:
The Allied troops—a dauntless band—
Forth to the battle go.
Dauntless but sad—they leave at home
Fond wives and children dear.
The glory won beside the tomb
May well make brave men fear.

Not for the danger or the death
That meet them on the way,—
Did Britain's sons e'er quail beneath
The fury of the fray?
No! Alma's heights give proud reply,—
The Inkermann's red plain
Tells of our army's chivalry,
Wraps glory round the slain.

Up rose we then, and lift the weight
To which these warriors bow,
Think they not of their desolate,
By England's hearth stones now:
How their fair helpless children press
Round each fond mother's knee,
Whose beating heart's full tenderness
Breaks forth in agony.

Burdened with weariness and pain,
For those who fall and die,—
Who in their country's battle slain,
Beside their foemen lie,
Followed on mother earth to rest
Where broken lances quiver,
By Balaklava's fortress crest,
Beside the Alma river!

Think of the anguish in these homes,
The agony of heart,
When such dark bitter tiding comes
The frozen drops to start.
And if to sorrow's burden deep,
Come want with iron tread—
Well may these mourning orphans weep
Their hero-fathers dead.

We to our country's glory thrill,
Her victories we share;
Then let us aid her in the ill
Her filled household bear;
Lift up at least the grassy of want,
From young fair helpless things,
And to the hours of sorrow grant
A gleam of mercy's wings—

Giving new strength to those who march
Where death's fierce bolts are driven,—
And building up a rainbow arch
Between the earth and heaven,—
Cheering the heart whose life blood runs
Forth on the battle field—
To know that Britain's grateful sons
His stricken ones to shield.

We have our fair Acadian homes,
With those we love the best;
Our soldiers wander mid the tombs
Dug deep in Russia's breast.
We may not aid them on the field
Or stem the dying blow;
But we can help, protect and shield
Their wives and children now.

Come then! to honour we appeal,
To sympathy and pride;
'Tis mercy's task the sad to heal—
For England's cause they died!
Up from our Novascotian land
Be generous answer made,—
Give honour to that warrior band—
Their wives and children aid!

VARIETY.

A GOOD RECOMMENDATION.—"Please, sir, don't you want a cabin boy?"

"I do want a cabin boy, my lad, but what's that to you? A little chap like you ain't fit for the berth."

"Oh, sir, I'm real strong. I can do a great deal of work if I ain't so very old."

"But what are you here for? You don't look like a city boy. Run away from home, hey?"

'Oh no, indeed, sir; my father died, and my mother is very poor, and I want to do something to help her. She let me come."

"Well sonney, where are your letters of recommendation? Can't take any boy without those."

Here was a damper. Willie had never thought of its being necessary to have letters from his minister, or his teachers, or from some proper person to prove to strangers that he was an honest and good boy. Now, what should he do? He stood in deep thought, the captain meanwhile watching his expressive face. At length he put his hand into his bosom and drew out his little Bible, and without one word put it into the captain's hand. The captain opened to the blank page and read:

"WILLIE GRAHAM, presented as a reward for regular and punctual attendance at Sabbath School, and for his blameless conduct there and elsewhere. From his Sunday School Teacher."

Capt. McLeod was not a pious man, but he could not consider the case before him with a heart unmoved. The little fatherless child, standing humbly before him, referring him to the testimony of his Sunday School teacher, as it was given in his little Bible, touched a tender spot in the heart of the noble seaman, and, clapping Willie heartily on the shoulder he said: "You are the boy for me: you shall sail with me; and if you are as good a lad as I think you are, your pockets shan't be empty when you go back to your good mother."

INTERESTING MARRIAGE.—A singular marriage has just been celebrated in the chapel of the Hotel des Invalids, that of a Zouave, who lost both feet and hands in the siege of Sebastopol, with a young woman of some property. The couple it seems, were engaged to be married before the Zouave left for Sebastopol; and when he came back, so frightfully but so gloriously mutilated, his betrothed generously declared that she would keep her word. The marriage was attended by the Governor of the Hotel and his staff, and by all the invalids. The Emperor and Prince Jerome assisted themselves to be represented by aides-de-camp, and the Empress by a lady of Honour.—After the ceremony, the cross of the Legion of Honour was presented to the hero in the name of the Emperor, and a valuable present to the bride in the name of the Empress. The Zouave has, therefore, been admitted to the Hotel des Invalids and promoted to the rank of sub-lieutenat.—Galignani.

Ignorance is a great substitute for Paregoric. Show us a blockhead, and we will show you a man who can sleep twelve hours out of a dozen. Nature, you can make men wakeful, you must make them intelligent. If we owned the less number of a railroad, we would consider an hour in the station-tender who did't take at least half a dozen papers.

Have the courage to carry a cheap umbrella: you will discover, by-and-bye, what you have it.

Have the courage to ask for the sell of your groceries until and if to pay them; you will be slow to run up others.

Have the courage to learn what your customers pay for them. They are mutual wants knowing, for the most part stories founded upon facts.

Have the courage to go to the pit of a theatre when you can't afford to pay for the boxes, and to stay away when you cannot well afford either.

Have the courage to own your altered circumstances honestly—you need not be ashamed of being worse to-day than you were yesterday.

Have the courage to let a man see what you think of him. If it be favourable, he will covet your acquaintance; if the contrary, he is unworthy of it.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

ERYSIPELAS OF EIGHTY YEARS DURATION CURED!

Copy of a Letter from George Sinclair, Esquire, of Paris, Canada, dated the 18th of July, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

SIR,—I feel a pleasure and pride in bearing witness to the wonderful benefit I have derived by the use of your inestimable Ointment and Pills. For eight years I suffered unceasingly from attacks of erysipelas; large purple blotches came all over my body; I was afflicted to that unpleasant feeling of itching and burning, which effected me both night and day, rendering life misery to me, as well as to all around,—so severe was the attack. I used several reputed remedies without deriving the least sensation to my misery. At last, I determined to try your Ointment and Pills; after taking them for a few weeks, a visible improvement took place, and I feel considerably better;—in three months, by continuing with your medicines, I was completely cured, and now enjoy the best of health. The truth of this statement is well known here, hence there is no necessity for me to request secrecy. I am, Sir, yours respectfully,

(Signed) GEO. SINCLAIR.

ULCERS IN THE LEG.—REMARKABLE CURE!

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Edward Tomkinson, of Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, dated the 4th May, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

SIR,—My sister, Miss Jane Tomkinson, suffered for a great number of years from a bad leg; in which there were several deeply seated and old wounds, defying the skill of some of the most eminent of the faculty. A variety of remedies were also used unsuccessfully; and it seemed to me that there was at last any thing capable of mitigating the agonies she endured. At length she had recourse to your Ointment and Pills, and after using them for about five weeks, she was completely cured, after all other means had failed to afford her the slightest relief. I have no objection to these facts being published, if you feel disposed to make them known.

I remain, Sir, your most obedient servant,

(Signed) EDWD. TOMKINSON,

A BAD BREAST CURED WHEN AT DEATH'S DOOR!!

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Henry Malden, of Three Rivers, Canada West, dated July 9th, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

SIR,—My wife suffered most severly after the birth of our last child with a bad breast. There were several holes in it, one as large as a hand; all the devices and stratagems I tried would not heal them, but assumed an aspect more frightful than before, and horrible to behold. As a last resource I tried your Ointment and Pills, which she persevered with for seven weeks, at the expiration of that time her breast was almost well; by continuing with your remedies two more weeks, she was entirely cured, and we offer you our united thanks for the cure effected.

I remain, Sir, yours truly,
