

BASKETBALL

by Andrew Wilbur

Saturday, Sept. 25 promises to be a busy day for basketball on the UNB campus. Varsity coaches Pauline Lordon and Clint Hamilton have organized an intramural tournament to be held in the Lady Beaverbrook Gyms this weekend.

The focus of the 3-on-3 Classic is to get the students involved and increase awareness of the basketball program here on campus and to give a preview of what we can expect from this year's varsity teams. According to Women's coach Pauline Lordon, both teams have a good nucleus of veteran players returning. Some of the names to watch for from the women's team are Laura Swift, Bonnie Hail, and Jackie Fleager.

Only one varsity player is allowed on each team, which should consist of four players including a substitute, and at least one female must be on the court at all times.

The scheduling for the tournament will be handled by Intramurals and some of the players and would not be completed until the end of registration on Wednesday. The plan, however, is to have the standard round robin with signal elimination playoffs so that playing time should be dispersed as evenly as possible. The rules for the tournament have been designed to keep the competition even as well; "The games will only be 12 minutes or to 11 points, so the (varsity player) won't be on the floor all the time, it should spread things out," says Pauline Lordon.

The registration fee of fifteen dollars per person may seem steep, but each player will receive a T-shirt, play a minimum of 3 games and have a chance to win prizes. Unless you hit the Biway specials, most T-shirts run close to $15 anyway. The coaches are not expecting to make much money from the tournament, but whatever money is left over will go to support the Varsity Reds.

If you enjoy good basketball and want to get a preview of what to expect from our varsity players, the Lady Beaverbrook is the place to be on Saturday. The tournament is running from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.. Good luck to all the participants.
