DEC. 26.—Christmas this year was celebrated in the usual way. There was the same air of mystery with which parcels were secreted, and the little ones looked for Santa as they always did and probably always will, only a little of the romance was spoiled by the weather, which made the roads in reindeer sleighs and reladeer wagons did not sound nearly so well.

The episcopal church held a Christmas service in the morning; the church was beautifully decorated and the sermon especially adapted to the young.

In the afternoon the children of St. Andrew's Sunday school had a Christmas tree, which was well covered with bags of candy, oranges, etc. After it had been duly admired, the good things were distributed among the children a short program was given atter which they were dismissed by their pastor, Rev. A. B waman.

The young people in connection with United church had their entertainment in the evening, the leading feature being the stereoption views, which took well with the smaller members of the audience. They came carols from the children who were nicely arranged on the stage. Refreshments in the form of candies were then served and after "God bave the Queen" had been ung the company separated. The children sang under the leadership of Prof. Clarke.

Date, 32.—The ladies of the "gulld" and "willing workers" of Christ church were charmingly entertained on Saturday evening of last week by Mrs. H. G. C. Ketchum sat her home on Victoria street. A delicious sea was served, the hostess being assisted by the young ladies of the societies.

Mrs. Ketchum went to Moncton on Friday to spend Christmas with her sister, Mrs. Binney.

Miss Harrison held open studies on Friday and Saturday. The display of pictures by her pupils was large and attractive. Miss Heustis showed some very good work in clis, also Miss Lusby, but it was rather early to criticise the work in general or judge fairly of their art ability, it being the close of their first term, but Miss Harrison comes from the Victoria school of art in Halifax, which is a fluarantee of the best methods.

Miss Hadson and Miss Jones under the patronage of Mrs. W. Curry held a reception in the Y. M. C. A. hall on Saturday aftersoon of last week. A large number were present who were greatly pleased with the "Emerson method" of physical culture and elocution exhibited by the young ladies who will give a course of instructions here.

Christmas weather was simply abominable but there were several merry home gatherings and a goodly number of small dinner parties. Mrs. A. R. Dickey gave a large par yon Mooday evening for the little folk, who were delighted with a prettily decorated tree which bore a great variety of fruit, which was distributed among the happy little guests.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Main gave a small but very enjoyable dance on Christmas evening in honor of their daughter, Mrs. A. McColl, who with Mr. McColl have been spending the week in town and returned to their home in New ulasgow on Wednesday. Without doubt it was a great pleasure for those present to meet Mrs. McColl, who was always a favorte in Autherst society.

St. George's church this evening was the scene of a pretty wedding, it being the marriage of Frank I, Stewart, E. A., of Charlottetown, to Helen O. Challoner. The ceremony was perfermed by the Venerable Archdeacon Finith, D. D., rector of the parish. The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, while the choir sang the opening hymn. "The voice that breathed o'er Eden." Miss Worgan, eldest daughter of Commande Worgan, R. N., acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. D. J. McDonald supported the groom. The bride, who looked exceedingly pretty, was dressed is white silk crepon trimmed with hand some lace, and wore the accustomed well and orange blossoms. The bridesmaid' dress was pale blue cachmere trimmed with lace and ribbon, which ruked her fair bair to perfection. Her hat was white trimmed with white feathers, silk and blue flowers. They both carried handsome bouquets of cream roses, hyacinths and carnations. The presents were numerous and very handsome. Mr. Stewart receiving from the academy students a very handsome clock, and from the teachers an elegant silver pitcher.
