

NOTICE
We have in stock and for private sale at our auction rooms, No. 96 Germain St., Masonic Block, pianos, mahogany sofas, mahogany couches, mirrors, typewriter and some very fine old steel engravings and oil paintings and will sell at bargain prices.
F. L. POTTS, Auctioneer.

He Had His Plumbing Attended to by G. W. WILLIAMS,
18 WATERLOO STREET.
Phone, 1988-11.

WE ARE SELLING
all the best varieties of HARD AND SOFT COAL
AT SPRING PRICES
R. P. & W. F. Starr,
LIMITED.
49 SMYTHE STREET.
226 UNION STREET.

A. C. SMITH & CO.
WHOLESALE
Hay, Oats
AND
Millfeeds
Choice White Middlings and Manitoba Oats now on hand
Telephones West 7-11 and West 81.
WEST, ST. JOHN, N. B.

FOR HIGH GRADE CONFECTIONERY
DELIGHTFUL ICE CREAM and up-to-date Soda Drinks with the latest and newest flavors and fancies, call at W. HAWKER & SON
Druggists, 104 Prince Wm. St.

Rich'd Sullivan & Co.
Wines and Liquors
Wholesale only AGENTS FOR
WHITE HORSE CELLAR SCOTCH WHISKY,
LAWSON'S LIQUEUR,
GEO. SAYER & CO'S FAMOUS COGNAC BRANDIES,
PABST MILWAUKEE LAGER BEER.
44 & 46 Dock St.

ROBT. MAXWELL,
Mason and Builder, Valuator and Appraiser.
Brick, Lime, Stone, Tile, and Plaster Worker.
General Jobbing Promptly and Neatly Done.
Office 15 Sydney Street.
Sec. 535 Union St. Tel. 533.

A. R. CAMPBELL & SON,
HIGH-CLASS TAILORING
26 Germain Street.
THE DAILY GLEANER
OF FREDERICTON,
is on sale in St. John at the office of THE STANDARD, 82 Prince William Street, and the NEWS Stand at the Royal Hotel.

BICYCLES
BICYCLE SUPPLIES
DISC RECORDS BICYCLE MANSION
at Cost Prices 249 Vauxhall St. TORONTO
Sender Cut Price Catalogue.
N. B. Coal
I have 10 tons of Fresh Mined New Brunswick Screened Coal that I will sell at $4.00 a ton delivered.
JAMES S. MCGIVERN, Agt.,
Tel. 455 Mill St.

WHERE WOMEN ARE DESPISED

Attitude of Men of the Savage Tribes Toward the Weaker Sex--Denied Privilege of a Name.

Woman among savage peoples, as was the case with the ancients, is held with but few exceptions in great contempt and in several cases even in horror. Among the Dyaks of north-west Borneo young men are prohibited from eating game, which is especially meant as food for women and old men, for fear of rendering them deer hearted. Boys of the Wirajuri tribe must not play with girls and should any one of the Imahas do so he would be scoffed at. Among the Samoyeds the Asiatic and other Shamanistic populations woman is regarded as contaminated, so much so that men avoid touching anything belonging to her. Women, therefore, have got their own crockery and utensils and cannot go beyond the corner of the tent allotted to them. They are not allowed to walk where men resort, to nor even are they permitted to approach the fire. Should a man be compelled to make use of a woman's utensil he will take good care to free himself from impurity by fumigation. Likewise when a woman has given the pitch to the tent, says the North American Review, she must first fumigate it before man vouchsafes to make his entrance. In the South Sea Islands no woman is permitted to tamper with the food set apart for men or kept in store for the gods. Among some Brazilian tribes it is believed that the presence of woman will hinder wine from fermenting. In Sukakiva should a woman happen to touch or sit near an object put under taboo and rendered sacred and inviolable because of its contact with man it cannot be further made use of, and she has to pay the penalty with her life. In Tahiti women must respect the places resorted to by men as well as their fishing tackle and weapons. The head of the husband or father is considered defiled by contact with a woman, nor is it lawful for a wife or sister to meddle with any object or implement tabooed by a chief. The Burmese consider it disreputable to have a woman living overhead, and to avoid such a disgrace they build only one storied houses. The walls of the Maoris' dwellings are tabooed; no man will lean against them. Among the Kafirs of East Africa the woman is locked up within the interior of the building, her husband occupying the remainder. She is strictly prohibited from going out of doors, every infringement being liable to three years imprisonment. A Bakari woman on being asked her name answered only, "I am a woman." None of the Samoyedeans, Corean or Abipone womankind is endowed with a name. Women are consequently often denied admittance into the temples, as is the case with the Arabs of Mecca. According to several theologians woman has no room whatever in paradise. The same opinion is prevalent among the Hawaiians, should a Hindu woman touch an image of the deity of its divinity being thereby destroyed, it is cast away as unfit for further use. Among the Fiji Islanders dogs are excluded from some temples. Women are debarred from all. In the Marquesas Islands should a woman venture to enter a temple while divine service is being held or even walk under the shadow of its trees she would be forthwith put to death. Exclusion of the fair sex extends even to dancing parties, festivals, entertainments and banquets. In many cases only folks of one sex make up a dance, the intrusion of the other being punishable with death. This separation of the two sexes is adhered to by Greenlanders, even in funeral ceremonies. The Kafirs of the Orange Free State believe that man's curse brings up no consequences, whereas that of a woman is always baneful. "Women," says the Pishawar people, "are all witches, for several reasons they may not exert their inborn powers. So likewise women are all regarded as witches in Gangpur in Taos. In the Slave Coast hysterical women are believed to be possessed with spirits, and such are destined to religious offices hold full sway over their husbands, who have to serve and pay homage to them. The Fuegians celebrate an annual festival in commemoration of man's liberation from pitiless government, for women had got the upper hand and wielded the sceptre on account of her exclusive possession of the secrets of sorcery.

Woman among savage peoples, as was the case with the ancients, is held with but few exceptions in great contempt and in several cases even in horror. Among the Dyaks of north-west Borneo young men are prohibited from eating game, which is especially meant as food for women and old men, for fear of rendering them deer hearted. Boys of the Wirajuri tribe must not play with girls and should any one of the Imahas do so he would be scoffed at. Among the Samoyeds the Asiatic and other Shamanistic populations woman is regarded as contaminated, so much so that men avoid touching anything belonging to her. Women, therefore, have got their own crockery and utensils and cannot go beyond the corner of the tent allotted to them. They are not allowed to walk where men resort, to nor even are they permitted to approach the fire. Should a man be compelled to make use of a woman's utensil he will take good care to free himself from impurity by fumigation. Likewise when a woman has given the pitch to the tent, says the North American Review, she must first fumigate it before man vouchsafes to make his entrance. In the South Sea Islands no woman is permitted to tamper with the food set apart for men or kept in store for the gods. Among some Brazilian tribes it is believed that the presence of woman will hinder wine from fermenting. In Sukakiva should a woman happen to touch or sit near an object put under taboo and rendered sacred and inviolable because of its contact with man it cannot be further made use of, and she has to pay the penalty with her life. In Tahiti women must respect the places resorted to by men as well as their fishing tackle and weapons. The head of the husband or father is considered defiled by contact with a woman, nor is it lawful for a wife or sister to meddle with any object or implement tabooed by a chief. The Burmese consider it disreputable to have a woman living overhead, and to avoid such a disgrace they build only one storied houses. The walls of the Maoris' dwellings are tabooed; no man will lean against them. Among the Kafirs of East Africa the woman is locked up within the interior of the building, her husband occupying the remainder. She is strictly prohibited from going out of doors, every infringement being liable to three years imprisonment. A Bakari woman on being asked her name answered only, "I am a woman." None of the Samoyedeans, Corean or Abipone womankind is endowed with a name. Women are consequently often denied admittance into the temples, as is the case with the Arabs of Mecca. According to several theologians woman has no room whatever in paradise. The same opinion is prevalent among the Hawaiians, should a Hindu woman touch an image of the deity of its divinity being thereby destroyed, it is cast away as unfit for further use. Among the Fiji Islanders dogs are excluded from some temples. Women are debarred from all. In the Marquesas Islands should a woman venture to enter a temple while divine service is being held or even walk under the shadow of its trees she would be forthwith put to death. Exclusion of the fair sex extends even to dancing parties, festivals, entertainments and banquets. In many cases only folks of one sex make up a dance, the intrusion of the other being punishable with death. This separation of the two sexes is adhered to by Greenlanders, even in funeral ceremonies. The Kafirs of the Orange Free State believe that man's curse brings up no consequences, whereas that of a woman is always baneful. "Women," says the Pishawar people, "are all witches, for several reasons they may not exert their inborn powers. So likewise women are all regarded as witches in Gangpur in Taos. In the Slave Coast hysterical women are believed to be possessed with spirits, and such are destined to religious offices hold full sway over their husbands, who have to serve and pay homage to them. The Fuegians celebrate an annual festival in commemoration of man's liberation from pitiless government, for women had got the upper hand and wielded the sceptre on account of her exclusive possession of the secrets of sorcery.

Woman among savage peoples, as was the case with the ancients, is held with but few exceptions in great contempt and in several cases even in horror. Among the Dyaks of north-west Borneo young men are prohibited from eating game, which is especially meant as food for women and old men, for fear of rendering them deer hearted. Boys of the Wirajuri tribe must not play with girls and should any one of the Imahas do so he would be scoffed at. Among the Samoyeds the Asiatic and other Shamanistic populations woman is regarded as contaminated, so much so that men avoid touching anything belonging to her. Women, therefore, have got their own crockery and utensils and cannot go beyond the corner of the tent allotted to them. They are not allowed to walk where men resort, to nor even are they permitted to approach the fire. Should a man be compelled to make use of a woman's utensil he will take good care to free himself from impurity by fumigation. Likewise when a woman has given the pitch to the tent, says the North American Review, she must first fumigate it before man vouchsafes to make his entrance. In the South Sea Islands no woman is permitted to tamper with the food set apart for men or kept in store for the gods. Among some Brazilian tribes it is believed that the presence of woman will hinder wine from fermenting. In Sukakiva should a woman happen to touch or sit near an object put under taboo and rendered sacred and inviolable because of its contact with man it cannot be further made use of, and she has to pay the penalty with her life. In Tahiti women must respect the places resorted to by men as well as their fishing tackle and weapons. The head of the husband or father is considered defiled by contact with a woman, nor is it lawful for a wife or sister to meddle with any object or implement tabooed by a chief. The Burmese consider it disreputable to have a woman living overhead, and to avoid such a disgrace they build only one storied houses. The walls of the Maoris' dwellings are tabooed; no man will lean against them. Among the Kafirs of East Africa the woman is locked up within the interior of the building, her husband occupying the remainder. She is strictly prohibited from going out of doors, every infringement being liable to three years imprisonment. A Bakari woman on being asked her name answered only, "I am a woman." None of the Samoyedeans, Corean or Abipone womankind is endowed with a name. Women are consequently often denied admittance into the temples, as is the case with the Arabs of Mecca. According to several theologians woman has no room whatever in paradise. The same opinion is prevalent among the Hawaiians, should a Hindu woman touch an image of the deity of its divinity being thereby destroyed, it is cast away as unfit for further use. Among the Fiji Islanders dogs are excluded from some temples. Women are debarred from all. In the Marquesas Islands should a woman venture to enter a temple while divine service is being held or even walk under the shadow of its trees she would be forthwith put to death. Exclusion of the fair sex extends even to dancing parties, festivals, entertainments and banquets. In many cases only folks of one sex make up a dance, the intrusion of the other being punishable with death. This separation of the two sexes is adhered to by Greenlanders, even in funeral ceremonies. The Kafirs of the Orange Free State believe that man's curse brings up no consequences, whereas that of a woman is always baneful. "Women," says the Pishawar people, "are all witches, for several reasons they may not exert their inborn powers. So likewise women are all regarded as witches in Gangpur in Taos. In the Slave Coast hysterical women are believed to be possessed with spirits, and such are destined to religious offices hold full sway over their husbands, who have to serve and pay homage to them. The Fuegians celebrate an annual festival in commemoration of man's liberation from pitiless government, for women had got the upper hand and wielded the sceptre on account of her exclusive possession of the secrets of sorcery.

Woman among savage peoples, as was the case with the ancients, is held with but few exceptions in great contempt and in several cases even in horror. Among the Dyaks of north-west Borneo young men are prohibited from eating game, which is especially meant as food for women and old men, for fear of rendering them deer hearted. Boys of the Wirajuri tribe must not play with girls and should any one of the Imahas do so he would be scoffed at. Among the Samoyeds the Asiatic and other Shamanistic populations woman is regarded as contaminated, so much so that men avoid touching anything belonging to her. Women, therefore, have got their own crockery and utensils and cannot go beyond the corner of the tent allotted to them. They are not allowed to walk where men resort, to nor even are they permitted to approach the fire. Should a man be compelled to make use of a woman's utensil he will take good care to free himself from impurity by fumigation. Likewise when a woman has given the pitch to the tent, says the North American Review, she must first fumigate it before man vouchsafes to make his entrance. In the South Sea Islands no woman is permitted to tamper with the food set apart for men or kept in store for the gods. Among some Brazilian tribes it is believed that the presence of woman will hinder wine from fermenting. In Sukakiva should a woman happen to touch or sit near an object put under taboo and rendered sacred and inviolable because of its contact with man it cannot be further made use of, and she has to pay the penalty with her life. In Tahiti women must respect the places resorted to by men as well as their fishing tackle and weapons. The head of the husband or father is considered defiled by contact with a woman, nor is it lawful for a wife or sister to meddle with any object or implement tabooed by a chief. The Burmese consider it disreputable to have a woman living overhead, and to avoid such a disgrace they build only one storied houses. The walls of the Maoris' dwellings are tabooed; no man will lean against them. Among the Kafirs of East Africa the woman is locked up within the interior of the building, her husband occupying the remainder. She is strictly prohibited from going out of doors, every infringement being liable to three years imprisonment. A Bakari woman on being asked her name answered only, "I am a woman." None of the Samoyedeans, Corean or Abipone womankind is endowed with a name. Women are consequently often denied admittance into the temples, as is the case with the Arabs of Mecca. According to several theologians woman has no room whatever in paradise. The same opinion is prevalent among the Hawaiians, should a Hindu woman touch an image of the deity of its divinity being thereby destroyed, it is cast away as unfit for further use. Among the Fiji Islanders dogs are excluded from some temples. Women are debarred from all. In the Marquesas Islands should a woman venture to enter a temple while divine service is being held or even walk under the shadow of its trees she would be forthwith put to death. Exclusion of the fair sex extends even to dancing parties, festivals, entertainments and banquets. In many cases only folks of one sex make up a dance, the intrusion of the other being punishable with death. This separation of the two sexes is adhered to by Greenlanders, even in funeral ceremonies. The Kafirs of the Orange Free State believe that man's curse brings up no consequences, whereas that of a woman is always baneful. "Women," says the Pishawar people, "are all witches, for several reasons they may not exert their inborn powers. So likewise women are all regarded as witches in Gangpur in Taos. In the Slave Coast hysterical women are believed to be possessed with spirits, and such are destined to religious offices hold full sway over their husbands, who have to serve and pay homage to them. The Fuegians celebrate an annual festival in commemoration of man's liberation from pitiless government, for women had got the upper hand and wielded the sceptre on account of her exclusive possession of the secrets of sorcery.

Woman among savage peoples, as was the case with the ancients, is held with but few exceptions in great contempt and in several cases even in horror. Among the Dyaks of north-west Borneo young men are prohibited from eating game, which is especially meant as food for women and old men, for fear of rendering them deer hearted. Boys of the Wirajuri tribe must not play with girls and should any one of the Imahas do so he would be scoffed at. Among the Samoyeds the Asiatic and other Shamanistic populations woman is regarded as contaminated, so much so that men avoid touching anything belonging to her. Women, therefore, have got their own crockery and utensils and cannot go beyond the corner of the tent allotted to them. They are not allowed to walk where men resort, to nor even are they permitted to approach the fire. Should a man be compelled to make use of a woman's utensil he will take good care to free himself from impurity by fumigation. Likewise when a woman has given the pitch to the tent, says the North American Review, she must first fumigate it before man vouchsafes to make his entrance. In the South Sea Islands no woman is permitted to tamper with the food set apart for men or kept in store for the gods. Among some Brazilian tribes it is believed that the presence of woman will hinder wine from fermenting. In Sukakiva should a woman happen to touch or sit near an object put under taboo and rendered sacred and inviolable because of its contact with man it cannot be further made use of, and she has to pay the penalty with her life. In Tahiti women must respect the places resorted to by men as well as their fishing tackle and weapons. The head of the husband or father is considered defiled by contact with a woman, nor is it lawful for a wife or sister to meddle with any object or implement tabooed by a chief. The Burmese consider it disreputable to have a woman living overhead, and to avoid such a disgrace they build only one storied houses. The walls of the Maoris' dwellings are tabooed; no man will lean against them. Among the Kafirs of East Africa the woman is locked up within the interior of the building, her husband occupying the remainder. She is strictly prohibited from going out of doors, every infringement being liable to three years imprisonment. A Bakari woman on being asked her name answered only, "I am a woman." None of the Samoyedeans, Corean or Abipone womankind is endowed with a name. Women are consequently often denied admittance into the temples, as is the case with the Arabs of Mecca. According to several theologians woman has no room whatever in paradise. The same opinion is prevalent among the Hawaiians, should a Hindu woman touch an image of the deity of its divinity being thereby destroyed, it is cast away as unfit for further use. Among the Fiji Islanders dogs are excluded from some temples. Women are debarred from all. In the Marquesas Islands should a woman venture to enter a temple while divine service is being held or even walk under the shadow of its trees she would be forthwith put to death. Exclusion of the fair sex extends even to dancing parties, festivals, entertainments and banquets. In many cases only folks of one sex make up a dance, the intrusion of the other being punishable with death. This separation of the two sexes is adhered to by Greenlanders, even in funeral ceremonies. The Kafirs of the Orange Free State believe that man's curse brings up no consequences, whereas that of a woman is always baneful. "Women," says the Pishawar people, "are all witches, for several reasons they may not exert their inborn powers. So likewise women are all regarded as witches in Gangpur in Taos. In the Slave Coast hysterical women are believed to be possessed with spirits, and such are destined to religious offices hold full sway over their husbands, who have to serve and pay homage to them. The Fuegians celebrate an annual festival in commemoration of man's liberation from pitiless government, for women had got the upper hand and wielded the sceptre on account of her exclusive possession of the secrets of sorcery.

THREE U. S. SAILORS DROWNED FROM VESSEL
San Francisco, July 25.—Three privates from the South United States prison guard stationed at Alcatraz Island lost their lives yesterday when a yawl in which they, with three others, had been sitting on the bay, was capsized in the treacherous Carquinez Straits midway between Angel and Alcatraz Islands. Two of the men, Walter Thompson of Ohio, and Lynn K. Ross of San Jose, Cal., were drowned, and Alfonso Nash of Clinton, Tenn., died a few hours after being rescued along with his companions, Adam Higsell, Lester Fritz, and Charles Bates.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
CURES ALL KIDNEY DISEASE
RHEUMATISM
BRITISH DIABETES
DIABETES BACKACHE
No. 23 THE PRINCE OF WELLS

VISCOUNTESS IN HER BRIDAL GOWN

This girl was Mildred Carter, daughter of J. Ridgely Carter, United States ambassador to Roumania. Now she is a Viscountess, the bride of the young Viscount Acheson, son of the Earl of Gosford. The British were charmed with her beauty when she appeared arrayed for the bridal ceremony in the American style, dressed in a simple gown, wearing a white lace cap and a tulle veil and carrying a great cheat of white lilies on her arm.

WOMEN VOTES ARE PRIZED

New Zealand's Experience in 17 Years Show Almost Equal Proportion of Women Voters--A Matter of Course.

The statute extending the franchise to New Zealand women was passed in 1893. Since then there have been six parliaments elected by the joint votes of the men and women of New Zealand. In all of these elections, says the North American Review, the women of the country have taken their full share. The proportion of women who voted at each election compared with those whose names were on the rolls have been almost exactly the same as in the case with the men. Practically, however, all who can do so vote at each election. The fears expressed at the time the franchise was given them that the result would be either that the women would vote just as their husbands and fathers told them to vote or that the new privilege would mean disintegration in families and the practical degradation of the women have not been justified by the experience. The women of New Zealand vote at elections as a matter of course just as they partake of their meals, or do any other ordinary duty of everyday life. The principal change produced by the new order of things, as far as the family life of the people is concerned, would seem to be that what may be called political questions have become matters of general interest instead of being as formerly matters which were tacitly presumed to be outside the sphere of one-half of the family. In the matter of the extended franchise, therefore, it was not theory but practical experience that won the day. It was not because women were human beings as much as men, it was not even because they were intelligent human beings to whom men were ready to entrust the care of their homes and families; it was because they believed on the evidence of experience that women if they could vote would take an intelligent interest in public questions and would by their votes forward the best interests of the country and its people.

BONILLA SAILS WITH INFANTILE NAVY
Honduran Pretender Has Two Schooner Loads of Men and Arms and Is Expected to Make Trouble.

Summing Up Now in Fishery Arbitration
The Hague, July 25.—The long drawn out arguments in the Newfoundland fisheries case before the arbitration tribunal reached the summing up stage today. Sir W. S. Robson, British attorney general will conclude for Great Britain and Senator Ellhu Root will close for the United States. Sir William, who has the first say, will occupy the present week. In opening he took the questions before the tribunal berbatim. Dealing with number one he denied in toto the claims that the United States exercised any sovereignty over the fishing grounds.

WOMAN MAY HAVE BEEN MURDERED
Cleveland, Ohio, July 25.—Mrs. Mary Emerson, 52 years of age, who died in a hospital here on Thursday, is believed by the police to have been poisoned as the result of a murder plot. Two women companions who were with her when she was taken ill have disappeared. According to the doctor who attended Mrs. Emerson the symptoms of her illness point to poisoning. An autopsy has been ordered to be held today.

AMERICAN BALLOON CROSSED THE CHANNEL
Boulogne, July 25.—The balloon St. Louis, piloted by John Dunville, which left Hurlingham, England at 4.30 Saturday afternoon, descended here at 8.20 the same evening, having made the passage of the English Channel.

LETTER FROM LONDON WOMAN

Lady Angela Forbes Enters Ranks of Titled Shopkeepers--Most Perfect Doll House in the World.

London, July 25.—Lady Angela Forbes is the latest recruit to the ranks of titled shopkeepers in London. Her enterprise is a flower shop, where she personally waits on customers and sells them plants and blossoms at fancy prices. The little store is prettily fitted up, and the titled proprietress flits about among her wares wearing a blue apron and gardening gloves. "My Shop" is the sign over the door. Lady Angela is the third member of the family to enter the ranks of titled shopkeepers in London. Her sister, the Duchess of Sutherland, has a shop in Bond Street for the sale of old silver, pottery and metal work made by the Cripples Guild, and Lady Warwick, her half sister, was in the millinery business in Bond Street and later in Sloane Street, and now owns a horticultural school for girls. Lord Rosslyn, the elder brother, was at one time editor of Scottish Life and a war correspondent in Ladysmith. He afterward adopted the stage as a profession. The most wonderful doll house in the world is on exhibition in London. It is the work of Capt. Wilkinson, Ulster King of Arms, who is an expert in heraldry and the fine arts. The house is about seven feet square and took about five years to complete. The furnishings is not yet finished. As far as possible only antique furniture, silver and china are used, and Capt. Wilkinson, and his wife, Lady Muriel Herbert, have collected all the contents. Everything is in proportion. On the hall table a visitor took the size of a postage stamp with King Edward's name inscribed, for he and Queen Alexandra went to the house in 1903. In the dining room is a Jacobean buffet eight inches long and an oak table of corresponding dimensions. A Georgian silver beaker the size of a thimble is flanked by diminutive Queen Anne candlesticks, and a silver gilt Nuremberg tankard, old Dutch candle sconces, Chiddingfold and Venetian glasses, a Dresden coffee service, silver salvers, and tea and coffee urns are among the matchless curiosities to be seen in the wee dining room. The oak doors which separate the reception rooms were carved by Capt. Wilkinson. The grand piano, of satin-wood and mahogany, is the work of a Mr. Putland. It is a perfect model, thoroughly in tune and can be played upon, though a child's hand could span the keyboard. The library is fairly complete. There are volumes of the poets, of Keats, Coleridge and Shakespeare which measure half an inch in length, and there are volumes dated 1642 which could be hidden in a man's hand. The entire contents could almost be carried off in a man's hat, but their value is large. The Crown Prince Wilhelm has his own way of dealing with the socialist danger. Returning to Berlin from Luxembourg in his automobile recently he overtook a wandering carpenter who was trudging wearily along the highway with his tools in a bundle on his back. The prince stopped the car and asked the man if he would like a lift. Naturally a little taken back, the workman hesitated a moment. To reassure him Prince Wilhelm asked him if he pressed at putting a solitary piece when at the man's own request he put him down in the suburb of Schoneburg, on the outskirts of Berlin. Many similar actions by German's crown prince have been recorded in the last few years, and there is much discussion in Germany as to whether they are the result of a spontaneous warmth of heart or shrewd deliberation on a mistake of both. What ever inspires them, one thing seems certain, they are storing up for the crown prince a treasure of democratic popularity which may one day be a valuable force in German politics.

Mermaid at 16 Years
ALISIE AYKROYD.
Boston, Mass., July 25.—In Alisie Aykroyd, 16, Boston claims the best girl swimmer this country, if not the world, has ever produced. So enthusiastic are the Hub's natatorial experts over the girl that it is predicted Miss Aykroyd will eclipse the famous Annette Kellerman. Despite her youth Miss Aykroyd will enter the 16 mile swim on the Thames river, England, Aug. 20, and her supporters are confident she will finish among the leaders in this grueling contest. While training for this contest Miss Aykroyd recently swam across Boston bay from Revere beach to Nahant and return a distance of 7 miles, tiring a strong male swimmer. Miss Aykroyd is the first of her sex to attempt the Revere beach-Nahant swim, and when she finished she was greeted by 150,000 enthusiasts. Head tides and a brisk wind which raised a disagreeable chop failed to weaken her, and she finished fresh and strong. In swimming Miss Aykroyd uses the double overhead stroke until well on her way and then settles down to the space devouring underhand Australian stroke. Throughout her recent swim the girl fish did not float to rest herself even when being given beer tea as a stimulant.

Wanted--I want three Bright Women, not under twenty-five, for the finest business proposition in St. John. Pleasant and very remunerative. Box 469 Standard Office. 1270-25-July 27
Wanted--Teacher holding Superior License. Also first or second class teacher. Latter must be Roman Catholic. Apply to J. H. Gray, Fairville, N. B. 1265-23-July 27
Coatmaker and Pantmaker Wanted--Steady employment. Apply at once. A. Gilmour, 68 King St. 11

LOST
Lost--An Amythest Rosary on Chipman Hill, Union or Mill streets. Finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving at this office.

BOARDING
Tourists and Others--Good rooms with or without board, 27 Coburg street. 1199-12-July 27
The King's Daughters' Guild--A boarding house for women, 13 Prince William street. Terms $1 per day. Less per week. 1233-20-July 27
Cherry, Modern Rooms; good locality, on car line. Terms reasonable. 104 Carmarthen St. 1240-13-July 27
Boarding--Tourists and others can secure first class accommodation at 86 Coburg St. 1249-12-AUG 1

NOTICE
The Boarding House of Mrs. E. Spense, 29 Kennedy street, will be closed to the transient trade for three months from July 20th until Oct. 20th. 1266-28-July 30

PUMPS
Fasked Pumps, Compound Duplex, Centrifugal, outside packed plungers, Piston Valves, Automatic feed pumps and receivers. Single and double acting power, Triple stuff pumps for pulp mills, independent jet condensing apparatus, centrifugal pumps, etc. S. S. STEPHENSON & COMPANY, Nelson street. St. John, N. B.

A. E. HAMILTON,
GENERAL CONTRACTOR and WOODWORKING FACTORY.
Everything in WOOD supplied for Building Purposes.
A. E. HAMILTON, Phone 21,
Cor. Erin and Brunswick Streets.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
Necessity is the Mother of Invention, and Classified Advertising was invented by The Man who was Forced to be brief.
10 PER WORD PER INSERTION, 6 INSERTIONS CHARGED AS 4. MINIMUM CHARGE 25c.

FOR SALE
For Sale--New Home, New Domestic and other Machines, from $7 in my shop. I have no travellers. Genuine needles and oil. All kinds of sewing machines repaired. William Crawford, 105 Princess street, opposite White Store.

FOR SALE
SUMMER HOUSE
in Rothesay Park
A most attractive out of town residence, situated in beautiful grove, with spring of clear water. Only five minutes from the station. A bargain for cash. Apply by letter to HOUSE, Care of The Standard.

TO LET
To Let--Furnished rooms to let in Y. M. C. A. Building, Possession immediately. Apply to Secretary. 1137-15-July 27
To Let--Bright attractive rooms, in good location. Terms reasonable. 24 Wellington Row. 1116-11-July 27

WANTED
Wanted--I want three Bright Women, not under twenty-five, for the finest business proposition in St. John. Pleasant and very remunerative. Box 469 Standard Office. 1270-25-July 27
Wanted--Teacher holding Superior License. Also first or second class teacher. Latter must be Roman Catholic. Apply to J. H. Gray, Fairville, N. B. 1265-23-July 27
Coatmaker and Pantmaker Wanted--Steady employment. Apply at once. A. Gilmour, 68 King St. 11

LOST
Lost--An Amythest Rosary on Chipman Hill, Union or Mill streets. Finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving at this office.

BOARDING
Tourists and Others--Good rooms with or without board, 27 Coburg street. 1199-12-July 27
The King's Daughters' Guild--A boarding house for women, 13 Prince William street. Terms $1 per day. Less per week. 1233-20-July 27
Cherry, Modern Rooms; good locality, on car line. Terms reasonable. 104 Carmarthen St. 1240-13-July 27
Boarding--Tourists and others can secure first class accommodation at 86 Coburg St. 1249-12-AUG 1

NOTICE
The Boarding House of Mrs. E. Spense, 29 Kennedy street, will be closed to the transient trade for three months from July 20th until Oct. 20th. 1266-28-July 30

PUMPS
Fasked Pumps, Compound Duplex, Centrifugal, outside packed plungers, Piston Valves, Automatic feed pumps and receivers. Single and double acting power, Triple stuff pumps for pulp mills, independent jet condensing apparatus, centrifugal pumps, etc. S. S. STEPHENSON & COMPANY, Nelson street. St. John, N. B.

A. E. HAMILTON,
GENERAL CONTRACTOR and WOODWORKING FACTORY.
Everything in WOOD supplied for Building Purposes.
A. E. HAMILTON, Phone 21,
Cor. Erin and Brunswick Streets.

Tenders for Paving
The City of St. John invites Sealed Tenders for paving in Germain street, between Princess and Queen streets, according to plans and specifications to be seen and forms of tender obtained in the office of the City Engineer, Room 5, City Hall. A cash deposit must accompany each bid, the amount being as stated in the specification. A sample of the kind of asphalt proposed to be used and an assayer's certificate of the analysis thereof must accompany each tender. The city does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender. All tenders must be addressed to the Common Clerk, Room No. 3, City Hall, who will receive bids until noon of Tuesday, July 26th instant. No bids will be considered unless on the form supplied from the Engineer's office.
WM. MURDOCH,
City Engineer.
ADAM P. MACINTYRE,
Comptroller.
St. John, N. B., July 20th, 1910.

Her Taking Way.
Hotel Manager--Caught a souvenir spoon fiend in the act in our dining-room today.
His Wife--Indeed! And what did you say to the culprit?
Hotel Manager--I asked her, by George, if she thought spoons were a kind of medicine to be taken after meals.--Boston Transcript.

PICTURE FRAMING
1107 Bron, 106 King Street, Picture Framing and Furniture Repairing. Phone 1653-11. 12w-Limo-MES

WATCHMAKER
DIAMOND SETTING, JEWELRY, SOUVENIR GOODS. Particular attention given to fine watch repairing. ERNEST, L.A.W., 3 Coburg Street. 16w-3m-A17

MADAME WHITE
BEAUTY PARLORS
Hairdressing, facial massage, manicuring, scalp treatment, wigs, toupees. Mail orders attended to. Phone, 15w-62m-Nov. 13. King Square.

DRESS MAKING
Mrs. J. F. Bowes is now ready with all the latest styles in Dress and Mantle making to receive customers at 24 Wellington Row. 1127-11

AGENT
Montreal Star, Standard and Family Herald. Send address. Wm. M. Campbell, Market Place. 13w-12m-July 27

Professional.
D. K. HAZEN,
Attorney-at-Law
106 Prince William Street.
Money to loan on Mortgage on real Estate.

HAZEN & RAYMOND,
BARRISTERS-AT-LAW.
108 Prince William Street,
St. John, N. B.

John B. M. Baxter, K. C.
BARRISTER, ETC.
Princess Street,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

Crocket & Guthrie,
Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, &c. Offices, Kitchen Bldg., opp. Post Office. FREDERICTON, N. B.

ROBT. WILBY, Medical Electrical Specialist and Masseuse. Assistant to the late Dr. Haggard, England. Treats all Nervous and Muscular Diseases, Weakness and Wasting, Rheumatism, Gout, etc. Eleven years' experience in England. Consultation free. 27 Coburg street. Phone 207-21

Butt & McCarthy,
MERCHANT TAILORS.
86 Germain Street,
Next Canadian Bank of Commerce, ST. JOHN, N. B.

HOTELS
The ROYAL
SAINT JOHN, N. B.
RAYMOND & DOHERTY, PROPRIETORS.

HOTEL DUFFERIN
ST. JOHN, N. B.
FOSTER, BOND & CO.,
JOHN H. BOND - - - Manager.

CLIFTON HOUSE
M. E. GREEN, MANAGER.
Cor. Germain and Princess Streets
St. John, N. B.
Better Now Than Ever.
VICTORIA HOTEL
87 KING STREET, ST. JOHN, N. B.
St. John Hotel Co. Ltd. Prop.
J. H. McInerney, Mgr.
This Hotel is under new management and has been thoroughly renovated and newly furnished with Baths, Carpets, Linen, Silver, etc. American Plan.